MEANING OF THE NAME

The surname Hollingsworth is derived from a place in northeast Cheshire, of the same name, supposedly the place called "Holisurde" in the Domesday Book for Cheshire, and pronounced "Hollis-worth," but probably intended to be "Hollinworth." It is in the Parish of Mottram-in-Longdendale, a few miles south of Manchester. It is possible that several separate families using this place as a surname came into existence at an early day. There are also two other places with this name in Lancashire north of Manchester. The Cheshire place was barren, and called waste at the time of Domesday (1086) and it was not until about the time of Magna Carta (1215) that we find any person using the name as a personal family name. This was "Tomas De Holinewurth" (here the name is transliterated into Latin) who was a signatory on a charter of about that period. The two Anglo-Saxon words, Holegn (or Holyn), a Holly bush, and Worp (or Worde) meaning an enclosure, or farmstead, are said to be the origin of the name for this place now called Hollingsworth in Cheshire, or, "A farm (homestead) enclosed by holly bushes," or simply "Holly Farm." In later centuries a medial "s" came to be used by some of the families, but not as a general rule earlier than 1620. There are now five generally used forms: Hollingsworth, Hollinsworth, Hollingworth, Hollinworth and Hollandsworth. These are regularly found in the indexes to vital records from 1837 at St. Catherine's House, London, and in most telephone or city directories for large cities in England and America.

INTENT OF THIS QUARTERLY

Hollingsworth Register is now entering its eleventh year of publication. It started in April, 1965, and its purpose remains as it was at that time: To publish verbatim copies or abstracts of records of the family world wide from the earliest times to the present day. Nearly every name of our family from the U.S. Census, 1790 through 1860, has been published here. About 1,700,000 pages of census were scoured to produce that result. We think no other family has thus been served.

EDITORIAL

First, back issues. They are mighty scarce these days, and we have had a number of requests for them. As you know, we hope, all back issues of Hollingsworth Register beyond current year, are $2.50 each. We now have a huge list of numbers, forty, falling into the back issue category, and less time in which to reprint them. It takes several hours to reprint one issue, even if we run only a dozen copies. Then it has to be collated, covered, stapled. All this while doing constant professional genealogical research day and night, 12 to 15 hours a day or traveling on the bus to and from the libraries! New issues have to be gotten up and printed in huge lots of 80 to 90, consuming as many as eight hours in just printing them. (It takes three weeks to type and correct stencils; and God only knows how long to gather new material from film.) Be patient. In some cases we have to refund the money if sent, with no time to reprint in a short notice. Be even more patient. If you really want - desperately need - a particular issue, the editor might xerox it for you and send the copy looseleaf, for ten cents a page, and postage. The oldest numbers covered fifty pages, from 1966 at least 44, and lately only 32, now 30. Keep this in mind if you want one that way. There will also be a charge of one dollar for handling.

Second, remittances. Please make your cheques or money orders payable to Harry Hollingsworth, not to Hollingsworth Register.

ADDISON HOLLINGSWORTH

Addison Hollingsworth, farmer and stock-raiser, section 15, Union Township, is a native of Tippecanoe County, Indiana, born in Wayne (now Union) Township, February 9, 1837, a son of William and Mary (Cook) Hollingsworth, pioneers of Tippecanoe County. He was reared a farmer, but received good educational advantages, completing his education at Farmer's Institute. He remained with his parents until his majority, and October 11, 1858, was married to Harriet O'Neal, a native of Tippecanoe County, a daughter of Henry and Eliza (Gladden) O'Neal, at that time living at Avoca, Livingston County, Illinois, and now residents of Stockwell. After his marriage he lived on the old homestead three and a half years, and then bought the farm where he now lives which contains 200 acres of well improved land, the result of thrift and good management. Mr. and Mrs. Hollingsworth have four children — Annie E. wife of William Baugh; Mary K., Thomas A. and William A. They are members of the Society of Friends, and in his political affiliations Mr. Hollingsworth is a Republican. (Biographical Record & Portrait Album of Tippecanoe County, Indiana, (1888) Lewis Publishing Company, p. 703.) Note by editor: "Addison" is a name found among the descendants of Valentine Hollingsworth. Isaac, (1780-1866) of Mississippi, had a son of this name. What is its significance?

Cornish, Anyone?

The supposed relationship of Valentine Hollingsworth, Sr., to the family of Cornish has been exploited here and been found wrong insofar as the assertion that he married Catherine, daughter of Henry Cornish,

High Sheriff of London, goes. But there must have been a connection somewhere. The descendants of Henry, Valentine's son, had the story as early as 1824. (See HR 6:83.) A minute from a Chester County Court dated about 1703/4 is a license for "The Widow Cornish, now dwelling in Henry Hollingsworth's house" to keep an Ordinary, or Public House. This Henry is the son of Valentine. Now, here are a couple more enlightening discoveries:

(1) Book B of wills, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, filmed by the Genealogical Society of Utah (serial number 021721), page numbers obliterated, Instrument Number 121 is the last will of one James Cornish. He names his wife Mary his executrix, and his children, eldest son Thomas, and sons Ebenezar and James, and daughter Lydia. The will is dated 5 October 1703, and witnessed by Jasper Yeates, Isaac Taylor and Henry Hollingsworth. Proved Chester Dec. 1, 1703.

(2) Number 139. Last will of James Mills, Chester County, City of Chester, dated Sept. 1, 1704. He mentions an infant son, "own son" James Mills, and "my wife's 2 children Eben and Lydia Cornish." He names Henry Hollingsworth and Paul Saunders Executors. He also names wife's son Thomas Cornish and her daughter Lydia Cornish, giving them rings with their names and a silver cup with Lydia's initials on it. He says "I do not know what money my brother & sister-in-law may have received during their late court time that would call over their accounts and divide that money in like manner...I desire my Executors to care for my wives (sic) 2 children Eben and Lydia Cornish as soon as they shall have received the shares bequeathed them by me, to their Grandmother Ann Kay, now living att Boston in New England." The latter clause he repeats rather urgently after his signature, and adds "I desire my son James be raised in accordance with the Church of England." He states that Rev. Henry Nicholas, (a witness) had been a surety in the infant's baptism. Eben Kay and Mary Giegg or Gregg are the other signatories. He states that Eben Kay is his stepchildren's uncle, in Philadelphia. The will was proved Sept. 6, 1704.

This seems to indicate that Mary Cornish lost her husband, James, in 1703, applied to get a licence to operate a pub that winter, married Mills about the same time, died and left her children orphans, after which her 2nd husband, Mills, took sick and died, stipulating that his own tiny child be raised in the Church of England, and sent the Cornish minors to Boston to their mother's mother, Ann Kay. However, Mrs. Kay might be James Cornish's mother, remarried, and Eben Kay her stepson. The former supposition is the more likely.

Was Henry Hollingsworth related to James Cornish? Henry's wife was Lydia Atkinson. Cornish named a child Lydia.

Your editor recently found an entry in the Index to Wills, Diocese of Dromore, County Armagh, Ireland, for Stephen Atkinson, Ballinacor, County Armagh, Linendraper, proved in 1699. Also a lease at Volume 13, page 425, No. 6225 mentioning an earlier sale, 29 August 1676, by Francis Vivan to Stephen Adkinson (sic) of Ballono Curr (Ballinacor) in the Parish of Seago in the County of Ardmagh, Linnendraper, all his right etc. in property in Belfast, Co Antrim, and said Stephen Atkinson (sic) by indorsement assigned it to Oliver Lawrence his son in law. (Film 461,307 Salt Lake City.) So Henry Hollingsworth had a brother-in-law named Oliver Lawrence. The reason we publish these findings is that somebody may have other information which will help make a whole out of our half. Can the Cornish relationship be through the Atkinson family? Although three of his daughters were Quakers, there is no evidence that Stephen Atkinson was one. Henry Hollingsworth's self removal from the Society has been labored here (HR 9:75). See the history of the Atkinsons in our issue of Sept. 1974, p. 83 et seq. After his departure, Henry actively engaged in opposing the Quaker advancement. See the almost frantic desire of James Mills expressed in his will. Sending the young Cornish children to their grandmother Kay in Boston seems to parallel his determination to have his own son raised in the Established Church.

Henry's return to Ireland in 1688 was just in time to witness the troubles which led to the Battle of the Boyne and King James' defeat. He may have been present at the Siege of Derry, for Rev. John Campbell the Vicar of Seagoe Parish, took a company of Seagoe men there. Could Stephen Atkinson have been one of them? Or a son? (HR 6:131) Perhaps it was Isabel, Stephen's wife, who was a Cornish, related to the High Sheriff.

Eli Hollingsworth's Will

Same film as above, Volume A, page 262. Miami County, Ohio, Probate Court, October 27th 1854. Be it remembered ... the last will and testament of Eli Hollingsworth, late of Miami County, dec'd, was presented for probate in the Court by Rebecca Hollingsworth the Executrix therein named (and the oaths of the witnesses)...

The Last will and testament of Eli Hollingsworth of the County of Miami and State of Ohio. It is my will that after all my just debts are all paid that my property both real and personal be disposed of as follows. Item 1st It is my will that my beloved wife Rebeca have the full and entire use of the whole tract of land (together with all the improvements) upon which we now reside supposed to contain about two hundred and Six acres and lying in the County and State aforesaid during her natural life and also all the personal property belonging to me at the time of my death after all my debts are paid as above provided for.

Item 4th It is my will that the residue of my estate both real and personal that shall remain after the death of my s^d. wife shall be equally divided between my other children not named in the above bequests, to wit, Nathan, Thomas, Isaac B., Elizabeth, John A., Sarah Emeline Hollingsworth, or in other words all my surviving heirs not otherwise provided for. Item 6th (sic: Item 5th) After my executors shall have made a final Settlement of the estate they shall then ascertain the amount of the assets on their hands to be divided in accordance with this will and they shall ascertain the value of each tract of land of what I may be seized by the appointment of three disinterested freeholders and in this manner ascertain whether the land herein bequeathed to my daughter Mary including the other bequests to her made for which she shall have given her receipt, is equal in value with such of the other shares respectively - And I further will that all my lands be (page 263) valued exclusive of the improvements which either of my Children after they arrive at the lawfull age or intermarry shall have made thereon And 6th and last I hereby make institute and appoint my wife Rebecca and my friend John Furnas (John is not clear-Ed.) of Montgomery County, Ohio Sole executors of this my last will and testament hereby revoking all former wills by me made and retifying (sic) and confirming this my last will and testament Sealed with my seal and dated this 6th day of March in the year of our lord eighteen hundred & forty seven

NOTES: Please consult our March issue, pp. 11, 12, for the records in Miami County, Ohio, Quaker Meeting called Union, where the above man's relatives are mentioned. It can be seen that Eli Hollingsworth the testator was disowned from that meeting by a minute dated July 4, 1818 for marriage contrary to discipline. Since his name or his family members' names never appear again, it is manifest that they left the Quakers. This being the case we are fortunate to have the marriages as well as the will of Eli himself. On pages 33-4 above you will see the marriages of a number of his children, including Elizabeth, Isaac B., John A., Mary, Nathan, Sarah E., Thomas, Ursula and William R.; and his own two marriages. It occurs to us that all of his children's marriages are here, unless a similar name is involved in a case or two. Some married, of course, either after the will was written or after the testator died. Eli is listed in the 1850 census with some of his children in HR 5:112. There, Eli is age 56, born in South Carolina, wife Rebecca age 47, North Carolina, and children Nathan, 22, Thomas, 19, Isaac, 14, Elizabeth, 12, John A. (our error "H"), 9, and Sarah E. 7, all born Ohio. Thomas is enumerated a 2nd time in house of his sister Ursula Sinks. William, 35, and family, are nearby.

The U.S. NINTH CENSUS (1870) FOR HOLLINGSWORTH - PART ONE.

Note by editor: The microfilm of this census was made in 1937, even before the release from confidentiality, and in the very infancy of the microfilm process. The job was botched. badly. Thousands of feet of negative film were either half or totally illegible, more especially the left hand page in each frame. Years ago a dear old soul told your gullible editor that the schedules were "faded before the film was made and this was the best that could be done." It turned out that she was more gullible than Harry Hollingsworth. For he has seen the new filming job which proves almost every page in the schedules is very legible! Crummy bureaucrat bungling is a better criticism. It is unhappily the case that the film we have access to free of cost is the old T-8 series. It would cost a fortune to pay loan fees on the new film, except in a few necessary cases, which has been done for Arkansas. Some Hollingsworth names have probably been missed, but not many. Maybe none. If a reader sees an omission, please notify us.

Note: Hollowell is probably correct. Catharine's surname is written Holland, with "worth" written small above it. But it is not certain that "worth" is what is written there! In 1850 same county, Wallace Township, page 342R, we find an Ephraim Hollowell with wife Caton? and family including Columbus, 10, born Mississippi, Caton is 32, born in North Carolina. Too many discrepancies to be certain.

Note: This entry is somewhat faded. The State Library, Madison, Wis., has an index to their 1860 census copy, which is probably the second copy sent by the Census Marshal to the Secretary of State of Wisconsin. The Federal copy, on Archives film, lists the above as we produce it, but Madison advises their index has Hollingsworth.

"Hollingsworth Celebrates the Joy of Art"

The Pensacola Journal of April, 1975, pp. 1D & 2D, sent to us by Doug Hollingsworth of Bangor, Maine, has an interesting bio spread by Sharon DeMarko, the Journal Arts Editor, about Mrs. Lou Hollingsworth of Birmingham, Alabama, wife of John Hollingsworth, an attorney for the electric company. She is a professional artist. She has the regular type public showings, with cocktail party kickoffs, etc., but Sharon DeMarko doesn't think Mrs. Hollingsworth's work is 'regular.' "Mrs. Hollingsworth's paintings have that subdued intensity called "grab-ability" — they reach out to the viewer." The article heralded Mrs. Hollingsworth's current showing at Meatpackers Gallery in Pensacola. The artist takes ordinary subjects and through varying degrees of abstraction builds extraordinary statements, according to DeMarko. Mrs. Lou Hollingsworth is also a practitioner of extra sensory perception. As an example, she knows before she answers the telephone if it is a family member or not! (Remember, readers, unless she is a Hollingsworth by birth, we cannot boast of having this all to ourselves, but, if she has children, they - our Hollingsworth cousins - may have the gift too!)

Some of her paintings are theme paintings — perceptive insights on a society stripped of pretense. Others are "celebrations of the sheer joy of art," as Lou Hollingsworth puts it.

The Hollingsworth Family of Greenup County, Kentucky

The Hollingsworth family came to Greenup County in the 1820s and were established citizens in the eastern section of the county in the 1830s. John Hollingsworth obtained a "Certificate of Slavery" in 1830. He was a justice of the peace in the late 1820s and 1830s, and was a representative to the State Legislature from 1834 to 1835. In 1834 he bought a tract of land from Poage and Company, which lay above the present town of Russell. In 1837 he bought a tract from Charles Buford, part of the original Buford Grant.

In 1837 John Hollingsworth sold land to George Clancy, and Edward Hollingsworth sold land at the Fulton Oil Works to George Wurts. A farm below the "Works" was sold to James Martin, who had come from Virginia in 1850.

In 1845 Edward Hollingsworth married Elizabeth Ann, daughter of John C. and Elizabeth Smith Kouns. They lived at the Kouns homestead at the head of Elizabeth Street and were the parents of John Hollingsworth, who married Julia, daughter of George and Miranda Hinton Hager, and of Mary, who married William Sands, a brilliant but erratic young lawyer. John and Julia Hager Hollingsworth were the parents of Edward, George, James, and Elizabeth Scott. William and Mary Hollingsworth Sands were the parents of three daughters, Betty, Madge, and Nell.

Dr. Hollingsworth, of this family, is buried in the William Paull Cemetery on the hill near Riverview, above Russell. (History of Greenup County, Kentucky (1951) by Nina Mitchell Biggs & Mabel Lee Mackoy, p. 185.)

North Carolina Marriage Bonds & Records - Part Two

Part One was published in our December, 1969 issue (HR 5:155) with the entries for Cumberland County, North Carolina. These bonds are stored in the Archives at Raleigh, but the W.P.A. made typescripts of them in alphabetical order by name of groom, with an index to the brides in back of each typescript. The designation "early to 1868" is used to indicate the coverage. But many bonds were lost. This, then, is an incomplete list, but the lack of any civil marriage records until the 20th Century in that state is helped a bit with this large set.

"If butter is worth 10¢ a pound, how much is Harry Hollingsworth?" is a squib entered by Herbert Heyes, actor, in a Milwaukee paper about the editor's father, in 1913. Jack Benny made a similar joke about his pal, Charlie Butterworth, years later on his radio show.

"Baur - Hollingsworth Wedding In Laureldale"

Miss Jessie M. H. Baur and John M. Hollingsworth, Jr. were united in marriage on July 10, 1971, at Calvary Lutheran Church in Laureldale, Pa. The former Miss Baur is daughter of Mrs. Paul C. Baur, Jr. and the late Mr. Baur. The groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John M. Hollingsworth Sr., 4611 Sunnysdale Boulevard, Erie, Pa. He is also the son of the late Mrs. Hollingsworth.

The bride wore a white peau de soie gown adorned with pearl embroidered Alencon lace which formed a boat neckline and extended over the shoulder to form Juliet tapered sleeves. The train held by two small bows at the shoulder, fell into folds. The veil was bordered by the same deep scallops of lace and pearls. Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Donald Melchoir, and bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Robin Baur, and Mrs. Lindsey Smith. They wore similar gowns, the matron of honor's in melon green voile and the bridesmaids' in mint green voile. The gowns were trimmed with white embroidery on the sleeves and fashioned with a tucked bodice and gathered skirt falling softly from an empire waistline. The two flower girls, Holly Brown and Tina Marie Domenice, wore dresses of melon green voile.

The groom was accompanied by his brother, Charles G. Hollingsworth, as best man. Ushers were Robert G. Tarkany and James W. Miller, and, Bobby Baur, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride wore a sleeveless A-line sheath of pink silk with matching accessories. Mrs. Hollingsworth was attired in a gown of aqua crepe with full sleeves and a brocade sleeveless coat of harmonizing colors, and she wore contrasting accessories.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at Stokesay Castle in Reading, Pa. The bride is a graduate of Virginia Institute in Richmond, Va. Mr. Hollingsworth is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and received his law degree from George Washington University in Washington, D.C. He is an attorney with the insurance division of Ford Motor Company.

After a honeymoon in Atlantic City, the couple will reside in Dearborn, Michigan. (From a Pennsylvania newspaper, near Meadville, dated about July, 1971, courtesy Eugene F. Throop, Saegertown, Pa.)

"HOLLINGSWORTH GENEALOGY"

Daniel Hollingsworth came to Tennessee from North Carolina at the age of 21, about 1795, or at the close of the Revolutionary war. He married Elizabeth Goddard, who had come one year before to Tennessee with her family, the laws of North Carolina not allowing them to marry until 21 years of age. Daniel had two brothers John and William Hollingsworth. His oldest son Moses was born in 1801. His descendants have a land grant dated 1828-30 where he and John Bell shared 640 acres. He enlisted in the war of 1812 but the war closed while he was on his way to New Orleans. In 1950 one grandson Charles Hollingsworth living and owner of 250 acres of the old farm in Van Buren County, Tennessee, White County before White County was divided into several counties. The old log house where he lived stood till 1942; its logs were moved to Lebanon, Tennessee by a man named Brvant. In the log house you can see on the outside upper facing of the door two rows of holes. There are thirty-one holes in the upper row and thirty-two in the lower, made with a small auger. By sticking certain pegs in certain holes, he could tell the month for each quarter of the year. One peculiarity of time keeping of the pioneers was they dated things after some noted event such as, seven years after the big flood, or nine years after the big snow. Copied from White County History.

Daniel HOLLINGSWORTH married Elizabeth GODDARD about 1795 in White Co. Tenn.

Courtesy of Douglas R. Hollingsworth, Bangor, Maine. He suspects that Daniel is a brother of George Hollingsworth of Wythe County, Virginia, because of similarity of names, and that both may be descendants of George Hollandsworth (etc.) settler in Baltimore, Maryland, not of Valentine. Your editor abridged the above second and third generations by not carrying them each to the 4th or fifth as in the typescript. For more, see HR 5:58, 59 1850 and HR 10:108, 109 1860 Census.

The combination of those two census enumerations gives us the following sketch of the family which should be kept in mind:-

Daniel Hollingsworth, born c1789 in Virginia; living 1860, in Van Buren Co., Tennessee, age 72. Farmer. Married Elizabeth, born c1790-1793, Virginia, living as with husband.

- (8) Martha Hollingsworth, born 1837, Tenn. (?Patsy?) At home 1850.

This sketch is entirely based on what is shown in the 1850 and 1860 Federal Census, with no help from the family record, except to place the older individuals, (1-3-4) as children of Daniel, which is not apparent in the census. "Bitha" of the record of Stephen's children becomes Abitha, likely Bathiah. Daniel Hollingsworth, Sr. is enumerated in the 1830 and 1840 census of Tennessee. In 1840 he is in White, but in the earlier enumeration he is in Wilson County, along with an Isaac Hollingsworth, 20-30 years of age. Who were the parents of Daniel, born about 1789 in Virginia or North Carolina?

ELLIS A. HOLLINGSWORTH

Ellis A. Hollingsworth, son of Mark and Waitstill (Tileston) Hollingsworth, was born in Milton, Mass., March 6, 1819. His grandfather, Amor Hollingsworth, was born on the old family homestead in Chester County, Penn., held by a deed given from William Penn, and rendered historic by being the place whereon the memorable battle of Brandywine was fought between the forces under Lord Howe and Gen. Washington. The family were originally Quakers, who came to America with William Penn, probably from Chester County, England.

Amor afterwards moved to Delaware, where his son Mark was born. Mark received a good common-school education, and, after having served his time at paper-making, he immediately started for Boston to see Bunker Hill and Long Wharf. This trip decided his future career. Not returning, he engaged with Hugh McLean, manufacturer of paper at Milton Upper Mills, now called Mattapan, and said to be one of the oldest establishments of the kind in America, a company having obtained from the General Court, about the year 1728, the exclusive privilege of making paper for the term of ten years, upon condition that they should make, after the third year, five hundred reams per year for each succeeding year of the remaining ten, one hundred and fifty reams of which were to be writing-paper, and a fine of twenty shillings was imposed upon every ream made by any one else. After McLean's death, Mark Hollingsworth, in 1809, purchased these mills, and, associating himself with Edmund Tileston, his brother-in-law, under the firm-title of Tileston & Hollingsworth, established the business of paper manufacturing, which has continued from that time until the present in the same families and under the same firm-name, the eldest son of each generation succeeding, without an exception, to the business. Mark Hollingsworth was a Quaker, and was characterized by the attributes of his people, a quiet, positive, reflective man, and a hater of shams. He possessed much mechanical ingenuity, and by his tact and industry acquired a competency which made him for his own time wealthy. He died in March, 1855. Ellis Anderson Hollingsworth was the youngest son of a family of eight attaining maturity, viz.: Leander M., Amor, John Mark, George, Lyman, Maria H. (Mrs. E. K. Cornell), Cornelia W. (Mrs. W. Babcock), and Ellis Anderson.

When young, Ellis A. Hollingsworth, owing to precarious health, was placed with a progressive and scientific farmer of the State of New York, with whom he remained until he had obtained a thorough knowledge of agriculture, both theoretically and practically, and for which he ever after manifested a fondness in the application of his knowledge to the care of a farm of his own. He married Susan J., only daughter of Rufus and Susanna Sumner, a cousin of the Hon. Charles Sumner. Their children are Sumner and Ellis. In 1849, under the stimulant of the gold excitement, he went to California, and after a sojourn of a year or more he returned to Massachusetts, and in 1851 took possession of his father's mills at South Braintree, Mark Hollingsworth having purchased the old ~~Revere~~ Copper Works at South Braintree, and there established a paper manufactory.

One of the most fortunate discoveries of modern times was the invention at this mill in 1843 of manilla paper, the production of which has become so valuable in every branch of industry. Ellis Anderson Hollingsworth continued the manufacture of this paper, and afterwards in association with Leonard Whitney, Jr., of Watertown, under the firm name of Hollingsworth & Whitney, they commenced the making of their paper into bags by machinery. The enormous increase of business necessitated the construction and purchase of new mills, which were accordingly erected in Watertown, Mass., and in Gardiner, Maine. The Poquonock mill at Hartford, Connecticut, was purchased, and partnerships were formed with large manufacturers both in Baltimore and in Philadelphia. Mr. E. A. Hollingsworth showed a wonderful adaptability to the details of business, and possessing a clear comprehension of the mechanical processes, through his care, economy, and ability the business not only assumed large proportions, but was put upon a solid financial basis. He was in many respects a most remarkable man. He did nothing upon the impulse of the moment, but gave each subject the most careful thought and consideration. Apparently of vigorous health, he was yet for years a great sufferer, but possessed of wonderful physical endurance he transacted business day after day when others would have withdrawn from the task. Calmly, patiently, and without complaint, he was a personal exemplification of the motto inscribed upon the Hollingsworth coat of arms, "Disce ferenda pati" (Learn to suffer what must be endured). Although thus heavily engrossed in his immense business, his mind took cognizance of other more scientific and literary pursuits. A student of the Journal of Speculative Philosophy, of which he was among the first subscribers, he was accustomed to remark that his acumen, insight, and success was largely the result of his philosophical researches. A lover of the beautiful in nature, he would point out what would be obscure to a common observer. He took an interest in collecting minerals and shells, and a fanciful delight in gathering grasses, of which he had numbered nearly five hundred varieties. In reference to his last visit to his Gardiner mills, a friend writes, "We met him, on the north side of the Cobbossee, gathering ferns and grasses; we little thought then that this was the last time we were to see him." Mr. Hollingsworth was a Unitarian in his religious views, although by no means bigoted or sectarian, and a Republican in politics. He was extremely unconventional, and by his lack of ostentation and display showed the spirit of his Quaker ancestry. His kind heart and sound judgment gave him an interest in all good and progressive works, of which he was also a generous contributor. Although his fellow-townsmen honored him with the presidency of the Braintree Savings-Bank, he would not consent to other offices of public trust. Of a retiring nature, he had comparatively small acquaintanceship with his fellow-citizens; but it arose rather from ill health, and from his quiet, unobtrusive manner, than from any pride of position or lack of geneality. With intimate friends he was ever social and communicative. Original and keen-witted, he would give expression to his thoughts with a clearness and purity of language that gave him few equals. A quick observer of the comic in life, and possessing a great fund of quiet humor, he could tell a story so humorously as to draw tears with laughter. Independent, self-reliant, and tenacious of purpose, he was ever in social and family relations companionable, loving, and tender.

Sincerely beloved and deeply lamented by the community at large, a wide circle of business friends, and by those who knew him best, he passed this life January 6, 1882. (History of Norfolk County, Massachusetts, by D. Hamilton Hurd (1884) pp. 132, 133, Braintree.)

See Mark and Amor Hollingsworth in HR 4:119 1850 Census of Roxbury, Mass., with son John Mark in West Cambridge, same page. We do not have any record of Ellis Anderson Hollingsworth, about 31, in any of the 1850 census, California, Massachusetts, included. See him in the 1860 Census of Braintree, Massachusetts, in HR 9:11, age 40, with real estate valued at $20,000. and personal estate at $5,000. Hollingsworth & Whitney Paper Company still operates as a division of Scott Paper Co.!

Hollingsworth and Pandowdy!

The Oxford English Dictionary, Volume seven, page 418, under the subject Pandowdy, first cites it as an American word of obscure origin, and goes on to describe it as apple pudding, often seasoned with molasses, and baked in a deep dish. In giving an example of its useage, Nathaniel Hawthorne's 1852 novel THE BLITHEDALE ROMANCE is quoted at xxiv ... "HOLLINGSWORTH would fill my plate from the great dish of pandowdy..." The story was written by Hawthorne (1804-1864) at West Newton, Massachusetts. But the novelist was born in Salem, Mass., where the oldest American family of our surname had settled in 1635. His own ancestor, William Hathorne (sic) had come to Salem in 1636. Could this have inspired him to use this name for one of his characters? (Courtesy Marion Hargrove, Santa Monica, California.)

Some Ancestors of Eunice Steddom Hollingsworth

This article is not meant to be final authority in tracing the ancestors of Eunice Steddom (Stiddum, Stedham) who married Abraham⁶ Hollingsworth (Joseph⁵, George⁴, Abraham³, Thomas², Valentin¹, Henry) of Newberry County, South Carolina and Warren County, Ohio. It is to acquaint her descendants of her probable Swedish ancestry. (Stewart, p. 72.)

Doctor Tymen Steddom arrived in America in the middle of the 1600s from Sweden. He settled near Christiana, the Swedish settlement which antedated the Quakers and William Penn, and lies where Wilmington, Delaware, is today. Most of the Swedish had patronymic names, i.e. Hendrickson, Petersson, but Steddom may be a placename. Prominent families in Scandinavia had fixed surnames, and still others were foreign settlers, especially men of the professions and the clergy. This man has not been traced before his arrival here, but his ancestry may be Germanic, from Schleswig-Holstein, or farther away. Dr. Steddom's will calls his former home Hammel, which some thought applies to Hammal, a place north of Sundsvall, Sweden. The Doctor's mother dwelt in Stockholm in 1641. In the older records the surname is Stidham. It is believed that he first sailed to America with Governor Rising, who came from Gothenburg, Sweden, 2 Feb. 1654 and arrived at what is now New Castle (Fort Casimir) on 21 May same year. He took the oath to Peter Stuyvesant, Governor of New Netherland, after the Dutch conquered the Swedes in 1655. (Pa. Archives, 2nd Series, Vol 7, p. 483.)

His name appears many times in the old records of what is now the State of Delaware, too many times to quote here. In a list of taxables returned in 1684/5, "Timen Stidham" of Christiana Creeke had 250 acres. His first wife's name is unknown to this writer; the second was Christina Olesdotter, or "Oel's Daughter" as it appears in the old records. This is a true patronymic. Her father was obviously someone named Ole. Dr. Steddom or Stidham died in the period Feb. 1 - April 24, 1686, the dates of signing and proving of his last will, (Wilmington, New Castle County, Pennsylvania, now Delaware, Liber A, folio 73.) Thus, he was a near neighbor and possibly an acquaintance of Valentine Hollingsworth.

The first wife was evidently the mother of his children, for the widow was always referred to as "mother in law" by the children, which would be step-mother.

Dr. Stidham named only his wife and daughter Ingebor in his will. But a deed at Liber Q, folio 454, New Castle County, dated 16 of 8th month 1750 recites the patent of a tract of land dated 3 May 1671 to Tymen Stidham, and the Doctor's will. It correctly names his daughter as Ingeborg, and goes on to say the Doctor died seized of the said land and left nine children surviving, to-wit: Lulofe, Lucas, Ashmund, Adam, Benjamin, Elizabeth, Mary, Magdalene and Ingeborg. The deed goes on reciting many quitclaims of heirs of this estate. The Doctor also had a tenth child, Timothy, who died in his father's lifetime.

Dr. Stidham's surgical case was still in the hands of a descendant in 1901. (Allied Families of Delaware, by Edwin Jaquett Sellers, 1901.)

Now! It has been impossible for this writer to connect the following Quaker Stidham or Steddom family with the above by a definite link.

Eunice Steddom, wife of Abraham Hollingsworth of Warren County, Ohio, was born in South Carolina 9mo (Oct) 13, 1779, second child of Henry Steddom and Martha Pearson. The other children were Christianna, John, Mary, Anna and Samuel. (Miami Monthly Meeting of Friends, Warren County, Ohio, Hinshaw, Encyclopedia, Vol. 5, pp. 125, 126.) She was dead before her father wrote his will. Henry Steddom's will is dated Jan. 16, 1822 and proved on November 6th, same year. It is registered in Book 1, page 199, of Warren County wills. He names his wife Martha and children John, Samuel, Mary Jay; Anna Kersey, and grandchildren, Martha Freestone, formerly Hollingsworth and her sister Anne Hollingsworth, Matilda, Anne and Martha Compton (daughters of his daughter Christianna Compton) grandsons Joseph, Henry, John and Jabez Hollingsworth, Samuel, Phares and Henry Compton.

The Steddoms took a certificate from Bush River Meeting in South Carolina, dated 8-25-1804, presented to Miami Meeting, Ohio, Feb. 14, 1805. (Ibid, page 125-6.) Henry Steddom was born April 15, 1754, and died Oct. 22, 1822. Martha Pearson was born Jan. 15, 1760. The Bush River books shed more light on the Steddom ancestry. Hinshaw, Vol. 1, page 1038 is our source. The minutes show:

1772-10-1, Mary Steddom, widow, Berkley County, S.C. married Samuel Pearson. (She was the widow of John Steddom.)

1775-8-31, Ann Steddom, (daughter of Mary now the wife of Samuel Pearson) 96th District, S.C., married William Pearson.

1776-8-1, Henry Steddom, 96 District, (son of John Steddom, deceased, and Mary, now Pearson) married Martha Pearson.

1799-9-12, Eunice Steddom, daughter of Henry Steddom, of Newberry County, S.C., married Abraham Hollingsworth.

The Pearsons were as thick as flies in that family! One should consult the Quaker records to trace the Pearsons.

A diligent search by your editor failed to show that John Steddom, the grandfather of Eunice, was ever a Quaker. Mary Steddom, now Pearson, died in Warren County, Ohio, at the age of 77, on Jan. 1, 1811, according to Hinshaw 5:109. This gives her birth year as 1733. Expecting John Steddom to be about that age, we came up with the entry of baptism in Old Swede's Church, Wilmington, Delaware, of Johan (John), son of Jonas Stedham and Helena, born 2 Jan. 1735. John or Johan had a sister Christina, and a brother Zacharias. One Zachariah Steddom was in South Carolina during the Revolution. The Old Swede's church book is published and fully indexed. The surname appears voluminously therein. But apparently Jonas Steddom's son John, or Johan, did not die in South Carolina before 1772 as did Henry's father. Jonas himself lived to 1776 and named son John as executor. John died in 1795 in Christiana Hundred. (Wills, New Castle County, K:307 and O:115.) We could find no other John who might fit, except, perhaps:

Luloff Stedham or Stidham, son of the original Dr. Tymen, wrote his last will and testament 1st of May 1704, leaving an equal share of his father's land to his two sons, Timothy and Luloffe, to be equally shared between them. (Liber Q, fol. 454, New Castle County, Del, deeds and Will Book B, Instrument #136, film 021,721 Philadelphia Wills, Salt Lake Genealogical Society.) Luloff also names his wife Katharine, sole executrix, and daughters Sarah, Margaret, Ingeborg, Ann, and a step-daughter Katherine; brother Asmund. He lived at Brandywine Creek in New Castle County. It was actually dated 5 May proved 6 June 1704.

The two sons were Timothy and Luloff. We stay with the latter. Luloff deeded his share of his father's land to brother Timothy, and the surviving children of Tymen Stidham did likewise, so that Timothy held the property of his grandfather. What happened to Luloff Jr.?

The last will of Lullaf Stidham (sic) of Cecil County, Maryland, is dated May 30, 1749, proved August 14, 1749. (Book 27, page 42.) He leaves his son Lulaf his plantation called "Eagles Nest." Then in succession he names other sons Lucas, Timothy, John, and Henry, and daughters Elizabeth and Ann. His wife Mary is named executrix with one Joseph Rallace? John Foster, James Ford and Jobe Everson are witnesses.

It is our contention that the above John Stidham or Stiddom is the father of Henry and grandfather of Eunice Hollingsworth. As we said, it has been impossible to prove it. The direct ancestors of Abraham Hollingsworth, especially gr.-grandfather Abraham, had been in Cecil County prior to their move to South Carolina. Abraham died in Virginia, but son George went farther south. In his will, the above Lulaf Stidham left his clothing to son John and 1 shilling to Henry.

The line backwards from Eunice Steddom Hollingsworth would be, if our theory is correct, as follows: Eunice⁶Steddom, Henry⁵, John⁴,  Luloff³, Luloff², Dr. Tymen Stidden¹. The  points out the break, the only unproved link.

That concludes our treatise. More data proving or disproving our theoretical link will be welcome. It is significant too, to close with the fact that in the list of the Constabulary of North Christiana Creek Dec. 6, 1683, we find Valentine Hollingsworth the first time with 1000 acres and 4 tithables listed, and in the same list, Asman, Lullof and Lucas Stidden, with their acreage. "A Map of Vollantine Hollingsworths Land Caled Newworke"

Opposite is a reproduction of the 986 acres, 8 perches of land surveyed in 1684. The handwriting is that of Henry Hollingsworth his son, a surveyor of repute in his day, who helped lay out the city of Philadelphia. Land is bounded by Shillpot Creek, and land of Ola Bosen?, Erick Matson and Hans Peeters. (Vol. H-2, p. 45, New Castle County Warrants & Surveys, Hall of Records, Dover, Delaware.)

Halifax, Nova Scotia, Wedding

Roman Catholic wedding at St. Peter's, Halifax, Nova Scotia, on 9 August 1823: Alexander Hackett (son of Edward Hackett and Elenor (Perry) Hackett, Cloyne, County Cork, Ireland,) to MARY HOLLANDSWORTH, daughter of HENRY HOLLANDSWORTH and ELIZABETH CRAIGEN, Musquodoboit, Nova Scotia. (From The Irish Ancestor, 1975, Vol 1.) See HR 2:165. Henry Hollingsworth, or Hollinworth, was a Presbyterian. This is the first time we have seen his wife's maiden surname. Mary Hackett's name does not appear in the quitclaim deed (HR 2:166 item 9) or elsewhere. We suspect she was disowned for "marrying a Roman Catholic," which was pretty commonplace at that time. This adds the name to Henry's family, whether he liked it or not!
