MEANING OF THE NAME

The surname Hollingsworth is derived from a place in northeast Cheshire, of the same name, supposedly the place called "Holisurde" in the Domesday Book for Cheshire, and pronounced "Hollis-worth," but probably intended to be "Hollinworth." It is in the Parish of Mottrem-in-Longdendale, a few miles south of Manchester. It is possible that several separate families using this place as a surname came into existence at an early day. There are also two other places with this name in Lancashire north of Manchester. The Cheshire place was barren, and called waste at the time of Domesday (1086) and it was not until about the time of Magna Carta (1215) that we find any person using the name as a personal family name. This was "Tomas De Holinewurth" (here the name is transliterated into Latin) who was a signatory on a charter of about that period. The two Anglo-Saxon words, Holegn (or Holyn), a Holly bush, and Worp (or Worde) meaning an enclosure, or farmstead, are said to be the origin of the name for this place now called Hollingsworth in Cheshire, or, "A farm (homestead) enclosed by holly bushes," or simply "Holly Farm." In later centuries a medial "s" came to be used by some of the families, but not as a general rule earlier than 1620. There are now five generally used forms: Hollingsworth, Hollinsworth, Hollingworth, Hollinworth and Hollandsworth. These are regularly found in the indexes to vital records from 1837 at St. Catherine's House, London and in most telephone or city directories for large cities in England and America.

INTENT OF THIS QUARTERLY

Hollingsworth Register is now entering its eleventh year of publication. It started in April, 1965, and its purpose remains as it was at that time: To publish verbatim copies or abstracts of records of the family world wide from the earliest times to the present day. Nearly every name of our family from the U.S. Census, 1790 through 1860, has been published here. About 1,700,000 pages of census were scoured to produce that result. We think no other family has thus been served.

HOLLINGSWORTH FAMILY OF SCHUYLER COUNTY, ILLINOIS

The man responsible for the family in question is Abraham Hollingsworth, son of Samuel and Elizabeth (see comment on this point further on) Hollingsworth. He was born "in Maryland about 1767," according to testimony of his son Gabriel, and died between the 6th and the 11th of December, 1837, near Rushville, Schuyler County, Illinois, aged seventy. According to Mrs. Ethel Aycock of Los Angeles, a descendant, Abraham is buried in the Mercer or Messer Cemetery there, but the headstone, once there, is gone.

The name of Abraham's wife isn't known. She was dead before he wrote his will in December 1837. She was probably dead before the year 1820, judging by our examinations of the census, both the federal and the Illinois state schedules. He made no deeds during his stay in Buncombe County, North Carolina, and the records of Jackson County, Tennessee are lost, where we might have learned her name. She seems to have been some younger than her husband, being born between 1774-1784, according to the 1800 census. (See further.) Because her son Gabriel B. Hollingsworth, was born about 1814 in Tennessee, (HR Vol. 2 p. 11) we conclude that Mrs. Hollingsworth died between 1814-1820, in Jackson County, Tennessee, her age then being between 40 - 46 years, if she was born in 1774. No records in Jackson Co., Tenn., have been checked, those not destroyed in the courthouse fire.

We have about convinced ourselves that Abe Hollingsworth is not a descendant of Valentine Hollingsworth the American Quaker, although for years this writer was convinced he was and, unfortunately, through the pages of this periodical, we convinced or tried to convince his living descendants too! But this magazine's policy is to correct and correct and correct, if necessary, the mistaken lineages of our own invention or of others, in the interest of the real truth. The "plate of crow" and the knives and forks are always near at hand when we need them. Instead, much to our surprise, we found (though still not proved) that he is from George Hollingsworth of Baltimore County, Maryland. See our article about Samuel Hollingsworth of Haywood Co., North Carolina, in this issue, for greater detail. But here is a brief conjectured lineage:

1. George Hollingsworth - died 1703, Patapsco, Baltimore Co. Md.
2. John Hollingsworth, supp. married Mary Deaver, 1741.
3. Samuel Hollingsworth, came to Burke county, North Carolina, before 1790; died Haywood County, N.C. 1810.
4. Abraham Hollingsworth, b. 1767, Maryland; died 1837, Ills.

Not one of the above connections can be legally proved. Remember this.

Before giving brief accounts of his children, let's chart Abe's path through history prior to his advent in Lincoln's country. His birthplace in Maryland could be anywhere, but we think either Harford or Baltimore County. Harford actually wasn't in existence until 1773, but he could likely have been born in the portion of Baltimore taken for that county when he was five years old. Nothing can be traced of the whereabouts of the family between that time and the time of its arrival - perhaps as early as 1779 - in Burke County, North Carolina. The first appearance of Abraham's name is in Buncombe County, in the Minutes of the court and in the recorded deeds - April Sessions, 1792. He proved the deed which he witnessed for Davidson and Dunsmore. (HR Vol. 4 page 15 No. 1. See also page 145 this issue.) There is reason to think his father remained in Burke County a time before coming to Buncombe, although as you know, Buncombe itself was cut off from a part of Burke in 1791. Nevertheless, the names of Samuel, Abraham and John Hollingsworth appear on the Burke tax list of 1797, Samuel's on that for 1793. Abe was Constable of Burke in 1795.

At April Sessions, County Court, 1799, Abraham served on the jury along with William Dever, Senior, whom we think was his cousin. This was on a trial; it indicates that his name came up at the January Session, since jury calls usually were made at the previous session. He was an acknowledged resident of the county by that time. He appears on the 1800 Federal Census of Buncombe, page 173 (HR Vol. 1, page 64, item 1.) with two males and a female under ten, himself a male 26-45, and a female 16-26, whom we assume to be his wife. This puts his marriage before 1793, if he had three children born before 1800, giving a two year space between each of them. His name doesn't appear in the 1790 schedule. On page 172 of the 1800 census is the schedule of Samuel Hollingsworth, and his supposed brother, John. (Ibid, items 9 and 11.)

With Samuel, Abraham Hollingsworth was sued at the Court of July, 1802. In the July, 1803 session, Samuel sued Abraham for a debt of Forty pounds. (See page 146.) This is the last appearance of Abe's name in the records. To have his own father sue for a sum of money may indicate a great rift which never was repaired. Samuel does not mention him in his will, but speaks of "the Rest of my Children" with whom he had already settled. (HR Vol. 2 p. 148.) We are to assume, therefore, that Abraham removed from Buncombe County shortly after July, 1803. His son, Abraham Jr., was born about 1808, in Tennessee. (HR Vol. 2 p. 11.) Presuming it to be Jackson County, whose schedules of census for 1810 are lost, we may say Abe settled there before 1808 and remained there until after 1820.

The 1820 schedule is extant. (HR Vol. 1 p. 18, Tenn. item 1.) Abraham is on page eight, with 2 males under 10, 1 male 10-16, 1 male 16-18 and 2 16-26. (The 16-18 lad is, or should be, the same as one of the two 16-26, because this category was an overlapping one, not usually totalled, except by dull-witted census takers.) One male over 45 is Abe himself. Also listed are 2 females 10-16, and 1 16-26. His son Gabriel B. Hollingsworth, in his testimony in the "Combined History of Schuyler & Brown Counties, Illinois," 1885, page 281, says Abraham had six sons and three daughters. The eldest, Samuel, born 1797, is listed as a separate householder in this schedule. Counting him as one, and adding the other figures given above, we get a total of 8 besides Abraham, or, 5 sons still with Abe, Sam, the sixth, and three daughters. The whole family, therefore, seems to be together, except Mother. All nine children are named in his Last Will and Testament. It is well to publish this fine old document in full, especially because Abraham Hollingsworth was probably the first of his name to permanently settle in Illinois.

This copy is from a photostat of the original will, filed at the office of the Schuyler County Clerk's office, Rushville. Because of this, we cannot furnish the volume and page of the recorded will.

In the name of God Amen - I, ABRAHAM HOLLINGSWORTH, Sr. a citizen of the State of Illinois and county of Schuyler do ordain and declare this to be my last will and testament revoking all others.

Inventorv filed 14th Dec. 1837, A. Dunlap, P.J.P.

As a pioneer of considerable repute among his neighbours, Abraham Hollingsworth was a Justice of the Peace in Schuyler County, even as his father had been twice a constable in North Carolina, and Abraham's son Avnant, being Sheriff of Greene County, Missouri, and Avnant's son, Hollet Hollingsworth also a lawyer in California in Gold Rush times. But his advent in Illinois was not directly to Schuyler County. The 1825 State schedules for Montgomery County, West Fork township, list Abraham with 2 males over 21, 2 under, 5 females. Nearby are Abram Hollingsworth Jr. 1 male over 21 and 2 females, and in Hilton township, Alexander Hollingsworth, 1 male over 21 and 2 females. If Samuel was here, he possibly is one of the 2 males over 21 with Abraham, Sr. (The State census is in an incomplete, unpublished condition, at the State Archives, Springfield.)

Abraham Hollingsworth was called for duty as Grand Jurymen, at the court of Montgomery County, Sept. 5, 1825, and again June 5, 1826. Schuyler County had been organized in 1825; which shows that he wasn't simply shifted from one county to another by a legal change of boundary. (Courtesy Walter R. Sanders, Litchfield, Ills.)

He purchased Cash certificate 5036 at Springfield Land Office, for the East half of the Southwest quarter, section 6, Township 2, north, Range 1 West of the Fourth Principal Meridian. Son Samuel obtained No. 4779, Quincy Office, for the West half of the S.W. Quarter, Section 6, same township and range, in the late 1820 period. (Xerox electrostatic copies of both files, National Archives, may be obtained for $2.40 which means there are twelve papers. We haven't seen them, but the best one could expect is the actual signatures.)

The branch of the river on which he settled in Schuyler County became known as Hollingsworth's Branch, and was called that in 1885.

There is some evidence to say that Samuel Hollingsworth stopped first down in Hamilton County, before joining his father. Notice that he was married there, June 27, 1825, to Zilpha Mauldin. We are told the (unproved, but unresearched) story that these Mauldins were related to the same family as that of President John Tyler. But we are told another story which has come near to proof as we can get, about Sam's friendship with Abraham Lincoln and their riding out together as Captains of their own companies, during the Black Hawk War.

This last statement is virtually exact. The Illinois Military records show that Capt. Abraham Lincoln's company of the 4th Regt., Mounted Volunteers, was enrolled on April 21, 1832, and mustered out of the service on May 27th, 1832, at the mouth of Fox River. The company of Capt. Moses G. Wilson, enrolled April 23, mustered out at the mouth of Fox River, May 28, 1832, indicates that Wilson was elected Major April 30th, and that Sergeant Samuel Hollingsworth was elected Captain same day. In the same company list are: Alexander Hollingsworth, First Lt., Avnant Hollingsworth, corporal, and Abraham and John Hollingsworth, and Jonathan Rano, privates. Alexander lost a horse May 22nd. Avnant resigned April 30th. (Combined History of Schuyler & Brown Counties, Ills. 1882 page 160.) There is, then, the true foundation for the family story which allows for none of the usual immediate skepticism surrounding some of such traditions.

An anecdote about the Hollingsworth-Lincoln friendship, supplied by Mrs. Ethel Avcock of Los Angeles in her letter of April 5, 1965. It seems Samuel Hollingsworth went over to Springfield one day to see Abe Lincoln, riding horseback. Lincoln, seeing Samuel's horse, which must have been a fine one, said "I have a horse I will trade you for that one of yours." But Honest Abe stipulated that it was a sight-unseen deal, to which Samuel Hollingsworth replied "All right." So the lanky railsplitter took Sam over to show him his new trade, which turned out to be a wooden carpenter's horse! Of course, says Mrs. A., it was all a joke. She also said this story is related in a history book once possessed by one of her mother's relations in Astoria, Ills. (This writer hasn't happened upon it.) Both Abe Hollingsworth, Sam's father, and Mr. Lincoln, signed their autographs by the initial letter "A" and it has come to our attention that Lincoln might have known Abraham and might have looked up to him enough to copy the familiar signature.

You already have read of the tragic death by stabbing, of Avananant Hollingsworth, by a drunken fool, outside of Springfield, Missouri. (HR Vol. 2 page 16.) He was, before this happening, Marshal of that city.

In our series on Military records (Vol. 3, pp. 157, 159) you will see the applications for bounty land made by several of these men. The uniformly stated ages indicate that an accurate family record was used in providing this information. We don't know where it is.

Nothing remains of major import, except to give a list of the names of the children of Abraham Hollingsworth, Senior.

- 1.) SAMUEL HOLLINGSWORTH, born c1797-8, (Buncombe County?) North Carolina; died about 1879, near Beardstown, Ills. aged eighty-one. Married (1) Wife's name unknown - she died before 1825. - 2.) AVANANT HOLLINGSWORTH, born c1799-1800, Buncombe Co., N.C. Died by stabbing, Apr. 24, 1870, Springfield, Missouri, aged about 70. M. MARY RENO, parents unknown. Issue: HOLLETT (male), (1828) died California. M. Mary E. Cowan, 1864. Issue 2 daughters. (HR Vol. 4 p. 35, Descendants of Val. Hollingsworth Sr. p. 89.) HARBIN (male) died Civil War, born 1830, Ills. (Co. A 8th Mo. Cavalry. HR Vol. 2 p. 141.) AVANANT Jr. (1832) died Civil War (Co. B, 119 Regiment, Ills. Infantry) Sept. 13, 1864, Jefferson Barracks, Missouri; SARAH (1834); RUTH (1840); JAMES (1844) - died young; MARTHA (1846) married in 1864. Family moved to Greene County, Mo. before 1840; moved to Browning, Schuyler Co., Ills. in 1861, and back to Missouri in October, 1863. Mary cooked for prisoners in the Springfield jail. After her husband's death and those of her two sons she was destitute. She died shortly after Sept., 1886.

- 3.) SARAH HOLLINGSWORTH, probably born before 1800 in North Carolina; alive in December, 1837, locality not known. Married, (not in Schuyler County, Ills.) Mr. CAMERON.
- 4.) ALEXANDER HOLLINGSWORTH, born c1801, in Buncombe County, North Carolina; Died April 9, 1855, Browning, Schuyler County, Ills. age 54. Married, (2) Oct. 3, 1841, Schuyler County, DELIJAH HUFF. Issue: JOHN (1836), MARION (male) (1838), AMY A., (1841), ELIZABETH (1842), MARY (1844), ALEXANDER, Jr. (1848).
- 5.) JOHN HOLLINGSWORTH, born c1803, 'Ohio' (Census) or perhaps Buncombe Co., North Carolina; died 20 Nov., 1865, Iowa Point, Kansas, aged about 63. Married, Sept. 8, 1833, PARTHENA MOORE. Issue: MARGARET J. (1834), JOSEPH (1839), CAROLINE (1842), SARAH (1845). This family moved to Henry County, Missouri before 1850, then to Lucas County, Iowa, by 1855, thence to Kansas. His widow was living in Daviess County, Missouri in 1892.
- 6.) NANCY HOLLINGSWORTH, born between 1804-1812, possibly in Tenn. M. 20 April, 1829, Schuyler Co., Ills. DANIEL HAYNES. No data. She was alive in Dec., 1837.
- 7.) ELIZABETH 'BETSEY' HOLLINGSWORTH - same information as to birth. Perhaps died before 1850. Married, April 18, 1830, Schuyler County, JOSEPH RENO. No information, except following doubtful: In 1850, Browning township, Schuyler County, Census page 425A, Joseph Reno, aged 42, born in Tennessee, with wife SARAH, 35, also Tenn. and children ELIVE H. 19, ALEXANDER, 16, HARRIET, 15, MARY 13, SUSANNAH, 11, ELIZABETH 9, EVALINE 6, JOSEPH 4, CHARLES 1, all born in Illinois. Name "Sarah" could be mistake, or she could be second wife of this Joseph Reno. The oldest children prove born just after 1830, names Alexander, Mary and Elizabeth being those of the Hollingsworths - Browning township being right area. If Sarah of Census is Betsey Hollingsworth, her birth was in Tennessee about 1814 and she was 16 when married in 1830. Betsey was alive in 1837.
- 8.) ABRAHAM HOLLINGSWORTH, Jr., born c1809, (Jackson County?) Tenn.; Died after 1855, possibly Henry County, Iowa. Married, August 3, 1834, Schuyler County, Ills. SARAH MAULDIN. Issue: MARION (male) (1836), IRENE (born 1839 in Iowa), LOUISA, (born 1845 in Ills.), WILLIAM G. (December, 1849). Soldier of Black Hawk War, like his brothers. Lived Fulton County, Ills., in 1850; went to Henry Co., Iowa, before 1855. Both were dead by 1901, but had three living children at that time, and one deceased. (H.R. Vol. 3 p. 158.)
- 9.) GABRIEL B. HOLLINGSWORTH, b. c1814, (Jackson County?) Tennessee; Alive in 1882, near Rushville, Illinois, aged "71" years. (Conflict here in history with census of 1850.) Married (1) May 18, 1837, ELIZABETH HUFF, Schuyler County; (2) MARY BAKER, June 21, 1856, ditto. Issue (by wife 1): CAROLINE (1838), JOHN (1842), EVALINE (1845), ABRAHAM (1846), born Fulton County, Ills. married Amanda Lancaster. NANCY (1848), WILBORN (male) (1849). Gabriel was the last surviving member of the above nine children, "all of whom," said he, "had families, and lived to a good old age."

JOSEPH HOLLINGWORTH OF GAGE COUNTY, NEBRASKA

In the town of Melbourne, Derbyshire, England, among the cotton and silk manufacturers, was one JAMES HOLLINGWORTH, who, having followed this branch of industry from his youth, had become a more than ordinary skilled worker. This gentleman in the year 1849 decided to leave his native country and make his home in the New World, in order that his children might have a larger opportunity for advancement in life. He was accompanied by his wife, ELIZABETH (HEMSLEY) HOLLINGWORTH, and four children. Their family included twelve children, whose names are as follows: FRANCES, MYRA, FRANCIS, CHARLOTTE, JAMES, THOMAS, HENRY, ELIZABETH (deceased), ROBERT, LIZZIE (deceased), LIZZIE and JOSEPH.

Our subject was born in the old English home on the 2d of November, 1836, and was twelve years of age when his parents came to this country, but having been a bright youth and of mercurial temperament, he had sometimes worked in the factories when not at school, and was a general favorite there. His father settled in Racine County, Wis., where he took up land and commenced farming. In these newer engagements he was assisted by his sons, among them our subject. After eight years a removal was made to Stevens Point, in the same State, and they settled in the midst of the pine woods and began clearing a farm, which at the same time provided material for a start in the lumber trade. In 1861 they came west to Nebraska City, performing the journey by wagon and team. The season was remarkably dry, so much so that every river was forded with ease, with the exception of the two great rivers, the Missouri and the Mississippi, which of course were both too wide and deep to admit the thought of the experiment of such primitive and easy crossing; they had to depend upon the help of the ferryman for progress in these instances. The family pushed straight on to Blue Springs, of this county, where a farm was rented and held for two seasons.

While residing in Blue Springs our subject was attracted to Miss WEALTHY JANE TINKHAM, and they were made husband and wife July 13, 1862.

This most estimable lady was born upon the 26th of October 1841, in Morrow County, Ohio, and was the second child of nine born to the Rev. A.L. and Sarah (Wilson) Tinkham. She was fifteen years of age when her parents removed to Benton County, Iowa, which was her home until about her nineteenth birthday, at which time she came to Nebraska, where she met our subject, and was married two years later. They have become the parents of eight children, whose names are here appended: ARTHUR J., THOMAS H., ALMA E., ARVILLA, GEORGE, ALBERT, and ARCHIE and AIMEE, twins.

The father of Mrs. Hollingworth was born in Vermont and her mother in Ohio. Upon the paternal side the family is of English extraction. After their marriage they settled in Ohio, and subsequent to the sojourn in Iowa, above referred to, removed to this county in 1860 and took up a homestead claim. Their family includes nine children, who severally bear the names subjoined: GILBERT, WEALTHY JANE, MARGERY C., ELIAS W., JAMES LEROY, THOMAS L., ALICE, EDDIE D., and BERTIE. Mr. Tinkham, who is seventy-two years of age, is in the enjoyment of every faculty and good health, and is in his retired life reaping the pleasurable result of earlier years of toil. His wife is also living at an advanced age. Upon the marriage of our subject his father and mother, then somewhat advanced in years, at the invitation of their son took up their residence with him in his new home, and there remained until their death. Mr. HOLLINGWORTH, Sr., departed this life in the year 1864, aged seventy-three years. His wife survived until the year 1883, having reached the advanced age of ninety-two years.

Our subject and his wife continued on their homestead from the time of their marriage until 1882. He had purchased a section of land the fall of the previous year in Nuckolls County, Nebraska, and removed as above, continuing there until the summer of 1887, when a return was made to the old home in this county, where they reside at present. In addition to the operation of the farm, our subject has, since the year 1887, been engaged in the general stone trade. His stone quarry is situated in Rockford Township, on the Burlington & Missouri River Railroad, three and one-half miles from Beatrice, and was among the first stone quarries opened in the State, and is now one of the largest and most extensively used, business in this department having increased with unusual rapidity.

Besides the 240 acres of land in Rockford Township our subject is the owner of 520 acres in Nuckolls County, well improved and cultivated. The home farm (Rockford Point) has received a large share of attention, and is provided with a good set of the usual farm buildings, and has also a beautiful orchard of over 100 choice trees, and in the neighborhood of the house is plentifully supplied with very fine groves of cottonwood, locust and other trees. There are also trees set out for a full half-mile along the northern boundary of the farm, at once an added beauty and utility.

THOMAS H., the son of our subject, has charge of the Nuckolls County Farm; ARTHUR J. is married to MISS. JENNIE CHENAULT, and is the manager of the quarry. The political sentiments of our subject are in harmony with those of the Republican party, with which he has for many years voted and worked, and has long been considered a tried friend and supporter. He has watched with pride and absorbing interest the development of Nebraska, and was one to push forward the work of its administration as a State. His name will be found upon the list of those who voted for the adoption of the Constitution of the State in 1866. He has always taken an active interest in the educational advancement of his district and County, and has served nine years as School Director. Both Mr. and Mrs. HOLLINGWORTH are highly valued members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of Holmesville, of which they are most consistent and devout members. The wife of our subject is identified with the institution at Holmesville. Nothing is too small to be worthy of her labor and effort, nor too large for her endeavor, so long as it be for the benefit and advancement of the work. Both are highly esteemed and their value appreciated. They are always found ready to aid in every good work or project, if it be but shown that such enterprise is worthy.

1807 GEORGIA LAND LOTTERY

Two of our faithful subscribers made it possible for us to obtain the 20 pages of the typed index to this series, letter "H" only, from which we now, for their benefit, publish the Hollingsworths listed. It is disappointingly less useful than the 1805 index, owing to the fact that here, only the "fortunate drawers" i.e. only those who drew land, are listed, whereas in the 1805, the losers, too, were listed. The fortunate drawers would draw lots in either "B"aldwin or "W"ilkinson Counties. We give the District and Land Lot Numbers within each county and the county designated by initial letter. See HR Vol.2, p. 18 for explanation of qualifications for drawers.

Fortunate Drawers	County of Residence	District	Lot	County
1. Hollingsworth, Jacob,	Thompson's Dst.	Burke	8 341	W
2. " ,	James, H'worth's Dst.	Franklin	9 7	B
3. " ,	Stephen, 57th Dist.	Montgomery	21 187	W
4. " ,	William, Robinson's Dst.	Clarke	16 62	B

That's all! The letter "H" in this Index at Atlanta Surveyor-General covers pages 88 - 107, having about 1,063 names under this letter and cost Five Dollars in Xerox.

Samuel Hollingsworth of Haywood County, North Carolina
(Additional Information)

By Henry Hollingsworth

Two years ago, in our December, 1966 issue of HOLLINGSWORTH REGISTER (page 147), I published my speculations about the ancestors of Samuel Hollingsworth, based upon then known information. The finding of another Samuel, who later, no question about it, went to Franklin County, Georgia, (HR Vol. 4 page 27) changed my ideas. This meant that, instead of the two Samuels found in the 1790 Census of Burke County, N.C., upon which I based my first theory, there were, in reality (not shown in the census) three. One, we believe, though the census doesn't make it exactly clear, was Samuel, the son of Jacob Hollingsworth, who with his father removed about 1794 to Georgia. The other one in the census would be the Samuel under consideration here. The other - the one we nickname "Mystery Sam" would be that Jacob's brother. There is a possibility that Mystery Sam went to Franklin County, Georgia prior to 1790. There is, in the D.A.R. extracts, a note of one "Samuel Hollingsworth" as jury foreman, in the court that year. I have been deprived of a look at the original record, not knowing exactly what book it appears in. (This might be "Killingsworth.")

In our opening article this issue, I touched on the lineage I now believe to be correct for our subject. In other words, Samuel Hollingsworth of Haywood County, North Carolina, is not, I think, a descendant of Valentine Hollingsworth. George Hollingsworth, transported to Maryland in 1676 (See Index of Maryland Immigrants by Skourdas), and who settled at Patapsco, now Baltimore, is the more likely progenitor. (He antedated Valentine's arrival by six years.) His family nearly matched that of Valentine. I think George's son, John, a minor when George passed from the scene in 1703, was the father of our subject. But please remember I cannot give you legal proof at this time. But then, many lineages never achieve such perfection, and I, for one, "being aware of the uncertainty of life" prefer to let you know what I know while I can do so.

As you will see, William Dever was the witness to the will of our Samuel. I published (HR Vol. 1, p. 133) a will in the first collection of Maryland Hollingsworth records, which had always intrigued me. I will produce it here again, as I have it from typed extract by Annie Walker Burns:

Will Book 27, Maryland Will Books, page 96. Will of MARY DEEVER, Baltimore County, widow. Dated 29 July, proved 2 Nov., 1749.
Bequests: "To my kinswoman, MARY HOLLANDSWORTH, (clothing).
Son JOHN DEVER, Ferry boat furniture. Son DANIEL DEEVER, a gold ring. Granddaughter MARY, daughter of son RICHARD DEVER, furniture. Sister PHEBE. ..." Witnesses THOMAS TREDWAY, ELIZABETH TREDWAY, MARY CUNNINGHAM & ANN GERROTT...

The following two records are in the records of St. John's Episcopal Church, Baltimore (now Harford) County:

John Hollingsworth & Mary Deaver, married in the month of August, A.D. 1741.

Enoch Hollingsworth, son of John & Mary, born 9 June, 1742.

(Pages 321, 331, manuscript copy, Maryland Historical Society, Baltimore.) The Vestry Minute Book, page 214, this spicy item of gossip:

Whitsun Monday, 1721 ... SARAH DEVER and JOHN HOLLINSWORTH acknowledged their fault of being the chief instruments of forging the banns of Marriage published betwixt Henry Williams and Susannah Terrens by the name of Susannah Norris.

Now, please, consider the following entries found in the register:

"ELIZABETH DEAVER, Daughter of JOHN DEAVER and HANNAH his Wife was Born August the first 1703."

"SAMUEL DEAVER (son of ditto) was Born August the Twentieth 1705."

"MARY DEAVER ve (Daughter of ditto) was Born March the 29th 1708."

"HANNAH DEAVER (ditto) was Born July 2, 1710."

"THOMAS DEAVER (son of ditto) Born January 16, 1713/14."

The Last Will of JOHN DEAVER, of Baltimore (Md. Will Bk. 20, folio 350) was dated 3 Jan. 1731-32; proved 8 Mar. 1731-32, names children RICHARD, SAMUEL, ELIZABETH PRESTON, MARY DEAVER, JOHN, AN-TILL DEAVER, wife HANNAH, Executrix. Witnesses John Wagstaff, Ann Treadway and Thomas Brazer. You will see the Treadways appearing again.

The Deaver, Treadway, Cunningham and Hollingsworth families all turn up in later years in the area of Burke, Buncombe and Haywood Counties in North Carolina. I can't prove that Mary Deaver, born in 1708 (above) was the same who married John Hollingsworth in 1741. But she is the only one I can find, and, if this is so, you can see the ready precedent of the Deaver name "Samuel" in her brother, for her to name her son Samuel Hollingsworth.

The fact too, impresses me, that our subject had a son Enoch Hollingsworth (killed in the War of 1812), while John and Mary (Deaver) Hollingsworth named their oldest child Enoch! Sam's son Enoch married Margaret Cunningham in Haywood County, N.C.

Also from the Church records at Baltimore:

William Deaver married Susannah Birchfield Dec. 16, 1754.

John Deaver, their son, born Apr. 11, 1755

Mary Deaver, their daughter, born Feb. 3, 1757

*Nathan Deaver, their son, born Oct. 11, 1760

*William Deaver, their son, born Sept. 9, 1762

I marked (*) Nathan and William thus because I am certain both served in the Revolution and were both in Buncombe County involved with the Hollingsworths under consideration. (John Hollingsworth, believed to be Sam's son, witnessed a Nathan Deaver deed in Buncombe County, July 29, 1803.)

The soldier, William Deaver, (File S. 6,791, Archives) on 19 October, 1832, a resident of Buncombe County, aged seventy years (hence, born 1762) stated he was mustered into service from his residence in Amherst County, Virginia, in October, 1780; served two different terms, and was finally mustered out after end of war, and was present at the surrender of Lord Cornwallis to the rebels, at Yorktown. He then states he was born on the Susquehannah River in Maryland, in 1763 (note) and has a record handed down by his parents. Robert Love, of Haywood County, testified he knew Deaver since 1793. This then, is the Wm. Deaver who witnessed and later proved, Samuel Hollingsworth's will. Susquehannah River is boundary of Harford Co., Maryland, where the above family lived. HOWEVER! By the worst coincidence imaginable, another William Deaver, born about 1761, in Harford County, Md., also was a Revolutionary soldier and pensioner! (Woe is me - How do these things happen?) This file is S. 12,754. This soldier went to Mason County, Kentucky, via Ohio. He served in a Maryland company, however. I incline to accept the Buncombe man as the one born Sept. 9, 1762 on two grounds: (1) Nathan Deaver was near this man, not in Ohio or Kentucky; (2) Old soldiers often miscalculated their ages and family records and church records often do not match. Still, both Wm. Deavers could be of the same stock, both therefore, related equally to our Sam Hollingsworth. So why am I stewing? I want you researchers to beware of such items before you quickly assume things which might be totally wrong, because it seems, they look right.

I have not, by the way, found where William Deaver, Sr., who married Susannah Birchfield (Burchfield) fits into the scheme! But the will of the widow Mary Deaver calls Mary (Deaver) Hollingsworth "my kinswoman" which can mean cousin, or sister-in-law, or any connexion, but she was no stranger, that is sure.

As for what became of John Hollingsworth who married Mary Deaver in 1741, there is an Inventory (Intestate) of the goods of one John Hollingsworth, "late of Baltimore County, deceased" in Baltimore Inventory book 3, page 181, bearing date 20 Nov., 1758. Appraisers: Aquilla Johns and Garret Garretson. On page 183, an additional inventory, 25 Nov. 1758. But a note by the Administrator says "The Deceased has no relations in this province as the Admr. knows of..." which could scotch our case, or at least, eliminate this John. The fact that Abraham, son of Haywood Samuel Hollingsworth, was born in Maryland in 1767 seems to require Samuel's presence there at that time, though not necessarily in 1758 when his father? John died.

Deeds in 1771-1772 in Amherst County, Virginia show William Dever (sic) or Deaver and wife Susanna buying and selling land. This is probably Susanna Birchfield as above, thus establishing the fact that the soldier (S 6,791) of Buncombe County is the same born of them. In 1783 William Deavour (10 whites) and William Hollandsworth (3 whites) appear near each other in Amherst. (Coincidence?)

Samuel Hollingsworth may have arrived in Burke County, N.C. he fore the end of the war. A Legislative Petition by the inhabitants of Burke, dated Oct. 19, 1779, asking that their portion of the county be annexed to Lincoln County (to bring a courthouse conveniently near) is signed by many, including "SAMUEL HOLLANDSWORTH" - the copy we have shows the original (Legislative Papers 27, Archives, Raleigh) in very bad condition, and the exact spelling "Hollandsworth" or "Hollingsworth" isn't clear, although I think, "...ands... is right. The "other" or "Mystery" Sam was, in 1779, in Randolph County, and in 1788 seems to have been still in that area, and signed his name "...ings..." on a Quaker marriage, whereas, these Baltimore families seem inclined toward the Hollandsworth variation.

Samuel Hollingsworth (which one?) appears on the 1793 Tax List of Burke County. But this list is damaged and incomplete. He seems to be assessed for 2 white polls and 150 acres "Eastern Lands." (There is a torn hole just by these figures.) Oddly enough, in the 1797 Tax List, which is rather in better condition, the names of Abraham, (1 poll, no land), John (ditto), and Samuel "Holingsworth" (226 acres, no polls) all appear together on one page.* Samuel might, at that time, have gone to Buncombe County, but retained his lands in Burke, leaving his sons to keep the farm. The records of Buncombe indicate this possibility. (See our opening article.) With these facts laid before you I will close this article in the hope of finding - or having found for me by a kind reader - the full story soon.

CANE CREEK ADDENDA

An additional, small, but very important tidbit to the Cane Creek Monthly Meeting Hollingsworth entries, published in HR Vol. 1, page 126. This old Quaker Meeting was founded by a minute dated 10th Mo. or December, 7th day, 1751. We published the few Hollingsworth entries in the minutes at that time. Recently we covered the oldest book of marriages. Pages 171-179 are missing. No Hollingsworths were married here, but we carefully examined the lists of witnesses who signed each recorded certificate. Unfortunately, until about 1785, the clerk did not copy the entire lists from the originals. The following is the only mention of our surname:

Of course the actual signature isn't here, it being a recording. This Samuel probably is the man who later went to Franklin County, Georgia, brother of Jacob Hollingsworth. (HR Vol. 2, page 103 et seq.)

ABSTRACTS OF DEEDS OF BUNCOMBE COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA

M Y S T E R Y !

JAMES HOLLINSWORTH was listed, in Rowan County, North Carolina, as a "Non Juror," who refused to take the oath of allegiance to the rebel government in 1778. He was in Capt. Eakles' District. He might have been a Quaker. This appears in the Minutes of Rowan County Court. WHO WAS HE???

Alexander Hollingsworth's Bible Record

In October, 1966, we were kindly given the privilege of seeing the original bible of the late Alexander Montgomery Hollingsworth, a resident of Transylvania County, North Carolina (formerly Henderson) at the time of his death. His grandson, Arthur Hollingsworth of the state of Washington now owns it, and brought it with him on a visit to his son William Hollingsworth, of West Los Angeles, so that the editor could copy the entries in it. William Hollingsworth, by the way, is known as "Bill Holly," who was the original "Captain Jet" on television here in L.A. and now recently has hosted the "Popeye" Cartoons. *** William L. Hollingsworth was the "Old Bill" who recently died at the ripe age of 98 on Oct. 19, 1966. See HR Vol. 2, pp 55, 158.

"There was a Tom Hollingsworth - nephew of William Lonzo - who was older than his uncle."

"Alexander Montgomery Hollingsworth had an uncle Joseph Hollingsworth, and so did William L. Hollingsworth."

"Two brothers named Hollingsworth came from England to help run the colonies before the American Revolution."

"Alexander M. Hollingsworth had a farm on Turkey Creek in North Carolina. Eventually, Vanderbilt bought this land and built the Vanderbilt Mansion, now a national park. Bill Hollingsworth worked as a ranger there. Bill (Wm. Lonzo) Hollingsworth was the youngest of 13 children; one of the oldest of this family went west and was never heard of afterward."

This is a very large Family Bible, which was restored by Mr. Arthur L. Hollingsworth, and the outside cover bears the name, in gold leaf letters, of Alexander Montgomery Hollingsworth. The Title is "The Holy Bible, Containing the Old & New Testaments" (etc.) published in 1840 in New York by Thomas Mason & George Lane. The entries are in different handwritings and inks, but we were unable to make a really careful examination of this factor in the brief time we had.

It is believed that Alexander M. Hollingsworth was a son of Joseph and Sarah (Rush) Hollingsworth of Henderson County, N.C. who came from Union District, South Carolina. Joseph was a veteran of the 1812 War with Great Britain. The census of 1850 shows Alexander and Joseph Hollingsworth, with their respective families, in HR, Volume 4, pages 31 and 32. This portion of Henderson County later became Transylvania County before Lonzo was born in 1868. See pp. 24-26.

JAMES HOLLINGSWORTH (here's that fellow again) signed a petition along with many other inhabitants of ROWAN COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA, dated August, 1778, according to the Journal of North Carolina General Assembly, p. 1681, Summer issue, 1966. This item in the Legislative Papers H.C. 13, Raleigh Archives. On page 146 above, we make another note about him. We still don't know who he was.

THE CHANDLERS

This is a sketch we have planned to publish for a number of years. The Chandlers were intermarried several times with the Hollingsworths of Valentine's lineage. That is because the Chandler family were of the Quaker faith too. Though this must be brief, it will delve back behind the arrival in America - always an interest to the real genealogical historian, as opposite the stuffy individual who considers any such research "beyond the water's edge" as of little worth.

The book "Descendants of George & Jane Chandler" was published by the Chandler Reunion Committee in 1937. Percy M. Chandler, Esq., of Philadelphia, engaged Thomas Allen Glenn, genealogist, of Meliden, Prestatyn, North Wales, to carry out researches in the English shire of Wilts, on the Chandlers, calling that portion of this excellent book appropriately, "Chandler of Oare" (County of Wilts.) Herewith we sketch the lineage.

The Chandler family possibly originated at l'Aigle, in Normandy, before the reign of King Henry VI. of England who began to reign in 1422 in his infancy. Safe conducts were given for men of this name over to l'Aigle, Normandy, during the period. The meaning of the surname originally was le Chaundeler, adapted from the service rendered by the light-bearers - candle carriers, a court office. It does not, evidently, derive from the tradesman who made tallow candles!

An English pedigree chart, such as we often use herein, is used to illustrate the Chandler line. Several generations are given and connected by the broken line, meaning that proof is lacking and/or, generations are lacking. Nicholas le Chaundeler, 25 April in the 1st year of Edward the First of England (A.D. 1272) is the first name on this chart, followed by Richard le Chaundeler who died before the 9th year of the same king. Richard's son Richard then follows. The next one is Roger Chaundeler, in the 12th year of Edward III. (1339) represented by the broken line. His son Simon of Echelhampton, and his grandson John Chaundeler (2 Richard II. 1379) are next. John's son Robert Chaundeler de Devizes, (8th of Henry VI. 1422) complete another segment. John Chaundeler of the 5th year of Edward IV. (1466) is next, separated by broken lines from those before and after him.

The proved lineage begins at this point, from John Chaundeler de Oare, Wilcot, Wiltshire, 16 Hen. VIII. or A.D. 1524. This man appears on a Lay Subsidy Roll of that time, assessed at Ten Pounds, and his residence is given at Swanborough Hundred, parish of Willcotte. Another John is assessed in the 34-35th year of Henry VIII., and yet another John, listed below his father in the same roll, are said to be three generations. The third John's son Nicholas Chaundeler or Chandler, was born about 1540, and married in Wilcot church, 2 Feb., 1568-9 (by the way, 300 years to the day before our Frederick Hollingsworth died) Edyth Spratt. These people are identified best by the fact that they each, in their turn, succeeded to the lands of Oare. Nicholas & Edyth (Spratt) Chandler were the parents of Thomas Chandler de Oare, who died 1630, and married (1) Anne Downham (2) Martha. Thomas was born about 1570, son and heir of Nicholas. He was Churchwarden from 1619 through 1629. His son and heir was John Chandler of Oare, baptized at Wilcot, 23 Feb., 1602-3; died 1684 at the same place. This John is the father of George Chandler the American Quaker immigrant. John was one of the principal freeholders in Wilcot. He married (1) about 1626, Ann --- who was buried at Wilcot 8 April, 1633. He married (2) Winifred --- who was buried there 16 May, 1679. By the first wife John had sons John and George, and a daughter Ann. He mentions them in his will dated 1683. (Archdeaconry Court of Wilts, proved 17 Oct., 1684, 'now in Somerset House,' as of 1937, but these wills probably have been returned to the County Record Office in Wilts.) His sons John and George emigrated to Pennsylvania; John supposedly dying without issue; George becoming the progenitor of the line in question.

A bond dated 31 Mar., 1686, given by John Chandler and George Chandler (then of Great Hodge, Pewsey Parish, adjacent to Wilcot) binds them to repay a sum advanced for their voyage to America by one Robert Pyle, Stanton Bernard, England, to be collected by his sons Nicholas and Robert Pyle in Pennsylvania. George Chandler's brother John left a will dated 13th 11th month (Jan.) 1699/1700 and he then lived at Chichester township, Chester Co., Pennsylvania. He therein mentions the English home at "Worr" (Care) "in Old England" and his nephew George Chandler Jr., son of the progenitor.

George Chandler started on his voyage to Pennsylvania with his wife Jane, and their children, but he died at sea. To add to this tragedy, the family were reduced financially for some time after the arrival, and at times, it is said, dwelt in a cave!

George<sup>2</sup> Chandler Jr., son of George and Jane Chandler, was born in England 14 June, 1671 and came with his parents to America in 1687. He died in Chester County, Pennsylvania in 1715. His wife, whom he married in 1698, was RUTH BEZER, daughter of Edward Bezer, who came from (it is said) the parish called ROWD, also in Wiltshire, England, with a brother, John Bezer, from Bishops Cannings, same county. (Rowde registers begin in 1606, not published; Bishops Cannings in 1591, published.) George and Ruth (Bezer) Chandler had issue: George, born about 1700; Ruth, John, b. c1706, Isaac, and RACHEL, who married, 1st month (March) 1st day, 1729, JACOB HOLLINGSWORTH, the son of Thomas<sup>2</sup> and Grace (Cook) Hollingsworth (of Valentine.) This is one of the lines joined here.

Swithin<sup>2</sup> Chandler, third son of George & Jane, was born Sept. 6, 1674 and baptized in England and sailed to America with his family. He married Ann --- in 1704 and settled on Brandywine Creek, Christiana Hundred, (now New Castle County) on Delaware. Of his 12 children, Thomas<sup>3</sup>, born 10th Mo. (Oct.) 3, 1718, married (1) Elizabeth Gibson. They had one child ELIZABETH, born about 1744, who married, April 24, 1765, CHRISTOPHER<sup>4</sup> HOLLINGSWORTH, born 3 mo. 15, 1742, son of Thomas<sup>3</sup> and Judith (Lamprey) Hollingsworth, and grandson of Thomas<sup>2</sup> and Grace (Cook) Hollingsworth (of Valentine) as above. The marriage certificate of this Quaker couple is published in the Chandler book on page 299, among the signers are Thomas, Ann, Swithin, Ann, Thomas Jr., Hannah, Amos, and Dinah Chandler, and Isaac, Amos, Thomas, David, & Jane Hollingsworth. (These are the names found in the 'relatives' column to the right.) This was at Centre Meeting, part of Kennett Monthly Meeting, New Castle County, now Delaware, and Chester County, Pennsylvania. Marriages to be published here later.

Descendants of Valentine Hollingsworth may rejoice in tracing - of course, providing you also descend from either one of the two Chandler connections - your lineages back beyond the water, on into the remote Lancastrian times, when, in "Oulde Englonde", chivalry was real and red and white roses were not worn for mere beauty!

***** THE END *****

Actor Lee Marvin Joins the Clan

The tough, handsome, Academy Award winner, Lee Marvin, whom most Americans recognise, and who is equally well known to British and Canadian audiences, has Hollingsworth blood in his veins! This writer knew this fact several years. Research, still incomplete at this writing, had first to be begun, before a worthwhile article could be executed. More carefully detailed and documented pieces will be forthcoming - we hope, at the completion of the needed British research.

Lee Marvin is, of course, his correct name. He was born Feb. 19, 1924, in New York City, the son of Lamont W. and Courtenay D. Marvin. His father is deceased; in his lifetime being an advertising executive. His mother currently (1966) is a beauty expert and contributing editor of a national magazine for women. Lee's brother is Robert Marvin, a painter and teacher of art in New York. (See FILM FAME, (1966) p. 133.) Lee received the Academy Award ("Oscar") for his portrayal of an almost cartoon like character in the film "Cat Ballou," done in 1965. He is 6 feet 2½ inches in height, weighs 190 pounds, has prematurely grey hair, and green eyes. His facial features, lanky appearance, and general personality, shown in his acting roles as well as in several interviews we have witnessed, do not in any way deny his Hollingsworth heritage. In fact, he is much like some of the "Wexfords". The names of his Hollingsworth relations strengthen this likeness.

Lamont W. Marvin, Lee's father, was a son of Mr. Marvin, whose direct line reaches back to Matthew Marvin, an early settler in Connecticut. Lamont's mother was ELIZABETH HOLLINGSWORTH, (1871-1915) a daughter of THOMAS NICHOLAS & ANNE MARIE HOLLINGSWORTH. They came to the United States, to the Boston-Cambridge vicinity, before 1870. Thomas was a glassblower. He died April 19, 1911, probably in New York (state) and is buried in the family lot in Mount Pleasant, Millville, New Jersey. Here is a list of the burials: *

Ann M. Hollingsworth Aug. 10, 1845 - Jan. 6, 1904
Thomas N. Hollingsworth Jan. 27, 1847 - April 19, 1911
Thomas F. Wynn 1863-1916; Marv E. Wynn 1866-1943
Henry Waltman 1859-1920; Margaret Waltman 1874-1959
Elizabeth Marvin 1871-1915; Martha Schiedt 1878-1955
Joseph E. Hoffman M.D. 1943
Samuel W. Hollingsworth 1868-1943; Elizabeth A. 1866-1915

The last two were taken from the stones, as was the data for Mrs. Marvin, while the others were evidently taken from the cemetery card index. (*Courtesy Thomas J. Hollingsworth, Baltimore.)

Thomas N. Hollingsworth, by family tradition, was born in Manchester, Lancashire, England. His mother was an Irish girl. We found, ordering a search of Somerset House Birth Registrations based upon our information, the following birth:

21 Nov., 1847, at Gollands Court, Manchester, THOMAS NICHOLAS HOLLINGSWORTH, boy, son of JAMES HOLLINGSWORTH, labourer, same address and MARY HOLLINGSWORTH - formerly MURPHY - mother.

Despite the difference in dates, other facts seem to verify that these are the parents of the glassblower. It has, up until now, been impossible to continue the English part of the work. (Sure an' the O Murphies were thick as flies in the Old Sod!)

Thomas naturalized at the Circuit Court, Massachusetts District, Cambridge, Massachusetts, on Sept. 1, 1874. Our reply from that Court says he gave his date of arrival as "July 13, 1863" but we checked the New York lists (whither he said he disembarked) but did not find him, nor in the indexed Boston lists. Other evidence requires the year to be "1868" and we are attempting to re-check. His wife and son Samuel came into Boston on Nov. 7, 1869, aboard the "Malta," and you can see this in HR Vol. 1, page 121. (Arrival number 7.) The 5-year resident requirement seems to suggest that he did come in 1868, whereupon, by 1874, he was eligible to be a citizen. If he came in "1863" why did he not apply as early as 1868?

Based on the cemetery records and material from letters written to us by descendants, here are names of the children of Thomas N. & Anne Marie Hollingsworth:

1. Mary, b. 1866, England; died 1943. Married Thomas F. Wynn.
2. Samuel, b. 1868, do., died 1943. Married Elizabeth A. -- (Born 1866; died 1915.) Issue 3 daughters and 1 son, Harry, Madeline, Ethel, (all dead) and Mrs. Margaret Steele of Brooklawn, New Jersey. (Our Informant.)
3. Elizabeth. (Born 1871 died 1915.) M. Mr. MARVIN. Issue: LAMONT W. MARVIN, father of Lee Marvin.
4. Thomas Nicholas Mr. (B. 1872; d. 1938, Baltimore, Md.) M. Elizabeth S. (1872-1934). Family in Baltimore.
5. Margaret, (1874-1959). Married Henry Waltman.
6. James Frederick, (1876-1942) M. Sophia M.-- (1876-1936).
7. Martha, (1878-1955) Married Mr. Schiedt.
8. Lucy, (Lucille?) Alive in Philadelphia, 1966 "very old".

Hazier information is to the effect that Thomas N. had brothers, John, Frederick and Samuel. Frederick was supposed to go into the Navy and wasn't heard from. Of Samuel - nothing. John came to Philadelphia and then to Corona, New York, and worked for Tiffany, Inc., "because nobody knew how to colour the glass like him". He was living in 1933 at 35-36 104 Coronado, New York, with wife Agnes (McConnon), and son Frederick, whose wife Mary, gave us this information.

Welcome to the Hollingsworth Clan, Lee Marvin.

JACOB ELLERTON HOLLINGSWORTH<sup>3</sup>

First and only real child of Jacob<sup>2</sup> Hollingsworth by Elizabeth (Castner) his first wife, was born Dec. 19, 1868, near Grinnell, Iowa, but in Jasper County, which is across the county lines. He died on January 28, 1963, at Ottawa, Kansas, age 94 years, 1 month, 9 days, and is buried in Highland Cemetery there. Of all the descendants of our Wexford Progenitor, Jacob E. Hollingsworth lived the longest. The writer is deeply pleased that he was able to contact Jacob and to correspond with him through his son Lynn (now also deceased) for at least a while.

He married, April 9, 1902, at Alma, Harlan County, Nebraska, CARRIE BELL DAY, the daughter of Clement & Lovina (Riggs) Day, natives of Illinois and West Virginia, respectively. She was born July 20, 1872, at Kirksville, Adair County, Missouri, and died April 10, 1954, at Ottawa, Kansas, aged 81 years, 8 months, 21 days, buried at Highland cemetery there.

Issue:

- (1) RUBY FRANCES, born Feb. 6, 1903, Woodruff, Phillips County, Kansas; living at Ottawa, Kansas; never married.

Jacob Ellerton Hollingsworth was the true child of Jacob and Lizzie Hollingsworth. The couple reared two children by Lizzie Castner's first husband Frank Hambrick, who subsequently took the Hollingsworth name - Fred and Marv. (We intend to give in these columns a brief sketch of their lives and families.) Jacob<sup>2</sup> is said to have 'adopted' them as his own. We haven't found the papers. Jacob E. was raised on Section One in Richland township in Jasper county, Iowa, where his father's farm was located. (For details of this period of his life see our sketch of Anna Hollingsworth Belden in this volume.) He left his home and father forever, in 1886, to go with his half sister, Mary (Hambrick-Hollingsworth) Farr, and her new husband, William Farr, to the vicinity of Alma, Nebraska. He never returned, and it seems correspondence between him and his half sisters, Madge and Nelle, who remained in Iowa, slackened off considerably as the years went on. Christmas cards were exchanged, and a family photo or two. But Jacob his father had re-married, in 1887, a Roman Catholic widow, (mother of Madge and Nelle) who seems to have objected to Protestants as much as the Hollingsworths objected to Roman Catholics. Too, Jacob's mother, Lizzie Castner, had died only a year or two before he left home, and we believe some quarrel came between father and son which may have involved the thought of Jacob's father re-marrying. Anyway, when this writer at length found Jacob alive in Kansas, his half sister back in Iowa begged him not to send her photo to him, or to give him her address.

Jacob E. Hollingsworth, like his father, was a farmer, and a hard worker at it. He was much loved by his children, who, to show this feeling, clustered around him and his wife to the end. The writer owns a nice family group photograph of the Hollingsworths.

Leaving Alma, Nebraska, Jacob went to Woodruff, Kansas, just over the state line, where he lived when his three children were born. He spent some time there and finally came to Franklin County, to Ottawa and lived out the remainder of his life there. Here, in Highland cemetery are laid to rest his dear wife Carrie and his two sons Frank (oldest) and Lynn, who was better known as "Red." It was Red Hollingsworth, who, in his letter to this writer (Feb. 7, 1963) told of Jake's passing. He said, in part, "...He was only in bed 3 days and the end came quite suddenly at 5:15 in the afternoon; it was a Coronary, and needless to say, he didn't suffer too long. But up until the last his mind was very clear. I am very grateful for his sake that he didn't have to be in bed for a long time." He added the facts that the winter of 1962-1963 was "rugged", setting down to 160 below, with very little weather above 320. A Heavy Winter's farewell to one who had seen ninety-three of them. He was an avid baseball fan.

Ruby Hollingsworth loaned this writer some mementoes of her father's childhood at Kellogg, Iowa. Photostats were made and the material returned. Included are delightful little cards, most of them being "Rewards of Merit" from Kellogg schools, signed by the respective teachers, and endorsed to "Jacob" or "Jake" Hollingsworth. Included also is the invitational card to "COMMENCEMENT of the KELLOGG HIGH SCHOOL, June 11, 1886." The beautiful figure of an Elk (so appropriate for the Hollingsworths!) adorns the card, which is 2 by 3 inches in size. Also included are calling cards - typical of the times, beautifully printed with the names, "J. Hollingsworth," & "Mrs. A. E. Hollingsworth," which, no doubt, stood for Jacob Hollingsworth (our subject's father) and Ann Elizabeth (Castner) Hollingsworth his first wife. Most interesting is a small printed program of the Second Annual Ball, (Feb. 17th, 1882) of the Torrent Engine & Hose Co., of Grinnell, Iowa, with music by the Beloit (Wisconsin) Band, floor managers E. A. Jones, B. W. Preston and F. Matteson, and Reception Committee, L. C. Phelps, Jr., C. L. Schuyler, A. R. Turner and F. C. Wallace. Supper was prepared and served at Chapin House, and a roster of 25 musical numbers for dancing was listed. These included the Grand March, Quadrille, Waltz (5 of them), Virginia Reel, Polka (3), Quadrille - Masonic, Varsouvienne, Schottische, Newport, Fireman's Dance, Knickerbocker and several more Quadrilles. A gala affair!

PROBY PAPERS RECEIVED

Recently the editor received the long awaited negative microfilm of the collection of the estate papers of the Proby family. The collection is mostly of title deeds, landlord's counterparts, on lands in the Manor or Lordship of Arklow, in south County Wicklow, Ireland, now in the National Library of Ireland. Although we had a foreboding of a negative result insofar as the Hollingsworths are concerned, we were not totally disappointed. One of the deeds, though none were either to or from the members of our family, did contain a reference to the rather shadowy DANIEL HOLLINGSWORTH of the town of Arklow. See our remarks about him in this volume, page 98 under "Arklow Two Hundred Years Ago." Then, we were pretty sure, but possessed not this proof, that the "D" stood for Daniel. See also, in this issue, page 163, a brief abstract copy of this lease, in our Irish Records collections.

Many of these leases are of great value, giving leases for three lives for the families of TUKE, BOWLAND, GRAHAM, BYRNE, PHILPOT, STRINGER, and several others, most of whom knew or were later related by marriage, to the Hollingsworths, and went to church with them. Since this particular collection (about eighty items) is unsorted, the editor has agreed to calendar it for the library. Copies of this will also be utilized in a forthcoming Record Series we plan on the counties of Wexford and Wicklow. The sad fact continues, that large collections of records about Ireland, outside of those on microfilm at Salt Lake City, Utah, are not available in the United States. We are making a start at correcting this situation. Wish us luck!

The Manor of Nevil's Court in 1714

The Rental (Rent Roll) of the Manor of Nevil's Court, County of Wexford, Ireland, is a part of the Valentia-Anneslev Collection, now deposited in the Bodleian Library, Oxford, England. The editor was fortunate enough to be granted personal permission from the present representative of the Anneslev family, the Brigadier the Viscount Valentia (See "Who's Who") in obtaining films of the papers. This Rental is a survey of all the Anneslev lands in Ireland, from which we extract only that part pertaining to the portions of the Parishes of Ballvcanew and Monomolin covered by this Manor called "Nevil's Court." The name came from the Neville family who originally, or rather, earlier, held the property in the time of Queen Elizabeth I. and before. They were attainted of treason. After Cromwell's time, the Masterson family held this land, but in the latter part of the 1600s the Earls of Anglesey obtained it. "Nevil's Court" is almost synonymous with the name Ballvcanew, as far as the Parish boundary is concerned, and a townland near the village bears the name. This Rental gives you the names of the chief tenants in 1713 and 1714, what properties and in what amount they held same, and the yearly rent, and finally the type of holding. We have made a typed copy of this whole rental and made a full name and place index for it, depositing it in several libraries.

Our Hollingsworths held many leases and much property here, and, in 1852, they had 411 acres, 2 perches, valued at L 289: 5s per annum, which you can confirm by consulting page 61. They lived or farmed at Monroe, Ballinakill, Cranacrower, Brackanagh, Ballycanew, Kilcorkev, Tomagaddy, Boley and Bolinready (Boley a part of Bolinready in 1714), in approximately that order of acquisition, from 1746 through 1852, and also held at Tomduff, Coolookbeg, Ballywaltermore, all in the adjacent parish called Killenagh or Killena. Of course, they also had other leases on Clonerusk, Springfield, Abbeylands, and town lots in Arklow, Co., Wicklow, Poolaphuca in Castlemacadam Parish, and in Dublin's vicinity, from which they drew yearly rents from undertenants.

The man, "Charles Newburg" (p. 164) holding "Ballyconow &c." was thus, the tenant-in-chief for the village, the townlands of Ballvnekil (sic) and Monmore, Ballvclearv, Tomgar, Cranacrower, Ballvnemona, Ballvteage, Ballvcanew Townland (which encircled the village), which, totalled up, equals the 1,212 acres, 2 perches he was taxed for. In September, 1716, the 31 year lease expired, unless renewed. Because we do not have any rent rolls before or after this one, it is impossible to tell if Newburg renewed or allowed another to hold in his place. We do know, on the other hand, that Nicholas Tackaberry was holding Ballinakill and Monroe by 1745 at the expiration of whose tenure, John Colley took his lease, subletting Ballinakill to our John Hollingsworth (see pages 87-93).

It is interesting too, to see the name of "James Tankervill" at Tomraddy or Tomagaddy. This writer never has observed this name in the vicinity before this finding. John Tackaberry obtained his lease for lives in 1738 on this property, 168 acres. (Tankervill held 276 acres in 1714.) Tomagaddy itself totalled 149 acres, according to the reference table above (p. 165) which seems to mean Tackaberry's lease covered all of this and part of another adjacent townland, probably Ballinasilloge. (The latter is now a very small townland.)

More research will of course be put into this project. Plenty is needed. Deeds will most likely give us the best chance of success. When and if found, they will be published here under "Deeds of Ireland."

END OF THE ERA!

HOLLINGSWORTH -- November 13, 1968, at his residence, Mangan House, Hollvfort, Gorev, Co. Wexford, NICHOLAS HOLLINGSWORTH. Deeply regretted by his loving wife, brother, sisters, nieces, nephews, and a wide circle of relatives and friends. Funeral leaving house to-day (Friday) at 2 o'clock for St. John's Church, Hollvfort. (From a Dublin paper.)

"Thy Will be done."

Mr. Hollingsworth was known so extensively in that area of Ireland that whenever we enquired, his name was recommended. He was our first personal correspondent from County Wexford, and we published his first letter in our Volume Two on page 122. He was, at his death, about 79 years old.

With his passing, truly, the end of the Hollingsworth era in the county of Wexford has come. He was the last one bearing the surname to live there; the name had been continuously represented from at least the early part of the year 1746, giving a proven total of 222 years residence there. If the family spokesman, Edward T. Hollingsworth of Cincinnati, Ohio (see page 6) was right, when he stated the family had come to that area in "1665", it marks the end of 303 years there -- longer than the history of Valentine Hollingsworth's family in America. Farewell, Dear Cousin Nicholas Hollingsworth.

EDWARD JOHN HOLLINGSWORTH

The death of our cousin, Mr. Edward J. Hollingsworth, on June 22, 1968, at Daytona Beach, Florida, U.S.A., has come to our attention. He was born June 11, 1898, in New York city, N.Y., U.S.A., a child of Nicholas & Mary Hester Henrietta (Tompkins) Hollingsworth, both natives of County Wexford, Ireland. Edward was a first cousin of the Nicholas Hollingsworth whose obituary is printed on page 166. These men never saw each other, but were aware of each other's existence. It was your editor's letters to both which brought them together, at least through the mails, in 1962. Nicholas of Hollivfort, Ireland, was the oldest son of Edward (Ned) and Maria (Lawrence) Hollingsworth. Ned was a brother of Nicholas, the father of this subject, who came to New York about the time the other Nicholas, his nephew, was born.

At the time of death, Edward J. Hollingsworth was a resident of Pompano Beach, Florida. He leaves only his wife, the former Florence E. Svoboda, whom he married on Sept. 15, 1949. He died of complications following lung surgery, having taken ill on a trip to north Florida to recover from the operation. He was a retired Detective of the New York City Police Dept. (In our second issue of HR page 54, we published the news item from the New York Times, Nov. 13, 1923, telling of Edward's capture of a felon on his first night on the force!) Although retired from the force, he had worked for the Pompano Beach Police Dept., and also for the City Government as a License Inspector.

He was buried at 11:00 a.m. Tuesday, June 25, 1968, in Forest Lawn Memorial Gardens, Pompano Beach, Fla., the Rev. O. V. Hitchcock officiating, with arrangements by R. Jay Frazer Funeral Home.

Contact was made with the Registrar-General of Vital Statistics, Somerset House, London, and the following marriage certificate was obtained:

Marriage Solemnized at St. Paul's Church, Parish of St. Paul's Knightsbridge, Co. Middlesex, Sept. 19th, 1891. Groom: SAMUEL HOLLINGSWORTH, 33, Bachelor, Soldier, of Knightsbridge Barracks, son of Edward Hollingsworth, a farmer. Bride: GEORGINA EDWARDS, 31, Spinster, of 10 West Eaton Place, daughter of Henry Edwards, labourer, by Banns of the Established Church, Rev. Bernard D. Shaw, officiating, with Herbert Ashton Smith and Sophie Louise Edwards, witnesses.

Samuel was a son of Edward and Sarah (Freeman) Hollingsworth, of The Rock of Arklow, ("Arklow Rock House") County Wicklow, Ireland, & a first cousin, once removed, to the above Edward and Nicholas. His grandfather is the great grandfather of those men, (John Hollingsworth of Big Rock, formerly of Springfield and Cronelusk, who died August 21, 1864 aged 85 - see HR Vol. 1, p. 12) and the John mentioned in the following deed.

An Unregistered Irish Lease:

CLONALUSK*- 2 August, 1811. JOHN HOLLENSWORTH. 16 acres, 10 Perches. Lease for 21 years, at a rent of £ 32:2:6d. with 1 shilling and 2 fowl or 10 shillings duties and receivers' fee. For the life of Robert Thomas Atkins.

(*Clonalusk is Cronelusk, Arklow Parish, Co. Wicklow. This notation is from the 1826 Rental of the Manor of Arklow, in the Probv Estate Papers, reported about on page 162. The lease expired in 1832 and, it seems, was not renewable. John moved to Big Rock. Family tradition says he was ejected for hiding a Catholic under the bed! One of his 9 sons was said to have married a Roman Catholic girl. Records seem to support this story. Catholic emancipation dates from 1829; it would therefore seem to necessitate that this ejection took place before that time. In 1828 the family still resided at Springfield, which joins Cronelusk. By 1845 John's son William had removed to the townland of Pollaphuca (also called Poolaphuca) outside the Probv Estate, and by 1850 it seems John had been established at Big Rock, at the home of his son Edward. (HR Vol. 1, p. 14.) This John was the common ancestor of the three men - Nicholas, Edward John, and Samuel Hollingsworth on pages 166 and 167.)

A NOTE ON THE RATHERYLAND FAMILY

On page 86 we had the thrill of publishing the 1696 letter from Henry Hollinsworth of King Hill, Co. Down, to James Hamilton, Tollymore, Co. Down. The letter is in the collection of papers of the Earl of Roden now housed at the PRO, Belfast. Who was this James Hamilton? A check of Sir Bernard Burke's Genealogical History of the Dormant, Abeyant, Forfeited and Extinct Peerages, 1883, gives his pedigree under "HAMILTON - VISCOUNT CLANEBOYE, EARL OF CLANBRASSILL" and shows that the Viscountcy was established by Letters Patent 4 May, 1622 and the Earldom by Patent 7 June, 1647. Viscount Clanboye had a Regiment of men under his command during the 1641 rebellion. The Pedigree begins with The Rev. Hans Hamilton, vicar of Dunlop, Ayrshire, Scotland, born 1536; died 30 May, 1608, buried at Dunlop. James Hamilton of Tollymore was a great grandson of Rev. Hans, through the latter's fifth son William Hamilton, Bangor, Co. Down, who married Jane, daughter of Sir John Melville and died in 1627, leaving issue including his fourth son, also William Hamilton, of Erinagh, Co. Down, who died 26 January, 1680, married (1) Ellen, daughter of Phelim Magennis, Esq., (one of the great families of the ancient English Pale) and had issue including James of Tollymore. This James wrote his will 28 December, 1693 (at the same time John Newell, Gent., the holder of King Hill, also made his will). It was proved in 1700. This writer has found a considerable number of deed registrations made by his widow (Anne Mordaunt, granddaughter of John, 1st Earl of Peterborough) following the proving of said will, for upwards of twenty years.

James' grandson (James, Earl of Clanbrassil) died without issue in 1798 and this family's estates passed into the family of the Earl of Roden - hence, the papers and their present situation.

Another enlightening item comes to us from T 808 page 7794, in the PRO, Belfast. It is a Chancery Bill of 21 Nov., 1693 (no answer) of JOHN NEWELL, Dublin City, Esq., A Six-Clerk of Chancery, Plaintiff, against John Hawkins, minor, eldest son and heir of John Hawkins, deceased, who was the eldest son and heir of William Hawkins, Lazv Hill, (near Dublin) Esq., deceased; said minor to appear by his mother and guardian Mary Hawkins, and John Norris of Co. Down, Defendants. This bill states that the above William Hawkins owned Newcastle, Ballvbeg, Tullymore (als Tollymore - Ed.), Marlock & Dundrine, 1068 acres in all, in Upper Iveagh Barony, Co Down, which, on 22 July, 1671 he leased to said Deft. John Norris for the lives renewable forever of said John Norris, Rev. Henry Leslie of Sheepland Co Down, Clerk, and William Leslie, son of James Leslie, Sheepland, Esq., which lease Norris assigned to the Plaintiff John Newell. That William Leslie is dead, and Hawkins (John) refuses to renew the lease &c &c.

The Index to the (destroyed) rolls of patents of lands under the Acts of Settlement & Explanation, completed during the reign of Charles the Second, show the above lands - Newcastle, etc., - appeared on the same membranes as those on which the name of William Hawkins appeared. Since he was one of the Adventurers (financial backers) of the war to put down the Irish Rebellion, he must have been granted these lands in payment of his loan. We aren't provided with the date when Norris assigned his lease to Newell, but it was before William Leslie died. More research may establish the correct time. Other lands which Hawkins received were Cavan, also a later Hollingsworth abode, and other lands in that neighbourhood. He is said to have established the town of Rathfriland (now Rathfriland) Co. Down, on his lands. A tradition of this Hollingsworth family asserts that Wm. Hawkins - who had been an Alderman of London, before the Rebellion - is the man who "brought the Hollingsworths to Ireland" in his "troop of horse". This statement isn't exactly probable, since Hawkins was a merchant, not a soldier. But there were Hollingsworths (sic) in London who were also merchants at that period, making the basic ingredients of the tale factual. The above described Chancery Bill went unanswered, possibly on account of the Plaintiff's own death, which occurred in 1694, his will being written October 11, 1693, just twenty days before the date of his plea in Chancery. Newell's heirs were his oldest son and heir Matthew Newell, who died without issue, John Newell, Jr., who then inherited, and Elizabeth, wife of Henry Hollingsworth of King Hill, who had a right of a portion of her father's estates at King Hill.

Interestingly, Tullymore is involved in both problems. It seems to be the same piece of property, in the area southeast of Castletownish, on the east coast of Co. Down, (ten miles due east of Rathfriland) probably in the parish called Machera. Was Hamilton a lessee or assignee of John Newell? In his 1696 letter to Hamilton, Hollinsworth asked that he care for "ould Mistris Newel", who seems to be John Newell's mother. Newell had been somehow unkind to the "Rapparees" who took out their revenge upon Hollinsworth his son-in-law.

The Down Muster Rolls of Able bodied men and tenants of the several Undertakers of the Ulster Plantation, c1630, (Add. Ms. 4770, Brit.Mus.) the following Newells were assessed: Earl of Kildare's estate, THOMAS NEWELL, sword onely (folio 204); JOHN NEWELL, no armes (f. 206); Lord Crumwell's Church Lands etc., JOHN NEWELL, swordes onely (two of them, ff. 207, 209), and PATRICK NEWELL, sworde onely (folio 208). In the Military Musters of the Army, 1642, (Exchequer Papers, PRO, London, typed copy in Salt Lake City Gen. Society Library), JOHN NEWELL, Sr., and JOHN NEWELL, Jr., were two privates serving in the company of Richard Bingley, mustered at Balluklender, County Down, 4 Aug., 1642. These soldiers were more than likely some of those assessed in 1630. Whether one of these was John Newell, Dublin, Gent., Six-Clerk, can't be established at this time.

"The Two Holinworths..." "JOHN DE BYRON, who had by gift of his father-in-law, all his lands in Rochdale (near Manchester, Lancs. Ed.) VIZ: Bostworth, Gleggs, Gartside, Kedon, the two HOLINWORTHS, & Halcht married Joan de Tves, wid. of Sir Robt. de Hovland, and had issue, Sr. John De Byron, Knight, who was living in 1313..." (From Collins' Peerage, Yorkshire Arch. Journal, Vol. 7, p. 276). This proves there were two places of this name in Lancashire, and yet another in Mottram, Cheshire.

Strange Death of Joseph Hollingworth

"Joseph Hollingworth of Hades Inn drowned himself this morning in the Mytholm Bridge dam. He was laid upon his face and scarce covered with water, and had his Hat upon his head." (Near Holmfirth, Yorkshire, entry May 8, 1745, from Diary of Arthur Jessop, Sr., Apothecary, (born 1682) pub. in Vol. CXVII (1951) of Yorkshire Archaeological Journal, page 99.)

Four Down and ? to go .....

Whole Number 16 of Hollingsworth Register closes, and with it the fourth volume. Use the index (which here followeth) when your memory fails. We do not know how many more of these magazines will be published. There certainly is no lack of material. The big problem in preparing each number is, not finding information to print, but which sources to utilize! Generally, we attempt to publish information useful to the largest number of our subscribers. Obviously, this cannot always be the case, so we pick many items for whom, it seems, we have no subscribing descendants. This periodical is in the Library of Congress, British Museum, National Library, Dublin, Public Record Office, Belfast, Society of Genealogists, London, and several American public libraries. No doubt, if properly advertised, they will be useful. At this writing, the Astronauts in Apollo 8 are heading home. A man named John HOLLINGSWORTH helped to get them to the moon ... and back.
