(4) Dr. Mark Hollingsworth investigated the components of a military nerve gas in Medicine Hat (Alberta, Canada) victims. Two men were hospitalized in a nerve gas accident, it was revealed, two years after the fact! (Looks like Canada is getting like the U.S.A. with coverups, eh what?) From The Edmonton Journal, Fri. June 24, 1988, sent to us by Cousin Clare Hollingsworth of Edmonton. He further notes that Dr. Mark Hollingsworth is Chemistry Professor at the University of Edmonton, but relationship, if any, not known.
