MEANING OF THE NAME

The surname Hollingworth is derived from a place in northeast Cheshire, of the same name, supposedly the place called "Holisurde" in the Domesday Book for Cheshire, pronounced "Hollis-worth," but probably intended to be "Hollinworth." It is in the Parish of Mottram-in-Longdendale, a few miles south of Manchester. (It is possible that several separate families using this place as a surname came into existence at an early day. There are two other places with this name in Lancashire north of Manchester. The Cheshire place was a barren wasteland at the time of Domesday (1086) and it was not until about the time of Magna Carta (1215) that we find any person using the name as a personal family surname. This was "Tomas De Holinewurth" (here the name is transliterated into Latin) who was a signatory on a charter of about that period. The two Anglo-Saxon words, Holecn (or Holyn), 'a holly bush,' and Worp (or Worde), meaning an enclosure, or farmstead, are said to be the origin of the placename Hollingworth in Cheshire. More loosely, it signifies "a farm enclosed by holly bushes," or "Holly Farm." The earliest form of the surname was Hollingworth, in the old orthography, Hollyngworthe, but in later centuries a medial "s" came to be used by some of the families, not much earlier than the early 1600s. Five generally used forms, Hollingsworth, Hollinsworth, Hollingworth, Hollinworth and Hollandsworth, are found in the indexes to births, marriages and deaths for England beginning in 1837, and in most of the telephone or city directories of the large cities in England and the United States of America.

INTENT OF THIS QUARTERLY

To publish verbatim copies or abstracts of records of the family world wide from the earliest times to the present. Hollingsworth Register is now in its Thirteenth Year. Nearly every instance of the surname in the U.S. Census schedules, 1790-1870 has been published in this quarterly. About two million pages were searched to produce that result, not to mention searching all kinds of other records. We know of no other family magazine which has even attempted to do this.

Harry Hollingsworth, C.G.

This man was the grandfather of Ann Calvert who was the second wife of Valentine Hollingsworth, Sr. (1632-1711) of Ireland and America. I have found more information about him and I beg to provide it for you faithful readers here in Hollingsworth Register.

The original parish registers of the parish of Skelton in Cleveland, in the North Riding of Yorkshire, England, begin in 1698, much too late to have any help for us in researching the Calvert family who lived there for centuries. Recently, the L.D.S. (Mormon) Church microfilm teams at last received permission to make microfilm of the Bishop's Transcripts which are housed at the Borthwick Institute in the City of York. Previous attempts to have this done were blocked by religiously opposed high muckity mucks in the Established Church over there. (They don't want Mormons baptising dead Episcopalians into the Mormon Church, it seems- really! Dreadful asses, you know.)

But some old bishop died or retired, no doubt long over due, and his successor was less strict-minded, and so the films were made, of all the B.T.s there, which cover roughly a period from 1600 to 1858 for all but a small portion of the three ridings of Yorkshire - a very considerable boon to any searcher. This is especially useful since extant original registers are still within the clutches of the local ministers for the most part, and their attitude may prevent any search for centuries, don't you see. (Really!)

Bishop's Transcripts are certified copies of baptisms, marriages and burials made during the periodic visitations of the bishops in the dioceses to their various parishes. Copies were on parchment, mostly, and signed by the minister and his churchwardens. These were then taken to the diocesan headquarters for safekeeping. In many instances, the B.T.s antedate the now surviving original records. But in some cases it is the reverse. We are lucky with Skelton.

John Calvert removed from Skelton, Yorkshire, to the north of Ireland, prior to 1617, the year his son Thomas Calvert was born. You remember that Thomas was the father of Ann who married Val Hollingsworth. The recital of events is clearly set out in the old record book of births, marriages and deaths of Lurgan Monthly Meeting of the Friends, Ireland. Here is a full quote of that record, even though it has appeared before in this journal.

"Thomas Calvert, son of John Calvert, of Moresome, neere Gisbrough in Yorkshire, in England, and of Grace his wife, was borne at Lygacory (neere Lurgan) in the County of Ardmaugh, in Ireland, in the year 1617, and about the 11th of y^e 2nd month (April - Ed), 1647 he took to wife Jane, daughter of Hugh Glassford and of Margaret his wife, of Stranmillis (neere Belfast) in the County of Antrim, and had by her children borne as followeth...

"Ann Calvert, first daughter of Thomas Calvert and Jane his wife was borne in Killwarlin (neere Hillsborough) in the County of Down about the ninth month (Nov. Ed), Anno Domini 1650... (etc.)"

The above Ann married Valentine Hollingsworth 12th of 4th month (June) 1672 at Lurgan Meeting of Friends, as reported in the Monthly Meeting Marriage book and Minute Book.

In HR 9: 42-44, we abstracted a number of wills of Calverts from North Riding locations, most of which were from Skelton Parish. Several pertain to this family no doubt. Unfortunately, the Bishop's transcripts begin only in 1600, with a number of missing years. The parchments for 1601, 1602, 1603 and 1604, 1609, and the great period 1611-1632 are now lost! Unless these turn up, or a copy of the register itself should appear, we have little hope of solving all questions. Most English parish registers are expected to date from about 1559, the accession year of Queen Elizabeth I. That is because, about in her 40th year of reign, an Act was passed causing parchment copies to be made of then extant paper registers. Although parish registers were authorized during the reign of her father, Henry VIII., in 1538, it appears that many either were not kept, or had perished by 1598 before copies could be made. We suspect that, in the turbulent times from Henry to "Bloody Mary's" reign, few registers were kept. The clergy were as bawdy as any profligate of the day, and no one knew when their head would come off. Mary was trying to turn the country back to Catholicism, and when Elizabeth ascended the throne, she offered a moderate attitude, and we can see how most of the parish books (most of the oldest) begin with her reign. But to return to Skelton-in-Cleveland, it is really very fortunate to have the years 1600; 1605, 1606, 1607, 1608, 1610 and 1632 now on film 919,077 in the Genealogical Department, Salt Lake City, Utah, for use at its branches by interlibrary loan!

Here is a list of the baptisms of the most importance to us as quoted verbatim from the Bishop's transcripts:

- (1) Johannes Calvert filij Jo: Calvert Bapt fuit 4 March 1600.
- (2) Isabell Calvert filia Jo: Calvert 5 of June 1605.
- (3) Ellin Calvert filia John Calvert Baptized 16 April 1606.
- (4) Edward Calvert fil Jo: Calvert 6 Mar. 1607.
- (5) Elizabetha Calvert filia Jo: Calvert () October 1608 (entry faded).

(6) John Calvert fily Johius Calvert Bapt. 25 July 1610.

Note that never is the given name of the mother of these six children written in these records. This was often the case. It deprives us of absolute proof that this John Calvert was the same John in Ireland in 1617 where son Thomas was born. The great chasm in the transcripts, from 1611 to 1631 is, needless to say, aggravating. However, note the name of Isabell, the second recorded child. In HR, Vol. 4 (1968) p. 124, we published the Calvert marriage licences as published in the Yorkshire Archaeological Journal. Among them was:

"1627: Isabel Calvert, of Skelton, to John Hoopes, at Skelton."

Now the Lurgan Book of Quaker records recites:

"Robert Hoopes (or Hoope) Son of John Hoopes of Moorsom (neer Gisbrough) in Yorkshire in England, and of Isabell his wife, was born in Moorsom afores^d the 8th month (October - Ed) 18, 1639 ..." He came to Ireland about 1660 being a tailor by trade.

When Valentine Hollingsworth married Ann Calvert, 12th of 4th month 1672, at Lurgan, among the signers of the certificate were John Calvert, Thomas Calvert and Robert Hoope.

Thus, we see, Robert Hoope(s) was most likely the first cousin of the bride, Ann Calvert Hollingsworth! John was her brother, and Thomas her father, who later came to America with her, John, and the younger daughter, Margaret, who married her step-son, Thomas Hollingsworth, or, so we speculated at HR 10:36.

John Calvert, therefore, the grandfather, is seen to have fathered a large family. He perhaps had children before the first John at Item 1 above, and perhaps many more after the second one in 1610. His name disappears from the records by reason that they are themselves lacking. Isabell's being in Yorkshire in 1627 may indicate that not all of John's family went into Ireland between 1610 and 1617, with the "Irish Plantation" of King James the First. Robert Hoopes went there at the Restoration of James' grandson, Charles the Second in 1660.

In the above Bishop's transcripts, we find baptism of () Hoopes, daughter of John Hoopes, Feb. 22, 1633/34. John Hoopes was church warden in 1632, signing the transcript. Maria (Mary) filia Joh: Hoope was bapt 17 Mar 1637/38 but buried 14 Sept. 1638. The transcripts go from 1632 through 1641, but there is another wide gap, 1642-1660. No Calverts were found in the period 1661-1668, except that one John Callvart was church warden in 1668.

Robert Hoope was buried 18 August 1636; Margaret Hoope buried 2 Jan. 1636/7; Robert, son of Robert Hoope, buried 15 Jan. same; John and William Calvert, twins, the sonnes of Willm Calvert were baptised 3 August 1634.

The names of "Lyonesse" (Lyness) and Harland are also found here.

These surnames, as our long time associates know, were involved with the Calverts and Hollingsworths also in Ireland and America, either as neighbors or relatives by marriage.

The last will of Thomas Calvart (sic) of Great Morsome, Skelton-in-Cleveland Parish, Yorkshire, was recorded in Volume 27 of York Wills, folio 524. It was dated 12 June 1598 and proved 22 Mar. 1598/99. It shows his death in late 1598, a year too soon for his burial to appear in the extant BTs which begin in 1600. (See HR 9:43 item 3.)

This Thomas names two brothers, Rowland Calvart and John Calvart. It is believed that the said John was the grandfather of Ann Hollingsworth. Witnesses were John Hoops and James Lynesse. Thomas gives items to his brother John's "two sons ... and three daughters," being small pittances and ewe lambs, items usually reserved for children.

He also mentions "Elizabeth Calvart my mother," making her his executrix. No wife or children being named, it is assumed that this man was comparatively young, and unmarried.

Supposing then, that we have our John Calvert pinned down, so to speak, we may postulate the following brief pedigree:

(1) Calvert, wife Elizabeth - she living 1598.

(2) John Calvert, Moresome, Skelton, Yorkshire, b. 1580s?; died circa 1617 or later, in the north of Ireland. A settler. Had large family, mostly born in England. Married Grace --- in Yorkshire.

(3) Thomas Calvert, son of John, grandson of Elizabeth, born c1617 in the North of Ireland; died in New Castle County on Delaware in America in 1685/86 (HR: 10: 38), aged about 69 years. Married Jane Glassford in Ireland.

(4) Ann Calvert, daughter of Thomas, born 1650; died 1697 at New Castle in America, aged 47; married Valentine Hollingsworth, Sr. as his second wife.

Dear Mr. Hollingsworth:

Since your surname is Hollingsworth, I am assuming you have extensive information readily available.

I am seeking any information on a John Hollingsworth (SR), 1795-1865 (?). His first wife was Susanah, last name not known, she died Benton County, AL, between 1850 and 1866, born 1797. His second wife, Mary Watson resided Benton county.

John's Estate Deed lists his heirs to be as follows: Eldest son Wesley N. Mary Glover, William, James R., Susan Bonds, Harrison H., Samuel (sic), *John, Charles, Warren G. (Resided Arkansas).

I traveled to Pickens, S.C., and discovered he owned land there, as per deed dated Oct. 1834, signed by John and wife Susanna Hollingsworth Book 3, Page 13. He is listed as tax payer Benton County, AL, 1840.

The 1830 census, S.C., lists in order of visit, 281- John Hollingsworth, 283 Elias Hollingsworth, and Enoch Hollingsworth. The 1800 census lists Elias with 3 males under 10. No John found.

No other records were found prior to these dates. If you have any information that might end these years of research, and travel, it would be appreciated. I am enclosing the family tree as far as I have it.

Sincerely yours,

David Hollingsworth

NOTE: In the attached pedigree, David shows us he is David M., son of Curt T. (1908-1968) and Mystie (McCormick) Hollingsworth; Curt was the son of G. H. Taylor Hollingsworth (1848-1928) and wife Mary Leona Battles; Taylor was son of John Hollingsworth (1823-1897) and wife Sidney Lee. Said John, David's great-grandfather, was son of the above John and Susannah Hollingsworth. He believes that John's father could be either the Elias or the Enoch, due to their proximity to John in the 1830 U.S. Census of Pickens County, South Carolina.

(1) A paper clipping, no date or place, but recent, sent by our correspondent, Doug Hollingsworth, 37 Sanford, Bangor, Maine, tells of ten persons given prison terms. Included was Dr. Willis B. Hollingsworth, 42, of Savannah, Georgia, a veterinarian. He was found with the other nine guilty of conspiracy to smuggle marijuana into the U.S. Fed District Judge John H. Wood, Jr. sentenced the men. Hollingsworth was arrested at ---- International Airport last September (?) after he came in a private plane from Sabinas, Hidalgo, Mexico. Seven hundred pounds of the weed were seized. Hollingsworth got consecutive five-year sentences on two counts of conspiracy and smuggling, but the judge held the sentence eligible for immediate parole.

(2) Another cutting marked Coleman, Texas, UPI, has the heading "Feed Mill Put Through Court Mill Over Odor." Mrs. Charlie Burrough says that when there is wet weather, the stench from the nearby Hollingsworth Feed Mill is "unbearable." Her words came during testimony at a hearing under the Texas Clean Air Act, proposing an injunction against the mill. The state wants an injunction to stop the pollution, and a fine against Hollingsworth Feed Mill, in the west Texas town, which lies in the county of the same name. Seventy residents complained of the bad smell, precipitating the suit. Mrs. Burrough said she cannot have dinner guests due to the odor.

(3) A cutting from The Farmington (New Mexico) Daily Times, Thurs. Apr. 9, 1964, p. B-3, notes that Mrs. Valentine Hollingsworth (is that her first name, readers?) of West Beach Hill, Beverly Farms, Massachusetts, started a fund for education of the children of the deceased crew of the submarine Thresher. The 129 men went down with the vessel in 1963. Mrs. Hollingsworth was mother, at that time, of five children, and a great-great-granddaughter of Alexander Hamilton. Because of the later circumstance, she was honored as the person chosen to christen the Polaris missile submarine "Alexander Hamilton" in 1962. (Courtesy Douglas Hollingsworth, Bangor, Me.)

(4) Doug Hollingsworth also sent in xerox copies from a publication "The Western Gazette," - as edited 75 years later by Jack Riddle. In a recapitulation headed 1887, there's the story about Newton Vorce, desperado, who shot Gay Hollingsworth, Arapahoe County, Colorado, deputy sheriff, dead instantly.

The shooting happened at the L.H.C. Ranch, 12 miles south of Corona, on the open prairie, near Denver. This took place while Vorce was being pursued by the sheriff's posse. Gay's brother, Frank Hollingsworth, was also deputy in the posse. Vorce hid in a dugout on the side of a hill. Called on to surrender, he made not a reply. The deputies waited till darkness. At 5 in the evening they began their move. Gay Hollingsworth was shot from the ambush of the mudcovered dugout. Although he was carried away from the site, he breathed his last only a few moments later. Later, it was discovered that Vorce had a confederate inside with him. Even at 1 a.m. he had not been flushed out.

A later report in The Western Gazette, states Vorce was wounded, but still not captured. Deputy Frank Hollingsworth's rifle did it. A companion of the outlaw, yelling from the dugout, cried to Hollingsworth: "You hit him (Vorce) that time you stood out there and cracked loose." But by Sunday night, he had escaped from the place just as the posse was about to blow up the dugout. At this report, he had two or more men with him! His "paramour" (my, what a dated term - HH) was now in the county jail.

A week after Gay Hollingsworth's murder, his brother and the posse returned to Denver without their man. "I did my best," said Frank, "and I will not give up the search until it is successful but I am and have been almost alone in it." Hollingsworth then laments the lack of co-operation from other law enforcement agencies. He indicts a man named Chivington, and Campbell, the Weld County constable, and says the residents around Deer Trail "appeared to be afraid to do anything."

His telegram, advising that Chivington go with men to L.H.C. ranch to head off Vorce, apparently was ignored, the reason for his escape. "Kill him on sight. He has no rifle." He signed it F. P. Hollingsworth.

Hollingsworth hoped to be able to get Vorce. He offered a five hundred dollar reward. Unfortunately, the editor of HR has not the outcome of this interesting manhunt at present. These Hollingsworths are thought to be sons of Gabriel B. Hollingsworth, son of Abraham, of the Schuyler County, Illinois, family. Gay possibly stands for Gaylord, but maybe for Gabriel. At one time HR had a subscriber, whose brother was named Gaylord Hollingsworth. These men were descendants of Abraham Hollingsworth. Doug states that an F. P. Hollingsworth appears in the Arapahoe County, Colorado census of 1900. Unfortunately, the schedule gives neither his date of birth or place of birth!

These men were well known in Denver. Frank Hollingsworth did not want brother Gay to go with him. He said: "You will get killed down there, and I will be to blame for it." But his brother urged him to let him go, and Frank finally allowed it. (The actual newspapers from which the episodes are taken were the Central City Register Call, The Denver Times, and the Denver Democrat.)

(Send in your cuttings for this column. Give date of paper, and name. We cannot return them, so send xerox or clearly handwritten or typed copies if you cannot spare the originals.)

H o l l i n g s w o r t h ' s T r a c t s E n d

Since Marvin Hollingsworth's first retirement he has spent 12 years distributing millions of tracts, brochures and other promotional pieces from the Baptist Building in Dallas for use by 4,000 churches.

Hollingsworth, mailroom supervisor for the Baptist General Convention of Texas since 1961, will retire for the second time Dec. 31. "My years here have been extremely gratifying," Hollingsworth said. "I feel I've had a real part in our denominational work."

Just after World War I, he came to Texas from his native Arkansas and went to work for Mobil Oil Company for $35 per month when he was 14 years old. The company's retirement plan was set up on the basis of 40 years of service or age 65, making Hollingsworth eligible for retirement at age 54. He stayed two additional years. R. A. Springer, a close friend, was treasurer of the state convention at the time, and asked if he would be interested in supervising the mailroom at the Baptist Building. "I sure didn't want to quit working at 56, although it would have been great when I was 35," laughed Hollingsworth.

Mailing for Texas Baptists is no small task. There are about 43,000 address plates for pastors, church staff members and other church leaders. "We used to use extra help to separate the bulk mailings," said Hollingsworth, "but now there's so much of it we found it would justify a full-time person."

What does he plan to do in retirement? "I don't plan to sit down and do nothing; neither am I going to look for another job anytime soon. I figure I've had two pretty long tenures," he says. "I have a tender feeling for some of the elder people in our church who are more incapacitated than I. Possibly I'll spend some time ministering to them." Hollingsworth is a member of Cliff Temple church, Dallas, a church with many senior citizens. "Many older people in our church don't drive. Some of them would come to both Sunday services if they had means of getting to and from church. Others are not physically able to come to church, but would get great joy out of a taped service. I've thought of the possibility of visiting in homes, leaving a tape recorder and a taped service."

As a teen-ager, Hollingsworth's pastor - the late Wallace Bassett - gave an invitation for people who felt God had something for them to do. He responded saying that he wanted to be of use to God. "I was working for Magnolia Petroleum Company (now Mobil) and had a mother to support," he said. "I couldn't cut loose and go to school, so I continued with the company. But fields have opened for me that have been tremendously rewarding."

He served as part-time education director of Grace Temple church, Dallas, from 1948 to 1954. "All the time I was thinking about full-time denominational work," he said. "I've been conscious of how the Lord has worked in my life. He's always opened places for me to serve other than just as a layman." Mrs. Byron W. Frizzell, 1111 Southwest Avenue, Johnson City, Tenn. 37601, sent your editor the above data many years ago. You will find some further data on this family on page 157 of J. A. Stewart's book, "Descendants of Valentine Hollingsworth, Sr." (1925).

On the reverse of the above family record is the following:

"This James Hollingsworth & Elizabeth Newberry Hollingsworth were grandparents of my father John Clifton Hollingsworth. His own parents were Isaac Gordon Hollingsworth who was born in Macon, Georgia on May 5, 1825 and who was married to Amanda Perkins Hollingsworth. Grandmother Hollingsworth's parents were Judge R. S. G. Perkins and Judith Nutt Perkins. They were from Virginia. Grandfather Perkins' full name was Robert Samuel Greene Perkins. He was one of the first judges in Benton, Yazoo County, Mississippi."

The narrative is continued into the family of David Marshall Hollingsworth, child number six in the above record:

"Cousin David died in Jackson, Miss. and was buried in Canton, Miss. Cousin Edith married James Wiggs. Cousin James died and was buried in Chattanooga, Tenn. Cousin Edith's body was returned to Chattanooga to rest beside Cousin James'.

"David Marshall Hollingsworth, son of Isaac Gordon Hollingsworth and Amanda Melvina Perkins Hollingsworth, married Kate daughter of David Marshall Hollingsworth and Carolina Bowers Hollingsworth in New Orleans, Louisiana."

This data was evidently in the handwriting of Maie Hollingsworth Bridgers, and copied on 31 July 1958. Mrs. Bridgers was the mother of our donor and subscriber, Mrs. Byron W. Frizzell. Mrs. Frizzell was enthused over our discovery of the wife of Jesse Hollingsworth, whose name was Mary Holloway, these people (Jesse & Mary) being the father and mother of James Hollingsworth, who heads this article. (See HR 55:41 Sept 1978.) We thought that it would do well to print the data on James Hollingsworth's family in a close followup. Although nothing further has so far developed in our almost frantic search for more David Holloway material, it should be noted that there was a Revolutionary soldier of that name, living in Cumberland County, North Carolina! It should be further brought to mind that there were Hollingsworths in that county, being descended from John² and Katherine (Tyler) Hollingsworth (Valentine¹, Henry^a) whom your editor had stupidly disqualified as antecedents of Jesse Hollingsworth. Oh, well ... time will tell!

Hollingsworth Births in Los Angeles County, California

The period covered is from earliest date available to 1960, when your editor copied them all out - hopefully getting them all. Not all of the data is included, because looking at all the full certificates was too monumental a job. Now, however, one could wish we had done it, because, two years ago, all birth records were closed! Let this list be examined by our readers with gratitude and grim misgivings! Even the state and county indexes are restricted, so what we give here has escaped the "jaws" of officialdom. B R A V O!

Note: Though your editor did not make a specific notation, it is obvious that the dates on nearly all of these are the recording dates, rather than the birth dates. Also, after about 1905, no births within the city of Los Angeles are in the above list, there being two sets of records up to about 1963. Despite the restrictions, it is possible for readers to apply with a fee of $3.00 for copies of any of the above records, to the State Dept. of Health, Division of Vital Statistics, Sacramento, California, asking for a full copy. It would be well not to make any mention of "genealogy!"

Part Three The Visit to Jasper County, Iowa Part Three

by

Harry Hollingsworth, C. G.

In our last issue, page 64-66, we published the case in court in which my great-grandfather, Edward Earl Hollingsworth, sued his mother as executrix of his deceased father, Frederick, for the land he claimed to have paid for, though it was deeded in his father's name. The land records show the following facts, and the miscellaneous record following in direct reference to it is a goldmine of genealogical data.

(I) Deed Book 43, Recorder's Office, Newton, Iowa, pages 354-355:

I Jacob Hollingsworth, on oath state that I am the son of Frederick Hollingsworth, who is grantee in deed of W. S. Johnston to him of the N.E. 1/4 of S.E. 1/4 of S.W. 1/4 of Sec. 1, Twp. 81 Range 21 West of 5th P.M. Jasper County, Iowa, - said deed recorded in Book 43 page 355, of said county deed records, - and that my said father died intestate on or about February 1869, and left as his surviving widow my mother Elizabeth Hollingsworth, and as his only children and heirs at law the following - Rachael, William Wallace, Samuel, and myself (sic: Edward left out here-Ed.); That the name of my brother William Wallace appears as Wallace in the probate records, and he became of full age about the year 1880; That in a deed of said land to one Louis or Lewis Wintermeyer dated Apr. 23, 1872, and recorded in Book 60 page 630 of said records, my mother's name appears as Elizabeth Hollingsworth but the same should have been Elizabeth Hollingsworth; That my brother Wallace was at that date, April 23" 1872 single and unmarried; That my brother Edward's name appears in said deed as E.E. but said E.E. Hollingsworth is the same person as Edward E Hollingsworth, and the Rachael or Rachel Hollingsworth grantor in said deed is the wife of my said brother Edward E. Hollingsworth; That my brother Samuel's name appears in said deed as S. Hollingsworth, but said S. Hollingsworth and Samuel Hollingsworth is the same person; and the Fidelia Hollingsworth who appears as grantor in said deed was the wife of said Samuel Hollingsworth at that date; that my own name appears in said deed as J. Hollingsworth, but my full name is Jacob Hollingsworth, and my wife's name at that date was Elizabeth or Lizzie who appears as grantor therein: --

That my father's estate was fully settled, all claims, debts and expenses fully paid; That my mother was single on said Apr. 23" 1872 and did not remarry. That on April 23" 1872, all my brothers and sisters except Wallace were of full age, and I was then of full age;--

And all the above is true and correct.

Jacob Hollingsworth

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence by the said Jacob

Hollingsworth this 6" day of January, A.D. 1903

(Seal) Oliver P Myers, Notary Public.

Of course, after eighteen years of research, your editor has found the information which proves the above to be factual, and had it not been found, no matter. But if the clerks of Jasper County, Iowa, in 1960, co-operated with a "green-horn" genealogist, two decades of such work could have been considerably shortened! But Noooooooooooo! (ala John Belushi)

Naturalizations - New York Courts

In August, 1978, your editor, during his research visit to Salt Lake City, Utah, found the film numbered 1,002,319, containing an index to naturalizations in various courts in New York City, or Manhattan Borough as it would now be termed. This film contains portions of the letter H, including our surname. Here are the results:

(1) Hollingsworth, Edmond, Common Pleas, Oct. 11, 1856, of Cherry Street, New York, English. John Donnelly, Beekman Street, witness. 164:99; 964:180. Signed Edmund Hollingsworth. His Declaration of Intention was sworn 22 Aug 1853, and his name appears there as Edmund V. Hollingsworth. (He was a son of Samuel and Margaretta (Furney) Hollingsworth - see p. 171 of Stewart's 1925 book - and his middle name was Valentine only because he was born 14 Feb 1830. He is a cousin of our Wexford family, no close relation to Valentine the Quaker.)

(2) Hollingsworth, James; Superior Court, Oct 12, 1894. 583:64; 236 West 26th St. Born August 3, 1866; arrived May 5, 1882. Mary Hollingsworth of 236 West 26th Street, housekeeper, attest. Turkish Bath employee.

(3) Hollingsworth, John H., Common Pleas, 228:210; Oct. 10, 1859. Residence Broome Street, New York City. Joseph Hopkins, of 907 Broadway, attest. (This was Rev. John Hunter Hollingsworth, Methodist lay-preacher, cousin of the editor. He was son of John and Elizabeth (Roe) Hollinsworth (sic) of Ballycanew, Co. Wexford, Ireland.)

(4) Hollingsworth, Nicholas, Superior Court, Oct. 13, 1891, 482:178; of 108 East 130th Street; a car driver. Joseph A. Hart, starter on 3rd Avenue R.R., of 143 East 58th Street, attest. (This Nicholas stated he had resided in New York 3 years - he was the son of Nicholas and Margaret (Hempenstall) Hollingsworth, of Hollyfort, Co Wexford, Ireland.) Some of this data is on film 931,920 at S.L.C.

(5) Hollingsworth, Robert, Common Pleas, August 13, 1894. 769:135. Of 252 10th Avenue, a wood carver. English. Arrived in May, 1887. John Wade, 246. 10th Avenue, attest.

(6) Hollingworth, Alfred James, Superior Court, Oct 7, 1880, 308:281; of 5 Post Avenue, West Brighton, S. I. (?) - (L.I.?) Telegraph instrument maker. George Rhembold (?) of 762 10th Avenue, of same occupation, was the attesting witness.

Late Breaking News of the Browns!

As you readers, mainly relatives, know, Frederick Hollingsworth married Elizabeth Brown. Her father is known to be Jacob Brown (1797-1868), who is now known to be the son of John Brown, Sr. (c1760-1841) late of Centre Twp., Morgan Co., Ohio. On our trip to Morgan County in summer '78 we found a connection to more German (or Swiss) neighbors than previously realised. When in Salt Lake in September your editor finally found John near Jacob Brown in 1820 Census, Fairfield Township, Westmoreland Co., Pennsylvania. Hiring a professional in the area, the report of the latter seemed to produce little of help, although he was excellent in his coverage. Last week, your editor, in researching the 1810 and 1800 U.S. Census of Westmoreland County, Pa., discovered men named John Brown listed in Washington Township whose statistics conform favorably to the known facts of John Brown, Sr. Next to him in 1810 is "John Brow, Jr.," (Sic) which set this name apart in a computerized index! This man is believed to be Jacob Brown's older brother. Needless to report, the excellent professional has been re-hired, and this time to do more research in the Washington Township records.

It appears very likely that Jacob Brown's family was, after all, of German or Swiss descent. More in an upcoming issue of HR.

Hollingsworth - McFadden Problem

Mrs. S. C. Hill, of 954 Starmount Avenue, Roanoke, Virginia 24019, writes (March 1, 1978) having seen an old copy of HR in the Roanoke County Library (how that got there we would be pleased to know). She descends from Valentine Hollingsworth. Citing Stewart's book, she is descended through Thomas² to Abraham³, then George⁴ who had son Robert⁵ Hollingsworth. Robert married Susanna Rice and moved from Virginia to Simpsonville, Shelby Co., Kentucky. His tenth child, Elizabeth⁶ (born in 1787), married John McFadden. Mrs. Hill quotes "Record of Early Kentucky Marriages, 1785-1851," page 63, where the marriage of John McFadden, son of John and both natives of Pennsylvania, married Elizabeth Hollingsworth, July 27, 1810.

Mrs. Hill states that her great-great-grandfather, Rice Fulton (or Fullerton) McFadden, born in 1811 in Kentucky, was the eldest son of the above union. John and Elizabeth McFadden appear in the 1850 and 1860 U.S. Census of Oldham County, Kentucky, while Rice and his first wife (Sarah Ellen Sage) appear in Knox County, Missouri census of 1850. Mrs Hill wants verification of this information, and the date of the Sage-McFadden marriage, and the names of the parents of Susanna (Rice) Hollingsworth.

This is of interest to your editor too, for our great-grandmother, Rachel Hollingsworth, wife of Edward Earl Hollingsworth, was a McFadden from Crawford County, Pennsylvania, daughter of William and granddaughter of John and Catherine McFadden.
