MEANING OF THE NAME

The surname Hollingsworth is derived from a place in north east Cheshire, of the same name, called in the Domesday Book "Holisurde," and pronounced "Hollis-worth" but probably intended to be "Hollinworth." It is in the Parish of Mottram-in-Longdendale, not far from the city of Manchester. There are two other such place names, both in Lancashire, to the north-east of Manchester. It is possible that separate families sprang from the several places, bearing the same surname. The place in Cheshire was a bare waste in the time of Domesday (1086) and the first appearance of anybody using the name as a surname is in a charter of about 1215, where "Tomas De Holinewurth" is a signatory. The two Anglo-Saxon words, Holecn (or Holyn), a holly bush or tree, and Worp (or Worde) meaning an enclosure or farmstead, are said to be the bases to the placename Hollinworth, meaning, "A farm (homestead) enclosed by holly bushes," or "Holly Farm." In later years, an "s" came to be used by some families, but that has not been found as a general rule earlier than about 1620. There are now five generally used forms: Hollingsworth, Hollinsworth, Hollinworth, Hollingworth, and Hollandsworth. These are to be found in the vital records, indexes of Somerset House, London, from 1837, and city and telephone directories of many large cities of the world.

INTENT OF THIS QUARTERLY

Hollingsworth Register began in April, 1965, and its purpose remains as it was then: To publish abstracts or verbatim copies of as many records of the family, world-wide, from the earliest times until the present day, as is humanly and financially possible. In the first seven volumes of 28 separate issues, about 34,000 items have appeared in this behalf, an average of about twelve hundred records or items being published in each single issue. The entire U.S. Census schedules from 1790 through 1850 for these surnames have been completed, and the 1860 census is now in progress. No other family has been thus served. About one million pages were covered in that search alone.

Henry Hollingsworth

The last presentation in our longest series will be devoted to the 1850 census schedules for Hollingsworth families in the Mother State, the Queen State of the Old South. I started this series in our April 1965 issue - Volume One, Number One. The series has continued uninterrupted with the singular exception of the December 1965 issue. In that number the 1851 and 1861 schedules for Leeds County, Canada West (now Ontario Province), were given. Reading of the hundreds of thousands of pages for the 1850 U.S. Census was completed in mid 1967. Space for their publication has been allotted in each issue. But only now do we come to the end of the series. I think it is the greatest achievement in the entire scope of a family magazine. During the same period, as faithful subscribers know, I published all discoverable Heads of families of this surname from the 1790, 1800, 1810, 1820, 1830 and 1840 U.S. Census. Omissions have been presented periodically in our "Corrections and Additions" column.

I think no other family anywhere has had such a service performed for it. Inspiration for it came from the Thompson Family Magazine, edited by Mrs. Beverly M. Stercula. She has presented thousands of Thompson (and variants) entries in her magazine. The only advantages I have had on my side are more time to research, and the fact that our surname is much less numerous!

The only major loss of schedules in the 1850 census was that for San Francisco City and County, California. I do not think any Holling(s)worths lived there during that time.

After we conclude the article on Virginia Hollingsworths, the usual Tabulation will follow, after which, the Grand Tabulation for the entire 1850 schedule will be published. It is purely statistical; it was presented under different standards at the beginning, but our presentation here conforms to standards used more recently, giving the number of persons apparently born with the surname, and of wives or widows not usually born with it, and of males, females, heads of families and the total amount of estimated value of real estate owned.

With but one exception, I did all the work of reading the half million pages of schedules. Indiana was worked from the Index to Heads of families and names of persons of other surnames residing with them, at the Indiana State Library. I presented this report at the beginning. Later I learnt that I was not given any of the "odd spelt" examples and it was necessary to publish these later. Indiana had by far the largest population of Hollingsworths in the United States, and possibly the largest for any state or shire or province in Canada, England or Ireland.

My mother, Mrs. Nan (Nancy Saint Clair) (Crawford) Hollingsworth, was born in Manchester, which is now a part of the City of Richmond, Virginia, on 24 of November 1892, in Clopton's Mansion. It is to her I dedicate this series of articles.

234-251 JAMES HOLLNWITH** aged 33, farmer, born Alabama,
           Tabitha A. " 27, Mississippi.
           Narcissa " 4, Texas.
           James Hamilton 56, brick mason Connecticut.

**These haven't been totaled. The name appears beyond the possibility of proof and no corroborative evidence has been found whereby one can deduce if this is "Hollinworth" or Holsworth, or any other variant. See the next article.

After your editor completed the work of totalling the above 1850 census, it was found that many errors were previously made in the totals given in earlier magazines for individual states. Therefore, we advise the reader to disregard them, and accept the above as official.

"Texas Jim Hollingsworth"

The title denotes our fictitious appellation for the earliest settler in the Lone Star Republic with our surname - James Hollingsworth. In the July 1965 issue of HR, we speculated that Stephen P. Hollingsworth, enumerated in Rusk County in 1850, was the first settler of our name. Based on what seemed to be a correct census, we were justified. But in re-reading several pages to check our work, on the better film now available, it was discovered that the Burleson County family we give below, were in Texas much earlier.

Burleson County (formed in 1846 from Milam and Washington Counties).
Page 426, lines 2-6: District of Burleson & Brazoria: Oct. 19, 1850.

191-191	RACHAEL HOLLINGSWORTH	42;	Born S.C.
	John "(Culins)"*	21, farming	Do.
	Eliza	15,	Texas.
	Aron	6,	Do.
	Darky	3f,	Do.

*In the 1965 issue we interpreted this word to mean the surname of the three children was Culins. It appears exactly as above, in parentheses and therefore must be ignored as being the surname. What it means we do not know. This raised the totals adding the four names above.

It would appear that Rachael, above, was the widow (or perhaps he was away) of Texas Jim Hollingsworth. James Hollingsworth may have been born in South Carolina, as his wife Rachael and son John (Culins) Hollingsworth were born there. The above shows he was in Texas by 1834 or 1835. Some few other records prove this.

(A) "James Holensworth, married," was enumerated in Goliad, before May 1, 1835, as shown by assessments.

(B) Land Grant of 369 acres to James Hollingsworth, in Burlson County west of the waters of 1st Yessua.

(C) Land Grant of 640 acres south of the Leon in Bell County to James Hollingsworth.

(D) Land Grants of (1) 2086 acres and (2) 1043 acres in McLennan County on the main Bosque. (No dates supplied here.)

(E) James Hollingsworth, Oct. 28, 1831, received patent of 1,107 acres in Burlson County, 92 acres thereof in Washington County. (Pat. Number 1590, Volume 5 of Patents.**

(F) James Hollingsworth, Oct. 12, 1845, received patent of 640 acres, (508 acres thereof in Coryell County) in Military Land. (No. 364; file 161.)** Bell County.

**Texas: Abstract of Titles of Texas Land, to August 31, 1941, Vol. 3.

Texas Jim was in the great state of Texas before Oct. 28, 1831. He is, therefore, officially, the first Texas Hollingsworth settler. Other than these meagre facts, we are in possession of no other information about him. The reader who has some will be encouraged to write to the editor if he wishes to do so. Texas Jim will be the catch word which will remind the editor of this article. Jim is as important to Texas as a first settler, as Richard Hollingworth is as the very first settler on the American mainland (1635).

Another Note on the Brig William

We wish to thank the Director, Mr. James J. Heslin, of The New-York Historical Society, 170 Central Park West, New York, N.Y. 10024, for his letter of November 25, 1969, and the Information Division of The New York Public Library, Fifth Avenue & 42nd Street, New York, for their letter of last September 16th, for the information we are able to provide here.

Frederick Hollingsworth, the great great grandfather of your editor, came to New York on the Brigantine "William". The two above cited letters give us not only the exact date of embarkation but the correct date of arrival, as well as some detail as to the cargo:

"Shipping and Commercial List (New York)" page 232, July 22, 1829 housed in N.Y. Public Library, gave:-

"Importations at New-York - Foreign. DUBLIN -- brig. William. Basket salt 20 hhds, J.M. Bride -- raisins 100 boxes, 50 half do, G. Mackie & Co. -- books 1 box, J. Morgan."

"Commercial Advertiser" of Friday evening, July 17th, 1829, as sent to us by N.Y. Historical Society -

"Marine List - Brig William, Keating, of Thomaston, 49 days from Dublin, with salt and raisins, to Locke & Keating, J. McBride, G. Mackie & Co. 62 passengers."

The second item gives us the fact that the brig departed the bad harbour of Dublin on the 29th of May, and put down anchor at New York on Thursday, 16th of July, 1829, 49 days later. Our article on page 128 shows that the ship was in Dublin on 27th May, when the U.S. Consul certified the crew list. It was probably due to sail on that day or the next. Ships taking emigrants from the British Isles, especially Ireland, in those days, seldom ever sailed on the day which was announced! The close of the Napoleonic War era, and the greatly increased population of Ireland, and cruel ground rents, contributed to the emigration in the pre-famine period. Frederick Hollingsworth pulled out early, but for what reason we probably never will know. We have done remarkably well in getting what we have about the vessel he chose to sail away on! For the full names and other details about Frederick and the 61 other passengers, see HR Vol. 2, pp. 131, 132.

HOLLINGSWORTH & WHITNEY COMPANY

The huge paper producing and paper products company called Scott Paper Company, whose commercials are often viewed on American and foreign television, has a division called Hollingsworth & Whitney, a name we have not seen on television! However, the division has a big place in the larger company. On October 27, 1954, the previously independent Hollingsworth & Whitney Company merged with that of Scott. A long history stretches out before that date.

Valentine Hollingsworth, Sr. (1632-1710) is the ancestor of the men who founded this enterprise. Mark Hollingsworth, Valentine's great-great grandson, born 19 Feb. 1777 in New Castle County, Delaware, was the actual founder of paper making by members of this family in

New England. Mark went north and settled in the town of Dorchester, in Norfolk County, prior to 1810. He is found on p. 680 of that census, Norfolk County; 3 males under 10; 1 male 10-16; 1 male 26-45; 1 female 16-26; 1 female 26-45. By 1820 he had removed to Milton, in the same county (p. 118) with 4 males under 10; 3 10-16; 2 16-26 (of which 2 were 16-18); 1 26-45; 1 female under 10; 1 10-16; 1 26-45. In 1830 he is enumerated on page 116, in Milton, household total 11; (See HR Vol. 2 p. 113) and in 1840, on page 348, Milton, then in Suffolk county, with 8 in the family, besides the separate listing of his son Amor, with 6, there being a total of 4 persons listed "in manufactures" for that census year. The 1850 census of Milton, Norfolk County, (the place is the same today, just outside city limit of Boston) on page 212B or Reverse, lines 19-30, the following is to be found:

118-138	Mark Hollingsworth	72,	paper manufacturer $15,000.	Del.
	Waitstill	70,		Mass.
	George	36,	artist	Do.
	Margaret Brian	19,	(servant?)	Ireland.
119-139	AMOR HOLLINGSWORTH	42,	paper manufacturer $14,000	Mass.
	Jane M.	35		N.Y.
	Amor L.	13		Mass.
	Jane M.	4		Do.
	Zachary	1		Do.

See HR Vol. 4, page 119 for fuller details. Mark Hollingsworth was the fourth child among seven born to Amor and Mary (Chandler) Hollingsworth. It is suspected, though not investigated, that the familiar Quaker Chandler family of New Castle, Delaware, and Chester, Pennsylvania, is involved here. See our article "The Chandlers" on page 152 of our Volume Four. His grandparents were Thomas and Judith (Lampley or Lampleigh) Hollingsworth, Quakers, of Christiana Hundred, New Castle County. The great-grandparents were Thomas and Grace (Cook) Hollingsworth, often appearing in our publication, and this Thomas was the son of Valentine and Ann (Ree) Hollingsworth.

Mark Hollingsworth is described as "large, strong, handsome, with dark hair and eyes, with a florid complexion" in the obituary article appearing on page 459 of the June, 1925 issue of Proceedings of the Massachusetts Historical Society, of Zachary Taylor Hollingsworth. (Z.T. Hollingsworth, the same seen listed above, aged 1.) Mark married Waitstill Tileston, of Dorchester, Oct. 16, 1804 and had eleven children by her. He died 27 Feb. 1855, aged 78 years. His exploits in the paper business are now briefly described.

Mark was first employed as foreman for Jeremiah Smith Boies who had a paper manufactory on the Neponset River at Milton. This site was first occupied for such work by a group which included Thomas Hancock, uncle to John Hancock of Revolutionary fame, as early as 1728. In 1801, Mark formed the Tileston & Hollingsworth partnership. It remains today, one of the two oldest paper making companies in the United States. (The other is Crane's, at Dalton.) Messrs Amor Hollingsworth, Senior, and Junior, present Directors, are of the fourth and fifth generation heads of the company. Through their kindness, HR was provided with a copy of their historical brochure, from which much of this information has been taken.

Of the eleven children born to Mark and Waitstill, Lyman founded a mill business at West Groton in the early 1800s (See HR Vol. 4, p. 119) and John M. and Lyman operated one at South Braintree which their father purchased, it being the mill of the Revere Copper works. (Ibid.) Ellis A. Hollingsworth came from his sojourn in California in 1852, to take over this operation. (This man was not found in the census! Was he on board a ship in 1850, or on a wagon train?) A fine sketch of Ellis will appear in a later issue. Zachary Taylor Hollingsworth, son of Amor, grandson of Mark, founded the Hollingsworth & Vose Company with Louis Vose in 1871. Ellis A. Hollingsworth is the man who, in 1862, founded the partnership of Hollingsworth & Whitney, with Mr. Leonard A. Whitney, Jr. Mr. Whitney had been operating a paper bag making business at Watertown, Mass. In 1862, the H & W partnership produced four tons of paper per day!

In the early 1800s, paper was made mostly by hand labour, with the use of great vats and presses. Rags and other material were put into the water-filled vats and beaten with hammers to pulp. After the sheets were formed, great pressure was brought to bear to squeeze out the water. Later, the sheets were hung out in drying rooms. The familiar dark or mottled, rough or even stained papers of books over a hundred years old was the product. Better processes appeared in the latter half of the century. Lyman and John M. Hollingsworth, in 1843, had discovered that the manila bolt ropes from old sails made a fine quality manila paper of considerable strength. They were granted a patent on this the same year.

Both Mr. Ellis A. Hollingsworth and Leonard Whitney died in the year 1881. Their sales manager, Mr. Charles A. Dean, incorporated the present Hollingsworth & Whitney company in 1882. That year they produced 2,700 tons in four mills; in 1911, 54,000 tons, while the capital stock went up in the same period from $500,000. to $5,000,000. In 1922, Hollingsworth & Whitney Ltd., in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, was founded as a wholly owned subsidiary. In 1954, the company owned over 450,000 acres of timberland in Canada, making over one million acres in all owned and used by them.

The history of Hollingsworth & Whitney Company, 1862-1954, is also a success story of some of the descendants of Valentine Hollingsworth, Senior. Besides the involvement in the paper industry, Zachary, Amor L. and Sumner Hollingsworth developed great libraries of particular interest to the historian in rare books. At their passing, unfortunately, some of these collections were broken up. Zachary was a member of the Massachusetts Historical Society. He owned a collection of rare prints and autographs, including one of all the autographs of the signers of the Declaration of Independence! This of necessity means that a Hollingsworth owned an original signature of Button Gwinnett! (Supposed to be one of the rarest autographs in history.)

WALTER GEORGE HOLLINGWORTH, D.V.S.

The practice of veterinary surgery finds a capable and progressive representative in Dr. Walter George Hollingworth, who ranks as a leader among veterinarians of New York state. He was born at Utica, August 24, 1861, a son of John Henry and Mary (Lowe) Hollingworth. The father located in Utica from Hackensack, New Jersey, in 1856. He was a veterinary surgeon by profession and became one of the best known practitioners in central New York. He established a veterinary hospital in Utica, which today is one of the largest in New York state. He died in 1899. (See p. 389, 1860 U.S. Census, Seventh Ward, City of Utica, Oneida County, New York, lines 34-40. John H. Hollingworth is listed "age 23" - hence born in 1837 - in "New Jersey". He seems to be the same John H. Hollingworth (sic) then age 13, born "New York" who appears as eldest child of Thomas and Sarah Hollingworth, natives of England, on p. 141B, 19th Ward, New York City, 1850 Census - HR Vol. 3, p. 119.)

Walter George Hollingworth attended the public schools of this city and later matriculated in the veterinary department of New York University. After taking the regular course at that celebrated institution he was graduated with the degree of D.V.S. in 1884. He returned at once to Utica and became associated with his father in practice. He succeeded his father in this city and by his energy and the application of up-to-date methods has built up a large and profitable clientele. In 1911 Dr. W. A. Young was admitted to partnership and the title of the firm is now Hollingworth & Young. The services of Dr. Hollingworth have been appreciated by his brethren and he is ex-president of the New York State Veterinary Association, president of the Central New York Veterinary Medical Association and the Oneida County Veterinary Association; he is also president of the Stevens-Swan Society, Utica district. He is a member of the American Veterinary Medical Association and an honorary member of the Passaic Veterinary Association of Jersey City, New Jersey. Since 1909 he has served as resident lecturer for the veterinary department of Cornell University and in 1911 he established an honorarium at Cornell for researches in pathology and bacteriology, this being the only one of its kind in the United States.

On the 24th of April, 1893, Dr. Hollingworth was married to Miss Grace M. Butcher, a daughter of William and Helen Butcher, of Utica. One daughter, Hannah M., has come to bless this union. The family resides at No. 24 Summit Place. Possessing every desirable advantage of training for his life work, Dr. Hollingworth started under most favorable circumstances and his labors have redounded to his credit as an individual and to that of his profession. In the practice of veterinary surgery he has found a field of great usefulness and one that gives promise of many years of continued growth and activity. Being deeply interested in his vocation, he is always found in the advance rank and he does not hesitate to apply new methods as soon as their practicability has been fully demonstrated. (From: History of Oneida County, New York (1912) Volume 2, pp. 13, 14, by Cookingham.)

See HR Vol. 4, pp. 79-81 - The legal notice to sell the above exact lot was published in The Georgia Messenger of Milledgeville, Ga., dated Oct. 16, 1834 - nearly twenty years earlier! James Watson, then Guardian of the orphans of Isaac Hollingsworth, resident in Twiggs County, applied to sell Lot 219 in the 5th District, Carrol County. Loss of Twiggs Courthouse in 1901 prevents any true research. Why was there a nineteen year delay in the sale of this land? Who knows!

According to Columnist Jim Bishop (L.A. Herald-Examiner, Mon. Feb 10, 1969) STEVE HOLLINGSWORTH is the only black man on Grand Bahama Island having an unlimited master's certificate for any size boat on the sea!

ABRAHAM HOLLINSWORTH was a bondsman, 27 March 1805, in Summer County, Tennessee, to the bond of marriage between Thomas Whitford, and Polly (Mary) Henderson. (Among loose bonds, 1787-1838.)

Mrs. Aletha B. Redman

Our faithful subscriber, Mrs. Aletha B. Redman, of 314 Church St. Iowa City, Iowa, died at Mercy Hospital, Iowa City, on July 28, 1968, at 3:30 P.M. at the age of 83. She was born June 28, 1885, in Decatur County, Iowa, the daughter of John and Elvina (Lamb) Burnett. She graduated from Leon High School and Ellsworth College and earned a Master's degree in history and library science. She was married in 1906. She was a member of the D.A.R., and the Order of the Eastern Star, and belonged also to the Iowa State Library Association. She was a member of the First Methodist Church.

Two daughters, Mrs. Helen R. Black, Tempe, Arizona, and Mrs. T. R. (Mildred) Alberts of Euless, Texas, and sons Clarence H. Redman of Clinton, Iowa, and Horace E. Redman of Baton Rouge, La., as well as 11 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren survive her. Burial was on August 3, 1968, from the Beckman-Eutherus Funeral Home, in Oakland Cemetery, Rev. David Shuldt, minister, presiding. We are not aware of her connection to our family but were deeply sorry to know of her passing and appreciated her interest.

Lucy Hollingsworth Hetrick

Mrs. Lucy Frances Hollingsworth Hetrick was born 10 Aug. 1881 at White Mills, Wayne County, Pennsylvania, the youngest child of Thomas Nicholas and Ann Maria (Laving) Hollingsworth. She died in Philadelphia, Penna., on 28 May 1969, aged 87 years, 9 months and 18 days. Burial took place in the family plot in Millville, New Jersey in the Mount Pleasant Cemetery. She left her husband, Robert Hetrick, and a number of nieces and nephews, including Mr. Thomas Hollingsworth, of Baltimore, Lamont W. Marvin, and the latter's son, actor Lee Marvin. She was the last surviving member of her father's family. She resided for many years in Philadelphia, and was in good health until about five years ago. Among her effects which were obtained by the Hollingsworths after her passing, by the kindness of Mr. Hetrick, were several family photographs and clippings, and the Family Bible, the real find of any family treasure. (See page 151.)

Samuel Benjamin Plunkett

At the Kingston General Hospital on Thursday, August 3, 1967, Samuel Benjamin Plunkett, beloved husband of the late Beatrice Hollingsworth, dear father of Mrs. P. Beaven (Effa), Montreal, Canada; Mrs. (Dr.) G. Watts (Nina), of Scarboro, Ontario; Mrs. G. Sharpe (Catherine), Oakville, Ontario, Ernest, of Brockville, Ontario. Resting at the James Reid Funeral Home, Princess Street, opposite Sydenham, for service in the Chapel, Saturday afternoon at 3:15 p.m. Interment in Anglican Cemetery, Cataraqui. Granite Lodge 363 will hold service at 8 o'clock Friday evening. (From an Ontario, Canada, paper, courtesy of our cousin Miss Evelyn P. Earle, Gananoque. Beatrice Hollingsworth was the last surviving child of John (Jack) Hollingsworth, late of Escott, Leeds County, Ontario, and granddaughter of Samuel and Ellenor (Hempenshall) Hollingsworth who emigrated from County Wexford, Ireland, to Leeds County about 1836.) Deeply Regretted.

GEORGE HOLLINGSWORTH

According to that most outstanding publication, The Georgia Genealogical Magazine, Mr. Folks Huxford, Editor, issue of August 1967 page 1730, Mrs. W. M. Hollingsworth, Hurtsboro, Alabama, 36860, wants to know the following:

George Hollingsworth, of Laurens County, Georgia, wrote his will, dated Sept. 20, 1835. He named his wife Mary, and his children El-lander, John, Kindred, Polla (sic), James, Abbe, Edney, and left such bequests as his land on the east side of Rocky Creek. He made Richard Barlow his executor, and the witnesses to the will were James Barlow and Cobb Hollingsworth. Mrs. Hollingsworth wants to know the names of George Hollingsworth's parents and where he was born, and where he was buried. So do we! Above copied from GGM without checking the original record of the will. If you can help the lady, send us a copy of your reply. Thank you. The editor.

"Newport and Vermillion Township - The First 100 Years, 1824-1924" is the title of a recent book by Mr. Harold L. O'Donnell, Cayuga, Indiana, 47928. We own a copy. For those interested in Vermillion Co., Indiana, we recommend the purchase of this book from the author. It contains the history of this place in fine detail, and has an appendix giving all the census schedules from 1840-1880 in alphabetical order. Five pages give details of the Carter Hollingsworth family. The only regrettable item is a repeat of the myth of "Hollingsworth Hall" as presented in Mr. Stewart's book of 1925. This work has many redeeming qualities and is valuable to historians as well. Hard cover.

FREDERICK HOLLINGSWORTH FAMILY - GENERATION FOUR

Albert Aloysius<sup>4</sup> Hollingsworth

Albert A. Hollingsworth was the second and oldest surviving son of John Benjamin "Jack" Hollingsworth and his wife Mary Agnes McGovern. He was born 7 August 1883, at Waseca, Waseca County, Minnesota, and died on 19 July 1943 at Hawthorne, Los Angeles County, California, aged 59 years, 11 months and 12 days. He is buried in Inglewood Park Cemetery, in the family plot, without any marker. (Official Death Record, L.A. County Recorder; card file and plat books of Inglewood Park Cemetery Association; Birth record, Waseca County Clerk.)

He married (1) 29 March 1902, at Los Angeles, California, LILLIAN GRACE LONGSHORE, daughter of Mrs. Fannie E. Longshore, a widow or divorcee whose husband's name has not been discovered. Lillian was born (by family hearsay and a birthday card with no year date on it from her mother) about 23 January 1882, in Iowa. She was last known to be living in 1930, and we found no further trace of her. They were divorced by Decree dated 27 October 1915, Los Angeles Court. (Marriage records, L.A. Recorder; Civil Records, L.A. Courthouse; family letters.) Issue one child by this marriage.

He married (2) 17 July 1929, at Los Angeles, Mrs. MINNIE MAY (QUISSENBERRY) RANDAL, a widow, daughter of B.T. Quisenberry of Kansas and Laura McKinney of Nebraska. Minnie was born 11 October 1894, in Oklahoma Territory; died 9 May 1943, in Los Angeles, aged 49 years, 6 months and 28 days. Buried beside her husband. (Ibid.) No issue. Divorced. She has a flat headstone.

Bert Hollingsworth was his name. Few of us knew him as Albert, although your editor's middle name is that. He was named for the Prince Consort of Great Britain, even as his great-grandfather, Frederick, was probably named for Prince Frederick, one of the sons of King George Third. Bert's middle name, Aloysius, has often puzzled us. It comes from nowhere in the Hollingsworth family, and it is hard to believe any of the McGoverns used it, either. He never used it.

Members of the family informed us that Bert Hollingsworth had been a prizefighter around San Francisco in the late nineties. His lifelong professions were very different: He worked in youth with his father and brother Harry, as a carpenter, housepainter and paperhanger. As a paperhanger he was the best of the three, the editor having seen examples of the work of these tradesmen with his own eye. Bert could put the paper on the wall and butt the rollcut edges almost invisibly without lapping! But for many years he also worked as a pioneer grocer in the "Lennox" area near Los Angeles, which is now an incorporated portion of the City of Inglewood.

His store was built, about 1918, on the dusty south-east corner of McKinley and Lemon Avenues. (McKinley is now 109th Street; Lemon was renamed Lemoli Avenue!) The tract of land on which he settled was platted by one Byron G. Putman, in 1912. Bert Hollingsworth, with Roy Proctor and a few others, was among the first settlers in the northeastern portion of the tract. His first store was up-and-down board with slats over the cracks. As the years passed he enlarged it into a rather spacious shop, which, after the death of his second wife, who had obtained the rights to the property, was easily converted into a set of three small apartments. Over the years, however, as the site changed hands several times, it became an eyesore and finally was the victim of a bulldozer, long overdue. Two very beautiful, modern homes adorn the property today. The store was razed in Jan. 1961.

Bert made illicit distilled spirits (bootleg whiskey) during the days of the Volstead fiasco, and sold it "under the counter" to his better customers. Home brew beer also adorned the fare now and again. No documentation here! The number of customers increased during the period.

He came to Los Angeles when he was only four, and returned only one time, as far as we know, to visit his mother's relatives at Stone City, Iowa, and his grandmother's at Waseca. Everybody else had come out of the iceberg in 1887 to stay in California's sunshine.

Lillian Longshore was a girl of extraordinary beauty. Their son, Leonard Albert, this writer's only first cousin, was the only issue. The child was unfortunately mentally retarded, and finally was remanded to the care of the State of California. He never married. In his youth he appeared quite normal, and participated with the family in their many diversions, at Forester dances, and at the house on Manhattan Beach, commonly and lovingly called "The Beach House". Leonard clerked in his father's store a while. (1931 directory)

Mrs. Hollingsworth, too, eventually became insane for a considerable period of time, and after recovery, they were divorced. During the period from 1900 to about 1914, the family lived at 510 Gallardo and 2710 Boulder Street. Bert was a partner in his father's business (The Western Wallpaper Company) at 517 South Main Street in 1902. The Boulder Street residence was the home of Grace and Leonard Hollingsworth until about 1930. (City Directories, L.A. Central Library.) Bert went out to the Lennox area about 1917. The country was not a raw wilderness such as Frederick Hollingsworth faced in northern Illinois in 1837, but there were hardships. The "streets" were of two sorts - either dusty unpaved path, or oiled dirt road. The site is now a thickly populated section less than a mile from the Los Angeles Forum, (home of the Lakers) and the Hollywood Park Race Track, which latter landmark was built in 1937.

Bert served as Deputy Sheriff for the "Acres" shortly after his settlement. (Family stories not researched.) About the time he came in, one of the important law officers of Inglewood was exposed as a member of the Ku Klux Klan! Until only recently, no negro was allowed to walk Inglewood's streets after 6 o'clock in the evening. Many are the changes to be seen in 1969!

Mrs. Minnie Randal was one of the early neighbours. She had a daughter, Bernice, who after her mother married again, used the name Hollingsworth until her own marriage. She was a very beautiful girl, with a fine mind. She worked for the old Lennox newspaper during the early thirties.

After the second divorce, Minnie taking the lion's share, Bert returned to live at 10812 Lemoli Avenue, with his mother. Shortly after, his brother Harry opened a grocery on the southeast corner of Lemoli and 108th Street and the two entered a partnership with the fictitious name, "Cabin Grocery". The partnership did not last, due to the ever present "family feelings." He then found himself an apparently able-bodied man with no job to do. World War Two was in full swing, and so Albert Hollingsworth put his hand to the wheel. He took the job of tool keeper at the recently established Northrup Aircraft Company of Hawthorne, California, which still operates very successfully in 1969. These were the days when The Flying Wing and the "Black Widow" or P-61 were on the drawing boards of the company. These two formidable flying machines used to race through the skies over Inglewood Acres, much to the consternation of those who favoured noise abatement! Today, giant commercial jets pass over head, at the rate of one every thirty seconds! Oh for the days of the Wing and the Widow! (The most unfortunate thing about Bert's choice of a new home in 1918 was that, in 1926, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker chose a ranch about two and a half miles west for his air races. The area is now Los Angeles International Airport, formerly Mines Field.)

About noon on 19 July, Bert took off for lunch and went into his office and was talking to some of his friends when he collapsed. A coronary thrombosis had struck him down. He had suffered from varicose veins of the legs for some time. As he was taken to the infirmary of the plant on a stretcher, he slapped the side of a buddy and assured him he would see him again soon. Within a few minutes he was dead. Your editor, on the eve of his twelfth birthday anniversary, was playing out in the yard when his father came home unexpectedly from his job at a furniture manufacturing company which he had taken to help in the war effort. He was very upset and his son asked what was wrong.

"Your Uncle Bert is dead" was all he said, and then became very ill. These two men had been unusually close all their lives until the episode over the grocery partnership which separated them to the point of not speaking to one another for several years. Luckily, the two had patched up their differences only a few weeks prior to Bert's death. Inside family stories claim that Bert loved Minnie very much, not wanting any divorce, and, that, after her death in May the same year, he had lost a lot of his joy of living. Whether this is true, or not, we do remember that he had to start his 1928 Durant automobile every morning by cranking it with a great deal of energy, not the kind of an exertion for a coronary sufferer! It was the only piece of property Minnie did not get.

Joseph Hollingsworth's Estate

This acts as a supplement to our article in the September issue on Valentine Hollingsworth's family. The following is the scanty record of the estate of Valentine's youngest surviving son, Joseph.

Orange County, Virginia, Will Book 1, page 46.

The Old Family Bible of Thomas Nicholas Hollingsworth

After the death of Mrs. Lucy Hetrick, of Philadelphia, her husband, Mr. Robert Hetrick, kindly passed along to her grandnephew, our valued correspondent, Mr. Thomas J. Hollingsworth, Baltimore, pictures and clippings and the old family record from her father's family bible. Prizes like these oughtn't to be put away, so, with his permission, we are publishing the record here:

- (1) On special Marriage Certificate, the following entry: This is to Certify that Mr. Thomas Nichiles Hollingsworth and Mrs. Ann Maria Hollingsworth (above this: "Claving" seems to be word, crossed out, and "Laving" written to the right of it.) Were united by us

MARJORIE ELLEN HOLLINGSWORTH

While our journal was in progress, the news reached us of the passing of our valued correspondent and subscriber to HR since it began. Mrs. Marjorie Ellen (Warwick) Hollingsworth, 47, wife of Gilbert B. Hollingsworth, Jr., of Miami, Fla., died Fri. Nov. 21, 1969, of cancer. She is survived by her husband, sons Gilbert III., and Harvey, a daughter Miss Marcy Hollingsworth, all of Miami, and sisters Mrs. Jane Brobie, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Mrs. Betty Caldwell, Houston, Tex., and Mrs. Jo Ann Ames, Yardlev, Penna.

Born in Lebanon, Ohio, Mrs. Hollingsworth attended the University of Alabama, was a member of the Birmingham branch of the Association of American University Women, of William Speer Chapter, DAR, and George Maris Chapter, Colonial Dames of the Seventeenth Century. She served as Senior President, Ruben Rogers Society, Children of the American Revolution. She had a deep seated love of history and genealogy and her works on her husband's Hollingsworth and Easterling families prove it. She was buried in Elmwood Cemetery, Birmingham, Alabama, Mon., Nov. 24th. Family asked contributions be sent to the American Cancer Society, in lieu of flowers.

Marjorie Hollingsworth had resided in Birmingham until two years ago. Mrs. Kathleen Hollingsworth Smith, her friend, said this is "news of the loss of a vibrant person, good friend and a very, very lovely member of the Hollingsworth family." So say we of Hollingsworth Register. (Partially quoted from The Birmingham News, Sat. Nov. 22, 1969 p. 14, by kindness of Mrs. Smith, Birmingham.)

LET'S EAT SOME CROW!

Well, then, readers, Frederick Hollingsworth did not serve in the Ballaghkeen Yeomanry Infantry. This won't mean much to you unless you have followed our Wexford Hollingsworths and eagerly pried open the pages of each new issue of HR to learn "what news there are". It isn't news to us. Frankly, we suppressed it until now, as our pride was touched. We hoped to recoup by finding some better news to publish alongside of this drawback, but it wasn't forthcoming. Now we put on our napkin, sit at table, and plunge the fork into the breast of that black bird we promised to eat when a'er we made such a mistake. Have at it!

Our Article in HR Vol. 2, p. 69, "A Legend Comes True!" proudly announced that the searcher in London (Mrs. B. I. Pugh) had located Thomas, Samuel and Frederick Hollinsworth (sic) serving in the Ballaghkeen Yeomanry in the years 1823-1825, under Capt. Robert Doyne. The records, in the Record Office, Chancery Lane, London, are Class W.O. (for War Office Records) 13, Bundles 4150, 4151. The Irish Yeomanry was a part-time militia which was raised among the Gentry (who were always officers) and the farmers (usually Protestants and they were always the non-commissioned officers and soldiers) which drilled four times a year. The Yeomanry was created by Act of Parliament in 1796, and discontinued in 1834.

Even with the black bird's tough wing still in our teeth, we will advise that, by our own orders, our searcher carried on and searched up until the end of the musters, which revealed to us the fact that the Frederick Hollinsworth of this unit went on serving and was last recorded to report for drill practice on March Quarter, 1831 - nearly two years after our own beloved ancestor sailed away on the William. In March, 1831, our man was in Cincinnati, buying and selling land!

In our article before, we expressed amazement that Frederick did not serve in a cavalry unit, because his grandson Jack Hollingsworth saw him wearing his old uniform, blue with a blue cloak lined red (exactly the uniform the Yeomanry wore - which still gives hope, for a nine-year-old boy couldn't have hit that mark in accidental fantasies!) and riding furiously up the farm road to show off to Jack. (He died in 1869, and we wonder if this riding contributed to his demise?) Now the gate is thrown wide, awaiting our furious ride-out, in search of our Frederick again. Surely he did serve, and probably it was in a cavalry unit - perhaps the Camolin Cavalry, in which his father's brother Nicholas had served in the time of the 1798 Rebellion. The "other Frederick" who served in the Ballaghkeen Infantry must be the same Frederick Hollingsworth buried at Ballvaneew in 1834, aged 36; we knew of him, and we are aware of no other. He was probably a son of the above mentioned Nicholas, and brother of the Thomas serving with him. The March Quarter, 1832, shows Thomas and Samuel Hollingsworth reporting, but no Frederick. Dish up that crow, boys.

North Carolina Marriage Bonds & Records - Part One

This will be a somewhat extensive series. The Genealogical Society, Salt Lake City, Utah, U.S.A., maintains a typescript collection of these records, and they have a copy also on microfilm. The editor extracted every Hollin(g)sworth entry. The W.P.A. workers, during the 1930 period, went to the series, housed in the archives of the North Carolina Historical Commission, and typed out their extracts, in alphabetical order by surname, and then by given names always of the groom. An index to brides followed. In this series we have followed the procedure of the Public Record Office of Ireland, in cross indexing the brides with the grooms, a much more satisfactory procedure. Omissions we pick up will appear from time to time. Some of the counties' records had already been published in book form.

End of Cumberland County list. No entries of our surname found in the lists of the counties of Ashe, Bertie, Brunswick, Buncombe, Burke, Cabarrus, Carteret, Caswell, Chatham, Chowan, Craven, although it must be emphasized that many of these courthouses suffered losses of their records by several means.

NICHOLAS HOLLINGSWORTH OF BALLYCANEW, FARMER

Nicholas Hollingsworth is believed, without exact proof, to be the fourth son of John and Elizabeth Hollinsworth (sic) of Ballinakill, Ballycanew Parish, Co. Wexford, Ireland, born about 1761 at Ballinakill, died on the townland of Ballycanew on his farm, 18 January 1826, aged 64 years, buried in old Ballycanew Churchyard, 20 Jan. 1826. No date of death was found; we are subtracting two days from the date of burial in Ballycanew Register, as this was the usual delay. No marker.

He married, before 1779 (which calls into question the age given in the burial entry) MARY, maiden surname unknown. She was born about 1762; buried 26 Oct. 1835, in Ballycanew Churchyard, age given in burial record as "73 years". Her maiden surname hasn't been found. Canadian descendants claim it was "Rathwell" (or Rothwell), and this editor feels it may be either that, or Jones, or Tackaberry. None of these names, or any other, can be proved. Later generations, in the Canadian branches of his descendants, claim Nicholas ought to read "Henry" and his wife's name, simply "Miss Rathwell". (See Vol. 1, pp. 174-176.)

Nicholas Hollinsworth is first named in the deed of lease taken on Ballinakill & Monroe, by his father, in 1782.* We published this on page 87 of Volume 4, and again on p. 123 of this volume. At that date (30 Sept. 1782) Nicholas had a son John, then aged about four years. We assume this child was Nick's eldest. Also assuming Mary was his only wife, it would imply that their family was born over a period of about 25 years - from 1778-9 through 1804. Our list of his children, like those for his brothers, suffers by reason that Ballycanew Parish Registers up to the time of the 1798 Rebellion perished. There are possibilities therefore, of many other children, possibly many of them succumbing to infant mortality, so-called, before the beginning of the present registers. There is nothing we can do about such a tragic loss of evidence. It seems foolish to try and place all the "loose Hollingsworths" around, but some start ought to be made to get them placed, as long as evidence permits. Luckily, we can place six of the children as based on clues from other sources. *See Page 170.

Nicholas was possessor of a lease on a 53 acre farm on the townland of Ballycanew. This townland lies in about the north-east part of the Civil Parish of the same name. The village of Ballycanew is seated upon the south-eastern edge of the townland. (See map, Vol. 1, p. 118-B.) The farm was the largest singly leased piece of ground in the townland. The lease was unfortunately never registered at Dublin. The editor has made a purchase of microfilm of literally hundreds of documents of the Anglesey estate papers, which include the landlord's counterparts of the many leases issued to tenants. We still are waiting for a portion containing about two hundred more of these leases. We found no lease to Nicholas Hollinsworth in the part already received. But the Incumbered Estates Court Rentals (see further, p. 161) provided us with some strong clues.

In the 1833 Tithe Applotment Books, Parish of Ballycanew (Vol. 2 p. 36) "Mrs. Hollingsworth" was assessed for 53 acres, 3 roods and 7 perches of 2nd quality land, valued annually at £58:19:4d. Her spinster daughter Harriet Hollingsworth was assessed for a house and garden in the village, 12 perches, at 3/9. (This girl married after her mother died. See further. See also Vol. 2 p. 73 No. 103.) By luck, (but not for the landlords) Ballycanew and Neville's Court had to be sold in 1857 for debts. In the sale, the rental was published by the Incumbered Estates Court. Again, the largest single tenant on this townland held 54 acres, 2 roods and 17 perches at a yearly rent of £88:17:6d. The tenant was William Maguire, who held his property by lease dated 10 August 1844 from Andrew Thunder (successor to Lord Mountnorris) for the life of THOMAS HOLLINGSWORTH, then aged 40 years, "still living" as stated in the auction announcement of April, 1857. This is a healthy clue. It seems as if it is a second renewal on the property originally let to Nick Hollingsworth, and his son Thomas is still one of the lives named - now the only one in being. However, the day of the 3-lives lease was nearly over in 1844. Leases for one life were more common. The usage of Tom Hollinsworth's life was, none-the-less, significant. Two other recitals in the Incumbered Estates book use Thomas as a life, (see further) and confirm that he was born about 1804, and was certainly the same child baptized at Ballycanew that year, son of Nicholas and Mary of Ballycanew.

When the danger of rebellion arose in Ireland, the entire establishment was in fear of a repetition of 1776, or, worse, of the French Revolution with its depraved, bloodthirsty way of providing "liberty, equality and fraternity". The Militia and the British Regular Army existed, but still, the fear of a general rising among the Irish required something more. The "Yeomanry" - a militia of yeomen farmers - was the answer. This began in operation in 1796. The Earl of Mountnorris (he preferred to be called Mount Norris) became the Commander of a number of these bodies. He was the landlord of the Hollingsworths, the same man formerly known as Arthur Lord Viscount Valentia, which was another of his several titles. The Mount Norris Rangers and the Camolin Cavalry were two of his yeoman organizations. (For a biographical look at his life, see The War in Wexford (1910) by Wheeler & Broadley.) Camolin Park was his County Wexford Seat. Nicholas Hollingsworth was one of the privates in his Camolin Cavalry, along with Benjamin Tackaberry and John Tackaberry. By command of General Taylor, conveyed by Mount Norris on 1 May 1799, the above three were, along with one John Lee, dismissed from the Camolin Cavalry for Neglect of Duty. (Page 290, The War in Wexford, from the now lost Mount Norris correspondence.) Due to the total loss in 1922, of the Yeomanry Musters up to 1819, the above negative record has to serve to prove the service (with its abrupt termination) of our subject. It seems very reasonable to assume, could we see the muster rolls, that Nicholas' brothers, Samuel (ancestor of the editor), & William, would have their names recorded there.

Of course, it is not possible for us now to re-try the case and see if Nicholas had any pressing reasons why he neglected his duty. Failure to report for Drill Practice may have been the sum of the offence. Perhaps the gruelling problems rising out of the terrible nightmare which had scarcely ceased to rage through the countryside, prevented him from leaving the farm. He put in a claim for compensation of his losses at Ballycanew, in the amount of £142.7.8d. for profit of cows, and loss of crops. The 3 page file perished, but the above comes from the Index prepared by the Commissioners in the early Nineteenth Century. It was filed by him on 14 Nov. 1798. Ballycanew village was captured by the rebels, Nick's farm joined the village. You can imagine the situation which prevailed.

Nothing is left to tell, except to present the list of supposed, and known, children.

Issue of Nicholas & Mary Hollingsworth:

1. John, born c1779; alive 30 Sept. 1782. Perhaps same man buried at Ballycanew 25 Nov. 1802, "aged 20 years". (See p.68)
- ? 2. Alice, theoretically connected. Married, 6 Oct. 1803, at Ballycanew, John EARL, Killincoolv Parish, Co Wexford. No other information.
- ? 3. Martha, ditto. Married (licence bond only) 1803, Thomas JOHNSTON. No other information.
4. Anne, born c1795-6; died between 1861-1871. M. William WARREN, went to Canada. See below. Issue: 4 children.

- ? 5. Frederick, born cl797-98; buried 23 June 1834 in Ballycanew churchyard, aged 36 years. Probably not married. Believed to be same who served, 1821-1831, in Ballaghkeen Yeomanry Infantry, under Capt. Robert Doyne.
6. Harriett, bapt. 2 Nov. 1799, Ballycanew Church. (Proved.) Lived in Ballycanew Village in 1833. Believed to be same who married, 9 March 1836, or 4 months after her mother died, at Ballycanew Church, THOMAS EARL. No other information.
7. Samuel, bapt. 21 Dec. 1801, Ballycanew. Believed to be the same who went to Canada in 1817; died at Prescott, Grenville Co., Ontario, 1833, aged 32. Married MARY --- Issue: Samuel, John. (For known details see the article on Samuel Hollingsworth of Prescott; in History of Prescott, 1968, by Henry A. Hollingsworth - for which the publishers gave us no credit. Also see Vol. 3 of HR, page 77.)
8. Thomas, bapt. 18 May 1804, Ballycanew; died 7 Feb. 1858, near Farmersville, Leeds Co., Ontario, aged 54. Married Alice Robinson. See below.

We give the following details about two of the above children:

4. Anne Hollingsworth, born about 1795/6, Ballycanew; died after 1861, in Escott Township, Leeds County, Ontario, aged over 65. She married, 15 January 1817, at Ballycanew, WILLIAM WARREN, a farmer & schoolteacher, also of Ballycanew. He was born about 1787, and died after 1871, at Escott, Ontario, aged over 74. Place of burial not known.

The Warrens emigrated to Canada about 1835. They owned 80 acres on Lot 18 of Concession 4, their house being of log (still standing in 1871) of one story. By family tradition, the descendants of Thomas claim that Anne Warren was Thomas' sister. The Warren name appears to be very numerous in Ballycanew registers. Jack Warren, of Clonhenritt, near Camolin, Co Wexford, sent the editor many entries as well as the baptisms of the four children below. Another Jack Warren was married to Elizabeth "Lily" Johnston, daughter of Henry and Eliza (Hollingsworth) Johnston, of the editor's family.

Issue of William and Ann (Hollingsworth) Warren:

1. Benjamin Warren, baptized 1822; Ballycanew. Alive in Escott, Leeds Co., Canada, 1851. (HR Vol. 1, p. 190)
2. William T. Warren, baptized 1825, do. Married Frances Rathwell, in Leeds Co., Canada. Son John Thomas Warren, born March 26, 1869, had automobile business in Belleville, Ont. (See The Province of Ontario, Volume 5, pp. 724, 725 (1927).)
3. Mary Ann Warren, bapt. 1828, do. Alive 1851, as above.
4. John Thomas Warren, bapt. 1832, do. Alive 1861, (sixty-one) in Escott, Leeds Co., Canada, aged "24" farmer, single.
8. Thomas Hollingsworth, son of Nicholas & Mary, was baptized 18 May 1804 at Ballycanew, by Rev. Arthur Colley, Curate; died 7 Feb. 1858, in Yonge Township, Leeds Co., Canada, aged about 54. Buried in New Dublin Cemetery with a fine marble stone erected by his wife Alice. He was raised in Ballycanew, and became a shopkeeper, with a fine accommodation, selling wine and spiritous liquors. His landlord was Mr. Henry Furney, Esq. whose own daughter was the wife of a Hollingsworth.

In the so-called "House Books" for Ballycanew Village, Book One, or "The Old Book" dated May 1, 1846, he held a house and spirit shop 34 feet long with return 15.6 feet long, breadth 18.6 feet, return 16 feet in breadth; height 14 feet, in 1-A Quality for assessment purposes, with a stable, car house, and pig house in the garden. The Valuation was figured at £9:10:6d. In the column headed "Observations", the following remarks were written: "a very good situation. Built all, has a lease from (Henry) Furney to whom he pays £7. a year including a small Garden worth about 10/-." In a later book the same dimensions were given, with estimate of £6:19:6d. The date of the newer book isn't shown, but that one for the Parish outside the Village is dated August 1852. It is probable that the "Town Book" is of somewhat earlier date. Thomas Hollingsworth left for Canada before 1850 and was there as shown by the 1851 Census. (HR Vol. 3, p. 81.) (House Books, Ref. PRO, Dublin, C.L. 5.2229.)

In 1827 (licence only, church marriage record not found; not recorded in Ballycanew Registers) he married ALICE ROBINSON, parentage and parish of birth not discovered. She was born about 1801 (1851 Census: aged 50) in Co. Wexford, and died 16 July 1880, at Yonge Front, Leeds County, Ontario, aged about 80 years; buried in New Dublin Cemetery beside her husband. The Memorial Stones in the cemetery differ a bit from the census:

"Thomas Hollingsworth (sic) Died Feb. 7, 1858, Aged 54 years. Erected by his wife Alley."

"Alice, wife of Thomas Hollingsworth, Died July 16, 1880, Aged 84 years. Erected by her son Nicholas."

(Courtesy James Easton Godkin, Ottawa, Ontario, by letter 3 July 1967.)

We feel that the first stone is more likely correct, for it was written by Alice, his wife, possibly using a family bible. The second by the son, after the demise of his mother, is not as likely to be correct. Records published in HR Vol. 1, p. 174 give present day family records which are off by one day in the death dates of each of these people- Thomas "8 Feb" and Alice "17 July" and we think they are the burial dates of each of them.

Shortly after arrival in Canada, Thomas lived on Lot 19 of Concession 5, with a 100 acre tract and what appears to have been a good prosperous farm. Family tradition indicates they left Ireland because of a financial ruin. The above land was in Front of Kitley, Leeds County. Not long afterward they settled in Front of Yonge, on Lot 20 of Concession (we call this a "Township or Range" in U.S.) 10, 200 acres, cash value $2,400. which is also a good farm, as shown in the 1861 Census. (HR Vol. 1, p. 191.)

It is to be regretted that "family feelings" about Thomas having maintained a spirit shop might have caused the suppression of all of the family history in Ireland! (Intolerable snobbery?) "The lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine" was turned into "The man who sold whiskey is no grandfather of mine." One lady member of the clan, who collected much material, seems to have incinerated it all, rather than let "the cat out of the bag".

Thomas Hollingsworth left a will which we already have published in HR Vol. 4 p. 122. He divided his 200 acre farm between his wife and son Nicholas. It was written in January, 1858.

It is the opinion of the editor, call it a 'hunch', in which no member of the family concurs, that Thomas and his family left Ireland in the Autumn of 1849, and probably sailed away on a ship along with William Hollingsworth of Ballinakill, and family (brother of Frederick, our ancestor), and also with George Kidd, his wife Martha (nee Hollingsworth) from Carnew, Co. Wexford, and Edward Thomas Hollingsworth of Ballinakill, a nephew of said Frederick & William. All of these people did leave Ireland about that time, and all were in the places of destination in 1850 and 1851. George Kidd definitely did leave for financial reasons, going first into Canada, then into the state of Ohio, accompanied by his nephew Edward Hollingsworth.

The Primary Valuations, 1853, for Ballycanew Village (published here) give no record of the wine or spirit shop, or the name of Thomas Hollingsworth.

Issue of Thomas & Alice (Robinson) Hollingsworth, as shown by Parish Registers of Ballvcanew (B) and Gorey (G):

1. Nicholas (1) bapt. 22 Dec. 1827 (B) Died young.
2. Henry Samuel, bapt. 20 July 1829 (B) Ditto.
3. William (1) bapt. 1830, (G) Bur. 6 Feb. 1840 (B) aged 9.
4. John, bapt. 13 Feb. 1833 (B) Died young.
5. Nicholas James (2) bapt. 10 May 1835 (B) - Died in Canada.
Married (1) Jane Bernev: (2) Mary Hollingsworth.
6. Samuel, born March, 1837 - no baptism recorded (apparently).
Died in Canada. Married Hannah E. Yates.
7. Thomas, bapt. 14 April 1839. (B) Died young.
8. William (2) bapt. 28 Feb. 1841: Died young. (B)
9. Frederick James, bapt. 26 Dec. 1843 (B) Died in a railroad-car fire. Married Margaret Hyde, step-daughter to Daniel Hollingsworth, half sister of Mary, wife of Nicholas above, and daughter of (?) Hyde by his wife Anne E. Manning.
10. Edward, bapt. 28 Sept. 1845 (B) supposed to have come to Canada and died upon arrival.

One of the above children was said to have left the boat at Montreal and disappeared forever! The Montreal Death records and burial records were recently checked but no record found of any of the above.

N. begotten on the body of the said MARY if any such there be without the Consent of said WILLIAM McCULLAGH and HENRY HOLLINSWORTH, said JOHN NEWELL'S late Guardian or Manager.... Wits. PATRICK O DUNEY, Bawne, Co Downe, former and ALEXANDER CLUGSTON, Bawne, do, Miller. Memorial executed by JOHN NEWELL, with said ALEXANDER CLUGSTON, and JOHN HAMILTON, Dublin, as witnesses. Registered 18 June 1733 at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

COMMENTS: Now we know plenty. These lands were originally part of the Manor of Rathfryland, granted by the Crown to William Hawkins, London, Merchant, one of the Adventurers in Cromwell's time. His son sold same to JOHN NEWELL, Gent., (died 1693) but came into dispute. John Newell Sr., in his will - incompletely abstracted by Betham as shown above - left same to his wife or widow, Elizabeth, and after her decease, to his younger son JOHN. His eldest son MATHEW NEWELL died without issue. Henry Hollinsworth, Kinkill (King Hill) in 1696, was preparing to take the minor John Newell Jr., with him into other parts which evidently meant Teemore, Mullabrack, Co Armagh, where he remained until 1710, at which time he seems to have come of age. See the deeds published in Volume 1, H.R. page 59. Hollingsworth was legal Guardian and manager of the estate of John Newell, Jr. An educated man, no doubt. Where did he come from and was he related to Valentine Hollingsworth? Was this Henry also the ancestor of the Wexford Hollingsworths? In another deed, Elizabeth is "sister of Capt. Norris".

Pleasant Comment

"The tenants are all most comfortable and respectable, having in many instances expended considerable sums in improvements, thereby creating substantial interests in their holdings. The rents are paid with rare punctuality, and the farms are laid down in pasture and tillage, and cultivated in the best manner." (From "Remarks" published in the brochure or Rental of the lands of Ballycanew & Neville's Court, Co. Wexford, 1857.)

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

- (1) From the Land Commission, Upper Merrion St., Dublin 2, Ireland.
18 Sept. 1969. Re: Records Branch; Estate of Ellen O'Farrell,
Co. Wexford, Rec No. L.C. 475.

Dear Sir: With reference to your letter of the 10th Sept. 1969, I am to inform you that in the Agreement between Ellen O'Farrell (Landlord) and John Hollingsworth (Tenant) dated 23 Nov. 1889 for the sale of the holding at Ballinakill, 46a. 1r. 19p., Monroe 12a, 2r. 20p. Tomagaddy 17a. 3r. 35p. the lands are stated to have been held under a lease dated 10th Aug. 1839 "for 31 years or lives" from Andrew Thunder to John Hollingsworth. This Lease included Abraham Hollingsworth's holding referred to in Land Commission letter of the 18th July 1969 addressed to you.

In an Agreement dated 14 May 1891 between Ellen O'Farrell (Landlord) and Stephen Sinnott (Tenant) the lands of Ballinakill 49a, 3r. 6p. and Monroe 37a. 2r. 34p. are stated to have been held under a year-to-year tenancy.

Yours faithfully, T. J. M. O'Sullivan, Keeper of Records.

Comment: It was hoped that the recital on Mr. Sinnott's land might trace the history of the leases. This property changed hands (similar to the changes cited in next letter) in about 1850 from William Hollingsworth to Edward Sinnott, who was Stephen's predecessor.

If you should require extracts showing all changes the estimated fee would be in the region of 10 dollars, but if only in the initial change after the Primary Valuation the approximate fee payable would be 5 Dollars.

M. G. Murphy, Registrar.

NOTE: Pollaphuca is in the Parish of Castlemacadam (also called Avoca) in south Co. Wicklow. William Hollingsworth, farming there now, is son of John and Maria (Hollingsworth) Hollingsworth. The William who farmed there in the 1840s was his great-grandfather. The farm lies near "The Vail of Avoca" and not far from "The Meetings of the Waters", Two of the most beautifully scenic places in all Ireland.

Mr. Thomas E. Tyrrell's letter:

23-May-1969
2 Chapel Terrace
Trevescoe, Cornwall.

Dear Mr. Hollingsworth:

Received your letter yesterday and I am glad I was some little help in the information I gave you. You are correct Mary Hollingsworth's Husband was John Tyrrell. I must have put Thomas in error. The children were John, Thomas, Edward, Michael, sons, and one daughter Annie that was my mother. I was born in Meadows Lane, Arklow, Co. Wicklow. We had a large family Bible that had a lot of records of Births, Marriages & Deaths. It was a thatched cottage with the roof thatched with Straw and the house caught fire during one night and Mother got us all out safe but the House was burned to the ground and nothing was saved. She lost all her effects including the Family Bible. I am sorry I don't know the name of John Hollingsworth's father, brothers or sisters. My father was drowned at Sea in 1920 after being in service in the Royal Navy in the first world war and Mother died later with cancer. When I started going to sea in foreign ships she used to say 'You may come across some of your Relations'. I know as a boy she told me of having a letter at Christmas time from some of her first cousins. She reckoned there were 36, some in Canada, some in Kentucky and California. I remember coming home after been on a voyage to Seattle & San Francisco and she was real excited asking me if I had met any of the Hollingsworths. There was one name of someone of the name of Spotswood (See below-Ed.) who used to write very often and she said later they must be dead as the letters stopped. I knew a Willie Hollingsworth, in Garston, Liverpool, who was from Wicklow and he always claimed kinship to me, but he is dead now also. William of Poulaphuca in Castle McCadam, well, there is a William there at the moment. (See page 165.) He is a nephew of Nicholas who died last year in Hollyfort, his mother was a sister of Nicholas and she married John Hollingsworth of Poulaphuca. They were first cousins so that may give you a clue there.* My Grandmother Mary Hollingsworth also reared a niece of hers, one of her Brother's children, which, I don't know but she was an orphan and was brought up with my Mother. She married in Dublin later, a man named Henderson. He was a shoemaker and lived in the Summerhill District of Dublin. There were also Hollingsworths in Greystones, Co. Wicklow, who were relatives of Mother. There was John who was a Master Mariner, James who was a Seaman & Janie who married a man named Evans, who was a Building Contractor. John had a small vessell carrying coal from Liverpool to Greystones but they are all dead now. I am only giving you what I know from memory, and as you get older your memory is not so good as it used to be. The eldest son John, of John Tyrrell was Chief Officer of a Sailing Ship called the "Grand Duke". We had a painting of the ship in our home and a life size photo of Uncle John in officer's uniform. They were lost in the fire I have told you about. I spent summer holidays in Poulaphuca as a boy. The old lady we called her Grandma, was Dora Hollingsworth. She had 3 sons, Willie, John and Edward. These are all dead. John married Minnie (Hollingsworth) from Hollyfort. Minnie is still alive, and as I have told you her son Willie is living at Poulaphuca at the moment. Daughters were Dora, Bessie, Ellen & Cessie (?) Dora was never married. Ellen married a man named Tom Williams of Kilmacoo, Avoca, Co Wicklow. They are both dead. Bessie married a man named Sloan in Bray and they are also dead. Cissie married a carpenter named Isaac Newman and had a Guest House at the Meetings of the Waters, Avoca. They are also dead. My daughter in Arklow sends me the local paper every week and only she had the column with your letter marked, I might have missed it, so I do hope you will be able to complete your family tree and wishing you every success.

Yours Sincerely,

(Signed) Thomas Edward Tyrrell.

*They weren't first, but second cousins: John's father & mother were Edward and Dora "Grandma" (Tuke) Hollingsworth; Minnie's parents were Edward and Maria (Lawrence) Hollingsworth. These two Edward's were first cousins, their parentage: Edward (wife Dora): William & Eliza (Hempenstall) Hollingsworth; Edward (wife Maria): Nicholas and Margaret (Hempenstall) Hollingsworth. The Hempenstall girls were cousins too, but how close we don't know. See Volume One of HR, pages 10-15 for the old church records. The same first issue on page 48 will fill you in on the "Spottiswoode" Fortune. If it is myth of fact, that is your guess, which is as good as ours. Mrs. Henderson and Minnie Hollingsworth are two of the editor's sources for the details. Note in above letter, both of them were well acquainted with Annie (Byrne) Tyrrell, mother of our correspondent. More mystery! Mr. Thomas E. Tyrrell's ascending pedigree seems to be: Thomas Tyrrell, Annie (Byrne) Tyrrell, Mary (Hollingsworth) Tyrrell, John Hollingsworth (1779-1864) "of Rock Big, formerly of Cronelusk", son of "Daniel Hollingsworth" a sailor. (?) This Dan is said to have come from England!

"A small piece of research for the Rural Dean ...
...A giant piece of information for Mr. Hollingsworth."

A miserable paraphrase of Mr. Armstrong's momentous moonstep announcement, I admit, but we had to find a suitable title to this last minute piece of information! Rev. Canon Henry V. Boake, Rector of Kilcommon (alias Tinahely) near Arklow, Co Wicklow, Ireland, at my request, visited Ballycanew Parish - stronghold of the Hollin(g)sworths since at least 1746 - to see what he might find in the old Registers and Vestry Minute Books, and Sunday School Records, Confirmations, if such be there. The last two "such" were not there, but he managed to find what the two rectors have not been able to find in the nine years (since Sept. 1961) I have been repeatedly hounding them. He found the so-called "missing old register" which goes, according to Dean Boake, from 1720 through 1744. What a grand discovery. But, pray tell, after I had sent repeated appeals to the rectors, and not to mention money, money and more money, asking if they might look for it, and their repeated replies were always "lost", "can't be found", why was it just sitting there, waiting for the arrival of the good Dean? Oh, my readers - we have a lot to learn about the Clergy - even those of us claiming to be Christians! ("Beware of those who come to you in sheep's clothing...") I also find that I had paid good American cash in advance, to the Rector, to examine the Vestry Minutes. His reply was "found nothing", but Dean Boake found Nicholas Hollingsworth signing the Vestry Sessions in 1786 and 1807, and John Hollingsworth in 1760 and 1765 (they begin in 1760) and John and Samuel together about 1821! I got this information free. Why didn't the Rector, paid in advance in 1969, find these? Did he take my money and forget to do the work? I am too angry to put my answer to this on a stencil! You guess! He found the following allied names in the oldest book, 1720-1744:

Baptized 1727 Daughter to John Tackaberry.
" 1737 Mary, Daughter to William Earle.
" 1739 Thomas, Son to Nicholas Tackaberry.

"No Hollingsworths" he remarks. To me, this is a great step. It almost proves, on the negative side, that my Hollingsworths were not in the parish. As you know, John Hollingsworth got his first lease for Ballynakil in 1746, property which, up to 1745, was in the occupation of Nicholas Tackaberry - no doubt the same man above, son of John.

The lease alone did not nullify the old tradition that the family was at Ballinakill (or Ballynakil) from 1665. The absence of any entries "1720-1744" (calendar says registers show entries 1727-29; 1733-1744) together with the list, 1742, of the chief tenants of Lord Anglesey in a Chancery suit, all of them, which also shows no Hollingsworth (though Nicholas and John Tackaberry are listed) seems to prove conclusively that John Hollingsworth was not there! He married Elizabeth before 1740, and had his son Thomas that year, and probably his oldest daughter Eleanor before 1744 (she married in 1762). Did he come from Arklow, Co Wicklow? Northern Ireland? England? Research, Research, Research! We pile up heaps and heaps of worthless slag, in a furious attempt to find just a small nugget of genuine value!

F R E D E R I C   A T T W O O D

Power Expert, Frederic Attwood, New Canaan, Connecticut, died on August 26, 1969, at the age of eighty-six. He was known worldwide in the electric power transmission field. Beginning his career before the First World War, his life was full of activity. He was born April 23, 1883, in East Haddam, Conn, son of Frederic & Margaret (MacConnell) Attwood, and attended Columbia University where he studied mechanical and electrical engineering.

He worked first with the New York Telephone Co., and during the years 1915 to 1917, was European representative of Air Reduction Co., Inc. In the war he was a lieutenant colonel of engineers in the Gas Service, A.E.F. and served on the Commission to negotiate Peace, and the U.S. Liquidation Commission. Like his father-in-law, William T. P. Hollingsworth, Mr. Attwood was made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor of France, in 1939, in recognition of his services in wartime and as vice president of CIGRE.

Other facets of his career included the position of general European representative of Ohio Brass Company, in Paris, from 1920 to 1927, after which he assumed the vice presidency and a directorship of the company, until retirement in 1954. He wrote a children's book, "Wavache, The Cow Who Fainted Pictures," and also was a director of the Melville Shoe Corporation from 1941 to 1965. He was delegate to the International Electrotechnical Commission, and a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers. He was a Republican.

He leaves his widow, the former Gladys Hollingsworth, whom he married Oct. 27, 1917; a son, William Hollingsworth Attwood, Editor-in-Chief of Cowles Communications, publishers of Look Magazine, and former U.S. Ambassador to Kenya, East Africa, and three grandchildren, Peter, Janet and Susan Attwood.

In many letters to your editor, over the past several years, Frederic Attwood provided Hollingsworth Register with much priceless information about the family of Rev. John Hunter Hollingsworth, Sr., (1795-1858) and his descendants, which we know could not have been obtained elsewhere. (New York Times, Aug. 28, 1969, P. 39, Col. 1.)

The end of such a life as his could only be untimely.

A N N O U N C E M E N T

Hollingsworth Register Back Issues, before current year then in progress, will cost Two Dollars ($2.00) (One Pound in England or Ireland) for each issue. These numbers are increasingly difficult to reprint for two reasons - the editor just hasn't the time (it consumes hours) to handle the reprinting; and the stencils do not print quite as clearly and this increases the job of watchful care while rolling the mimeograph drum. This journal has never been a paying proposition, and, of course, wasn't expected to be. The paid subscribers have steadily decreased in number since 1965, but if they suddenly increased to more than one hundred, that would place a very great burden upon us, making things all the more difficult. The size of our output may be lessened by reducing the number of leaves in each issue. This will reduce the postage costs, as well as paper and stencils, and, wonder of wonders, time cranking that mimeograph!

If you are the kind of Hollin(gs)worth who wants a slick, fully illustrated, conventionally printed magazine (as some may have been who dropped out the first year) please forget genealogy. If you are like our faithful subscribers all these years, you'll appreciate that we are publishing here, records of priceless historical value, mostly drawn from hitherto unpublished sources. An English or Irish paid researcher would charge anywhere from (the equivalent of) Three Dollars per hour and up, and a person of equal or less ability in New York or Washington, D.C. might charge from Seven Dollars and up, if they could be engaged! The editor, who now rightfully considers himself an expert on this family, has not charged for his services, the subscriptions covering only the material costs and postage. See you (with God Almighty's permission, we hope) in 1970.
