MEANING OF THE NAME

The surname Hollingworth is derived from a place in northeast Cheshire, of the same name, supposedly the place called "Holisurde" in the Domesday Book for Cheshire, pronounced "Hollis-worth," but probably intended to be "Hollinworth." It is in the Parish of Mottram-in-Longdendale, a few miles south of Manchester. (It is possible that several separate families using this place as a surname came into existence at an early day. There are two other places with this name in Lancashire north of Manchester. The Cheshire place was a barren wasteland at the time of Domesday (1086) and it was not until about the time of Magna Carta (1215) that we find any person using the name as a personal family surname. This was "Tomas De Holinewurth" (here the name is transliterated into Latin) who was a signatory on a charter of about that period. The two Anglo-Saxon words, Holecn (or Holyn), 'a holly bush,' and Worp (or Worde), meaning an enclosure, or farmstead, are said to be the origin of the placename Hollingworth in Cheshire. More loosely, it signifies "A farm enclosed by holly bushes," or "Holly Farm." The earliest form of the surname was Hollingworth, in the old orthography, Hollyngworthe, but in later centuries a medial "s" came to be used by some of the families, not much earlier than the early 1600s. Five generally used forms, Hollingsworth, Hollinsworth, Hollingworth, Hollinworth and Hollandsworth, are found in the indexes to births, marriages and deaths for England beginning in 1837, and in most of the telephone or city directories of the large cities in England and the United States of America.

INTENT OF THIS QUARTERLY

To publish verbatim copies or abstracts of records of the family world wide from the earliest times to the present. Hollingsworth Register is now in its Thirteenth Year. Nearly every instance of the surname in the U.S. Census schedules, 1790-1870 has been published in this quarterly. About two million pages were searched to produce that result, not to mention searching all kinds of other records. We know of no other family magazine which has even attempted to do this.

E D I T O R I A L

The three trips to do professional research for clients by your editor in part accounts for the tremendous delay in getting the Sept. and Dec. 1978 issues of Hollingsworth Register into print and into the hands of our subscribers. After the trip already described in the June issue, pp. 21-25, we were sent back, in September, to Salt Lake City, Utah, to do two weeks' more work in the great genealogical library there. (Three weeks were planned, but the semi-annual "Conference" of the L.D.S. Church made it impossible to obtain a room in any cubbyhole in northern Utah, for the needed period!) More material for H.R. was, of course, obtained in any spare time we could find. But, upon return to Los Angeles in conclusion of that work, another client hired your editor, this time to travel to San Jose, California, and "clean out" the courthouse of Santa Clara County on several specific names; also to visit libraries and cemeteries. That feat was accomplished in a week. A day or two were taken to visit Santa Cruz and Santa Barbara, California, just to "kick back" and relax.

The day set to return to Los Angeles was tainted with the horror of the great brush fire which nearly destroyed Malibu, along with another separate one which burnt up part of Mandeville Canyon. It was your editor's sad journey in from Santa Barbara, to see the smoke of that burning ascending skyward and westward across the Pacific as far as the Island of Santa Cruz. The bus was re-routed because the fire was so aggressive. Smoke filled the air, and borate bombers flew over the bus, dropping foaming cargo on both sides of the highway. The city of Santa Monica was stinking with smoke. That was on the 23d of Oct. 1978. It was later learned that the Malibu fire had been deliberately set!

All subscribers should be advised that many issues may come late not only because of the above described circumstances, but because your editor has another similar assignment for Summer, 1979! This one won't be so long. The March issue, 1979, will be a month late in delivery, at least.

This issue was put to bed (in journalistic jargon) on Monday the 12th of March 1979! In this number you will consequently find some events from 1979, in spite of the fact it is called a 1978 publication.

All readers are encouraged to send along clippings of any type which mention Hollingsworth or Hollingworth, or descendants, for any of the Obituary, Marriage or Miscellany columns.

A strike in the paper industry has also hampered our ability to get the usual supply of paper. Some is bond rather than mimeo.

This issue is being proof read on the first day of spring, 21 March 1979.

Part Two The Visit to Jasper County, Iowa Part Two
by

Harry Hollingsworth, C. G.

Continuing from page 56.

One of the most interesting and vital items I discovered in the office of the Clerk of the District Court at Newton, Iowa, was the so-called Index to Papers Filed. This index is chronological in order of papers put into boxes, wrapped up with rubber bands or silk ribbons, and tucked into numbered file boxes. These boxes line the walls of one of the vaults. They are filed by first letter of surname of each case. The case is filed by name of the Plaintiff. Sometimes by Defendant. A special ladder which rolls along a track and equipped with casters proved to be dangerous. It scared me to get up on this contraption. It began to sway or roll along from my body weight. I elected to use the special hook and pole. This item is as tall as the highest box on the wall, and, with a little practice, one can catch the front handle of the file box needed, in the loop of the handle, and pull the box out of its slot safely, and lower it for examination. I was proud to say that I never dropped one (but came close to it a couple of times!).

There are indexes for the District and Circuit Court cases in separate books. Various appearances are indexed by case, under Plaintiffs. But the Index to Papers Filed contains all of the papers of the cases, or, at least, we hope so - the original papers, not the court clerk's brief notes.

When I discovered this fact, it happened that one of the deputy clerks came into the vault and saw me opening up one of these old, original packages, which was stiff with age, wrapped with a rotted rubber band. She got very excited and chided me, that we were "not supposed to see these records." Well, forget her! I had to stand up for my rights. She did not prevail. I was not about to be thwarted by some old Biddy after my only chance in eighteen years to see these records. As far as she was concerned, they were supposed to be left "safe" to decay and rot away, rather than to be examined by descendants. I was just nasty enough, just pushy enough, to get my way, and now have good xerox copies of all these documents. If you happen upon this type of clerk, good luck! Remember: THEY DO NOT OWN THE RECORDS. DON'T LET THEM TRY TO INTIMIDATE YOU.

We have already published in the last issue, the full file of the estate of Frederick Hollingsworth. Now, here we will continue to publish the records of cases filed in the various courts of Jasper County. We have already published, in June, 1978 issue, pp. 26-34, the most important case, Miller v. Hollingsworth. It should be noted, however, that on page 29 of our June 1978 issue, we were puzzled by the case of Miller v. Hollingsworth in the December Term of 1872. Since then, the Law Library, State Capitol, Des Moines, Iowa, sent us a xeroxed copy of the printed case, word for word of our citation from the handwritten copy. There were two cases argued before the Iowa Supreme Court, one affirmed for the Defendant, Elizabeth Hollingsworth, as in Jasper District Court, the other reversed and given to the Plaintiff, Miller. The first case, be it noted, however, was on Mechanic's Lien, while the second was on Husband and Wife. Now to other cases generated by the death of Frederick Hollingsworth (1802-1869) the editor's great-great-grandfather:

(1) Jasper County Circuit Court, October Term 1869.

E. Ball versus Elizabeth Hollingsworth, Samuel Hollingsworth, and Elizabeth Hollingsworth Administratrix of the estate of Fredrick Hollingsworth.

(a) Notice that a claim of Fifty dollars on your promissory note dated Nov. 15, 1867, and the foreclosure of a Mortgage given to secure the payment of said note on the South West Quarter of Section One Township Eighty One Range Twenty in Jasper County, Iowa. (b) Original, signed and stamped mortgage:

Wilson, Notary Public.

The signatures are authentic. That of Frederick Hollingsworth the last he signed that we know of, along with the following note, was signed when he was about sixty-five. It bears the same strong characteristics as that he signed when he was only about twenty-one, in County Wexford, Ireland, in 1823. (See HR 8:92.)

(c) Original note dated 15 Nov 1867 on the First National Bank of Newton, Iowa, for $241.00, stating "By November first after date we promise to pay to the order of E. Ball, Two hundred and forty one dollars." Original signatures of Elizabeth and Fredk Hollingsworth.

(d) Minutes of the Circuit Court of Jasper County, Iowa, Jany. Term 1870.

Be it remembered that on this 18th day of Jany A.D. 1870 it being the 2nd day of the Janny term 1870 of the Circuit Court of Jasper County, Iowa, this cause came on for hearing, William Wilson appearing for Pltff and the Defts failing to appear and answer or plead as required by law and the rules of this Court and the Court finds that due and legal service of the original notice in this cause has been personally had on all the Defts, and the Defts after being thrice solemnly called came not - but made default, and a default is therefore entered against them. (Etc.) Elizabeth Hollingsworth required to pay the sum of Seventeen & 65/100 Dollars and that the Mortgage described in the petition was given to secure the payment of said note. It is therefore ordered and adjudged by the Court that the plaintiff have and recover of and from the defendants Elizabeth Hollingsworth and Elizabeth Hollingsworth Administratrix of the Estate of Fredrick Hollingsworth the sum of Seventeen & 65/100 Dollars and his Costs (etc). L. C. Blanchard, Judge.

Not all of these oldest books of dockets are now forthcoming. Some have been removed from the vault and are in the storeroom upstairs in the attic, in pretty fair condition.

The above case indicates an estrangement between your editor's great-grandfather, E. E. Hollingsworth (the man whose initials upon an old carpenter's square, still in our possession, seen in early childhood, sparked the interest which kindled into a fiery genealogical quest) and his mother and brothers. Edward continued living east of Kellogg, Iowa, while the others remained in the house Frederick built near Baxter. Later, Edward ran a saloon and "fancy grocery" in the bustling town of Kellogg, formerly "Jasper City," in 1875. But very shortly thereafter, he removed to Waseca, Minnesota. From there, he came on to Los Angeles with his son Jack in 1887. He did not return to attend his mother's funeral in 1892. He was the only one of the surviving children who did not do so. Whether the estrangement was that bad, we don't know. The poignant closing note: "but it was neglected" in Elizabeth Hollingsworth's written deposition seems to hint at a wish that he had simply asked his mother to have the deed changed. But then, maybe Samuel, his brother, had tried to obtain the ten acres in his name! Otherwise, why was his name in the list for subpoena, and not Jacob?

Abraham Hollingsworth in Trespass!

The past several issues of HR are so replete with juicy stories of various court fights the Hollingsworths engaged in, that maybe we ought to change the name to "Hollingsworth Enquirer!" (Just a joke!) During your editor's stay of three weeks in New Castle, Henry County, Kentucky, for a client, he naturally kept on the lookout for any mention of our surname. Only the following Circuit Court case appeared. We are pretty sure of this. No mentions in the probate, marriage, or land records or county court cases. We have no idea which Abraham Hollingsworth this is, but there were several living at that time.

(1) Henry Circuit Sct. John Dupuy Complains of Abraham Hollingsworth in Custody &c of a Plea that on the ___ day of ___ 1813 he with force and Arms the Close of the said John within the Circuit afd did break and enter and his Timber then & there Growing towit 500 Chesnut Oak trees of the Value of $200 - 500 red Oak trees of the Value of $200- 500 Black Oak trees of the Value of $200 - 500 White Oak Trees of the Value of $200 - did cut down & destroy from the day & year afd to the bringing this suit at sundry days & times Continuing and other inormities then & there did against the peace & dignity of this Commonwealth and to the Plffs Damage as he says $800 & therefore he sues &c.

Henderson PJ.

(2) Printed form: The Commonwealth of Kentucky, To the Sheriff of (Henry crossed out) Jefferson County, greeting: We command you to take Abraham Hollingsworth if he be found in your bailiwick, and him safely keep, so that you have his body before the Judges of our Henry Circuit Court, at the Court-House, on the first day of their next October term, to answer John Dupuy of a plea of Trespass Quare Clausum Fregit Damage eight hundred Dollars and have then there this writ. Witness ROWLAND THOMAS, Clerk of our said Court, at the Court-House aforesaid, this 30th day of Augt. 1813 and in the 22^d year of the Commonwealth.

(Signed) Row^d Thomas

(3) A handwritten note: The Defendant says he is not Guilty of the Trespass in the Declaration mentioned & of this he puts himself on the County & the Plff. likewise.

(4) Note that the Defendant says that the Close & Tenement in the declaration is not the Freehold & Right of the Plaintiff but the Freehold & Right of Anthony Crockett under the Licence & Permission of Whom by his Attorney in Fact, Frederick Edwards, the Trespass in the Declaration mentioned was committed (etc.).

(10) Summons (printed form) upon Gavin Adams, John Adams, John Condon and Aaron Hogland to appear as witnesses for John Dupuy, Plaintiff, on 4th of Oct Term 1813. Signed Rowland Thomas.

END OF FILE. These are original papers, or "loose papers," sometimes so-called, in the lawsuit. Evidently, Abraham Hollingsworth lost the case, but appealed, and offered a bill of exdeptions, to the judge, who overruled, and then still took legal exception to the Court's decision. Rowland Thomas was Clerk of Courts and Circuit Clerk of Henry County for many years. Your editor thinks too many years. This man lived adjacent to the court house and owned land there. He is known to have taken certain liberties with legal documents. In one will now in our possession, made in 1817, replete with bad spelling and grammar, lack of capital letters, etc., the copy will made by Thomas is in perfect grammar, "cleaned up to the max." This is high handed, to say the least. Lucky your editor found the original will!

Edward Hollingsworth of Dublin, Ireland

The late beloved Irishman, Basil Morgan O'Connell, by his letter to your editor (30 July 1969) stated that at last he had run through his Dublin directories and found that one Edward Hollingsworth, paper manufacturer moved into 2, St. Michael's Hill, and appeared in directories for 1826-27-28. He fades out and re-appears in Wine Tavern St. (nearby) from 1832 through 1835, when A. Hollingsworth appears, and 1837 shows Alice or Alicia. No entry 1838 or after. O'Connell's exhaustive search covered 1752 through 1850! Edward was the brother, probably (never proved) of our Frederick. Edward has the distinction of being the only male Hollingsworth ever to appear in the Dublin directories for well over a century. Alicia was his widow. Thanks, Dear BMOC!

"A Bottle Pops Out Of The Sea"

A Cranford (New Jersey) couple found that proverbial bottle in the sea along the Florida coastline. And it turned out to be real, with a message for help.

Edward and Gerda Hollingsworth of 207 Columbia Avenue, discovered the bottle while "beachcombing" on vacation at Nettles Island north of Palm Beach. It had floated all the way from Cuba, apparently. The visible message from inside the glass read: "Abra la Botella," and "Open the Bottle." They took it back to their motor home and opened it before their disbelieving children: Edward Jr., 17; Mary, 12, and Kathleen. The family extricated a rubber cork from the bottle and found instructions, again in English and Spanish, from the Insti(t)uto de Oceanologia in Havana, to fill out a form about where they found the bottle to help the institute study ocean currents along the coasts of Cuba. "Your correct answers are invaluable to us," the message said.

The message said to be sure and fill out name and address so "we can send reward and tell you where and when this bottle was released." The Hollingsworths filled out the form but then had second thoughts. They were listed as "informante" and thought perhaps they would violate a law about communicating with Cuba. So they brought it back to Cranford and to The Chronicle.

The newspaper called Oliver Barker, the officer-in-charge of the Cranford Post Office, who said he was pretty sure that they could mail the letter to Cuba without violating anything. A letter is OK, but not materials or merchandise, he said. Check with the regional office to be sure, said Barker. The man in the postal mail classification department in Newark said the Hollingsworths could send a letter without any trouble, and it would get there. But sorry, no bottle. That didn't bother the Hollingsworths, who wanted to keep the bottle anyway, with its bottom carefully ballasted with sand and pieces of lead and the glass marked "Cuba." The Chronicle posted the letter containing the form for them. (By coincidence, the log number from the Cuban institute is the same number as the newspaper's post office box, 626).

Now the Hollingsworths will see if a "reward is indeed forthcoming."

From the Cranford Citizen & Chronicle, Thurs. Sept. 21, 1978, with a photo of Mr. and Mrs. Hollingsworth and the bottle and forms. Sent to HR by Mr Chapman Sullivan, our subscriber, of Margate, Florida. Mr. Edward B. Hollingsworth is also our subscriber, by coincidence! (We hope he will let us know the outcome of this.)

HOLLINGSWORTH MISCELLANY Brief items on our surname. Send along any items you think might interest our readers.

(1) Chapman Sullivan sends us a clip from a Florida paper, June 3, 1978, titled NUDE COVERUP ADOPTED. The Legislature at Tallahassee has approved (June 2) a watered-down bill which makes merchants hide magazines which show pictures of nudes to keep them from the young folks. The bill is authored by Rep. Wayne Hollingsworth, Democrat of Lake City. It was sent to Governor Askew's desk when the House voted 108 to 6 to approve changes made in the Senate. Opponents say the new restrictions will be knocked out as unconstitutional.

(2) Marion Hargrove of Santa Monica, California, donates a copy of a will in the Archdeaconry of Essex, England, dated 12 March 1574, of one John Glascocke, Stanford Rivers, County of Essex. To his two sons, Laurence and Mathewe, he gave his lease of land in Holingesorth Wodde, which he held by lease from one Mr. Ellyot. Proved 19 May 1575 Volume titled Gyll.

(3) Our cousin Miss Evelyn Purvis Earle as above, sent us a notice from an Ontario, Canada, paper, with the headline "Laborer pleads guilty in rape-robbery case." John Treadwell was to be sentenced Dec 1, 1978, by Mr. Justice A. H. Hollingworth of the Supreme Court of Ontario.

(4) Ray Beeman of 1246 Goodman St., Memphis, Tennessee 38111, advertised in Family Trees, published in Mississippi papers, address of column: P.O. Box 387, Louisville, Mississippi 39339, that he needs information on the family of Rev. Jake Hollingsworth and his wife, Gency Brand, who lived at Lake, in Newton Co., MS in the early 1900s. He concludes stating that there is a book on the Hollingsworths of Kosckusko, Mississippi by Joyce Hollingsworth of same, and wonders if it has any data on Rev. Jake. (Sent to us by our cousin Mrs. Rachel Higginbotham of Huntington Park, CA.)

(5) Mel Hanberg of Culver City, CA submits a page each from two copies of the Army Times, as he often has done before. Issue of 3 Apr. 1978, p. 38, has a list of 2221 men in the officer's ranks who will be considered for permanent promotion to major. Included is Ro(bert) Hollingsworth, 71/06/12, permanent DOR. Issue of Sep 4, 1978, p. 28, in a list of 2842 picked for promotion to Captain is Michael Hollingsworth, 0236.

(6) Ms Adele Manwaring, formerly of Bloomington, Indiana, a student at Indiana University, whom your editor visited the past summer, but now enjoying a position with the Genealogical Department in Salt Lake City - whom your editor visited the past fall! - sent us 2 pages out of the I.U. student paper, the Indiana Daily Student, Jan 23, and 24, 1978 spotlighting 21 students who would compete for Union Board seats on the 24th. Joe Hollingsworth, pictured with the others, is quoted in the earlier paper, to-wit: Joseph Hollingsworth. As a Freshman, my introduction to the Union Board came about unspectacularly: No spate of booklets, flyers, etc., welcoming the incoming student, but rather a simple statement on a small piece of paper left in my mailbox at Briscoe Hall, "Be a communications coordinator ..." Well, I took on the job in return for free passes to various entertainment events. Just that minor contact with the Union Board revealed to me a need for better coordination of activities, a need to eliminate duplication of work and to simplify the work to be done. Place me on the Board and I will seek out energetically ways to streamline, vitalize and involve the Board in meeting the needs of the student body."

The paper for the 24th has the following statement about him: Joe Hollingsworth said he is interested in outdoor recreation, although he said "I haven't been involved with Union Board very long, so I can't know for sure what I want to work with." Hollingsworth, freshman, said he understands the need for innovation and budgeting in the Union Board. "I live on a farm and I know you need to find ways to save money any way you can. You always have to look for new ideas."

(7) Evelyn P. Earle, Gananoque, Ontario, Canada, sent us many cuttings. Among them are these poignant articles, which we cannot quote in full, out of The Whig-Standard, Kingston, Ontario, for Friday, Dec. 15, and Wed. Dec 13, 1978. The obituary for Mrs. Hollingsworth appears above as item 3 in our Obituary column this number. Two very long articles appear in these papers, in the column NEIGHBORS by Cliff Bowering. Mildred Hollingsworth had a malignant tumor in her lower stomach which was diagnosed by the family doctor, R. B. Pritchard, three years previously. That was Oct 15, 1975. Massive surgery was called for.

Nevertheless, despite Mildred's courage, another tumor began to cause problems. This was after a three year lapse after the first operation.

The following biographical data about Richard Hollingsworth is presented: He was born and educated in England. Came to Canada at 16 under an immigration department scheme for farm labor. The entailed cheap labor, long hours, meagre food and small income. After that, he worked in logging camps and in construction of what became the Alcan plant at Kingston. In 1940 Dick Hollingsworth enlisted in the R.C. Navy and served to the end of the war, mainly in the north Atlantic on corvettes.

Dick met Mildred in Sydney, Nova Scotia. That was after the war with Germany was over, but before the Japanese surrendered - in mid - 1945. Mildred and Dick dated and he decided to propose. She had lost both father and mother as a youngster, and was being cared for by her grandparents. It is now 34 years since their marriage.

Because it was felt that others should know of his wife's sufferings, and his own anguish, the Whig-Standard has published five segments of the notes which Dick Hollingsworth kept during the time. These notes were kept during the nights when Mildred was asleep, and when he knew his wife was dying. Dick describes the use of a "Brompton cocktail," and of Leritine, Demerol and Tylenol, to alleviate the pain Mildred was suffering during the process, all to no avail.

The doctor asked Dick if he knew how serious Mildred's illness was. Dick said Yes. And Dick's own narrative continues. "Being Catholics, it is necessary to have a funeral mass at our church." Dick showed how aware of his dear wife's condition he really was. As time wears on, Dick begins to show fatigue from the great strength needed to support Mildred through many visits to the hospital. A swollen leg alerts Dick that Mildred may have a blood clot, which is verified by the doctor. Heparin, a blood thinner, is prescribed.

Now, Mildred has passed from the pain of earthly care. We can only imagine the letdown which has settled on Dick Hollingsworth, with the death of his beloved companion of nearly 35 years. Perhaps cards of comfort sent to Richard Hollingsworth, 20 Elmwood, Kingston, Ontario, Canada, by any reader who cares to do so, will help in some way.

(8) Our subscriber, Tom Pattavina, has sent us a copy of the Braintree Observer and Sunday Forum, Sun., Apr 2, 1978, (Braintree, Mass.) p. 6, with article headed "Hollingsworth House Presents Plaque to Honor Town Benefactor." Ellis Hollingsworth was honored by the plaque. In 1911, the original Braintree town hall burned. The Town Meeting approved $70,000. and later another $2,000. for reconstruction. The total of the lowest bids, however, was $82,000 and the town could not afford more. Ellis Hollingsworth, advised of the situation, contributed ten thousand dollars to finish. Our notice on p. 14 of this volume will give more data. The inscription on the plaque reads: IN 1912, ELLIS HOLLINGSWORTH PRESENTED TO THE TOWN OF BRAINTREE A GIFT OF $10,000.00 TO COMPLETE THIS TOWN HALL, ONE EIGHTH OF THE TOTAL COST.

It is fully fifteen years (1964) since your editor toyed with the idea of a Hollingsworth publication of some type. The late and well beloved John Valentine Hollingsworth of Chadd's Ford, Pennsylvania, agreed that one should be started, rather than the commonly known 'Hollingsworth Reunion,' suggested by others. The late Ellen Barrett, of the Los Angeles Central Library, also concurred with the idea. But your editor never dreamed he would publish fully fifty-six of these magazines, spanning nearly fifteen years! See you next year!
